Impartial Recorder A Novel:

The Impartial Recorder Ian Sansom, 2004-07-06 The Impartial Recorder is an extraordinary book about ordinary people in a small town in the middle of nowhere. It may be the only funny book you will ever read about the weather. And the only novel that comes with its own handy index to help guide you straight to subjects such as sushi and Christian guilt, adultery brazened out and regretted, bitterly snacks between meals, inadvisability of and the terrible unfairness of having read Jeanette Winterson and yet still having to work in an in-store bakery. The Impartial Recorder takes its name from the tirelessly gossip-oriented local paper that reports on nothing in particular and on everything that's too interesting to have made a more dignified newspaper of record. The story kicks off with the return of a prodigal son, Davey Quinn, who is struggling to hide the fact that he hasn't done quite as well in the big city as friends and family have been led to believe. But that's only the beginning. The Impartial Recorder goes on to celebrate the heroic energies and comic failures of plumbers and ministers of religion, sandwich entrepreneurs and housewives, short-order cooks and owners of lingerie shops. In the tradition of Garrison Keillor and Roddy Doyle, Ian Sansom has given us a brilliant and hopeful comedy in his words, a book of profound inconsequence as beautiful and moving as the sight of an elderly couple standing outside a greengrocer's trying to choose a cauliflower.

Contemporary British Fiction Nick Bentley, 2008-08-27 This critical guide introduces major novelists and themes in British fiction from 1975 to 2005. It engages with concepts such as postmodernism, feminism, gender, and the postcolonial, and examines the place of fiction within broader debates in contemporary culture. A comprehensive Introduction provides a historical context for the study of contemporary British fiction by detailing significant social, political, and cultural events. This is followed by five chapters organised around the core themes: 1 Narrative Forms, 2 Contemporary Ethnicities, 3 Gender and Sexuality, 4 History, Memory and Writing, and 5 Narratives of Cultural Space.

Review of Contemporary Fiction: Wilson Harris / Alan Burns John O'Brien, 1997-01-08 The Review of Contemporary Fiction is a tri-quarterly journal that features critical essays on fiction writers whose work resists convention and easy categorization.

William T. Vollmann Michael Hemmingson, 2014-01-10 Talking bugs, electricity, the founding of empires, hobos, Nazis, whores, violence, drugs, murder, secret cabals. Heaven. Hell. William T. Vollmann is a writer of enormous novels that are stuffed with entire worlds of creation and destruction. This first-ever book-length critical study traces his career to date with chapters devoted to each of his novels as well as his short stories and major nonfiction. Vollmann is a writer of obsessions, and this study concentrates on three of them: freedom, redemption, and prostitution, while arguing that the author that dwells on them is worthy of being called one of our greatest living American writers. Also included are seven interviews spanning the years 1991-2007 that reinforce the persistence of Vollmann's attraction to these themes.

The Journalist in British Fiction and Film Sarah Lonsdale, 2016-07-14 Why did Edwardian novelists portray journalists as swashbuckling truth-seeking super heroes, whereas post-WW2 depictions present the journalist as alienated outsider? Why are contemporary fictional journalists often deranged murderous or intensely vulnerable As newspaper journalism faces the double crisis of a lack of trust post Leveson and a lack of influence in the fragmented internet age how do cultural producers view journalists and their role in society today In The Journalist in British Fiction and Film Sarah Lonsdale traces the ways in which journalists and newspapers have been depicted in fiction theatre and film from the dawn of the mass popular press to the present day The book asks first how journalists were represented in various distinct periods of the 20th century and then attempts to explain why these representations vary so widely This is a history of the British press told not by historians and sociologists but by writers and directors as well as journalists themselves In uncovering dozens of forgotten fictions Sarah Lonsdale explores the bare knuckled literary combat conducted by writers contesting the disputed boundaries between literature and journalism Within these texts and films there is perhaps also a clue as to how the best aspects of Fourth estate journalism can survive in the digital age Authors covered in the volume include Martin Amis Graham Greene George Orwell Pat Barker Evelyn Waugh Elizabeth Bowen Arnold Wesker and Rudyard Kipling Television and films covered include House of Cards US and UK versions Spotlight Defence of the Realm Secret State and State of Play Balzac, Dickens, Dostoevsky Stefan Zweig, 2017-09-29 Written over a period of twenty five years this first volume in a trilogy is intended to depict in the life and work of writers of different nationalities Balzac Dickens and Dostoevsky the world portraying novelist Though these essays were composed at fairly long intervals their essential uniformity has prompted Zweig to bring these three great novelists of the nineteenth century together to show them as writers who for the very reason that they contrast with each other also complete one another in ways which makes them round our concept of the epic portrayers of the world Zweig considers Balzac Dickens and Dostoevsky the supremely great novelists of the nineteenth century He draws between the writer of one outstanding novel and what he terms a true novelist an epic master the creator of an almost unending series of pre eminent romances The novelist in this higher sense is endowed with encyclopedic genius is a universal artist who constructs a cosmos peopling it with types of his own making giving it laws of gravity that are unique to these figures Each of the novelists featured in Zweig's book has created his own sphere Balzac the world of society Dickens the world of the family Dostoevsky the world of the One and of the All A comparison of these spheres serves to prove their differences Zweig does not put a valuation on the differences or emphasize the national element in the artist whether in a spirit of sympathy or antipathy Every great creator is a unity in himself with its own boundaries and specific gravity There is only one specific gravity possible within a single work and no absolute criterion in the sales of justice This is the measure of Zweig and the message of this book The National Magazine, 1911 Nineteenth-Century Southern Women Writers Melissa Heidari, Brigitte Zaugg, 2019-08-12 The essays in this book explore the role of Grace King's fiction in the movement of American literature from local color and realism to modernism and show that her work exposes a postbellum New Orleans that is fragmented socially politically and linguistically In her introduction Melissa Walker Heidari examines selections from King's journals and

letters as views into her journey toward a modernist aesthetic what King describes in one passage as the continual voyage I made Sirpa Salenius sees King's fiction as a challenge to dominant conceptualizations of womanhood and a reaction against female oppression and heteronormativity In his analysis of An Affair of the Heart Ralph J Poole highlights the rhetoric of excess that reveals a social satire debunking sexual and racial double standards Ineke Bockting shows the modernist aspects of King's fiction through a stylistic analysis which explores spatial temporal biological psychological social and racial liminalities Fran oise Buisson demonstrates that King's writing is inspired by the Southern oral tradition but goes beyond it by taking on a theatrical dimension that can be quite modern and even experimental at times Kathie Birat claims that it is important to underline King's relationship to realism for the metonymic functioning of space as a signifier for social relations is an important characteristic of the realist novel St phanie Durrans analyzes The Story of a Day as an incest narrative and focuses on King's development of a modernist aesthetics to serve her terrifying investigation into social ills as she probes the inner world of her silent character Amy Doherty Mohr explores intersections between regionalism and modernism in public and silenced histories as well as King's treatment of myth and mobility Brigitte Zaugg examines in The Little Convent Girl King's presentation of the figure of the double and the issue of language as well as the narrative voice which she argues definitely inscribes the text with its understatement economy and quiet symbolism in the modernist tradition Miki Pfeffer closes the collection with an afterword in which she offers excerpts from King's letters as encouragement for scholars to seek Grace King as a primary source arguing that Grace King's own words seem best able to dialogue with the critical readings herein Each of these essays enables us to see King's place in the construction of modernity each illuminates the continual voyage that King made

Reading Heliodorus' Aethiopica Ian Repath, Tim Whitmarsh, 2022-04-14 Heliodorus Aethiopica Ethiopian Story is the latest longest and greatest of the ancient Greek romances It was hugely admired in Byzantium and caused a sensation when it was rediscovered and translated into French in the 16th century its impact on later European literature including Shakespeare and Sidney and art is incalculable As with all post classical Greek literature its popularity dived in the 19th century thanks to the influence of romanticism Since the 1980s however new generations of readers have rediscovered this extraordinary late antique tale of adventure travel and love Recent scholars have demonstrated not just the complexity and sophistication of the text's formal aspects but its daring experiments with the themes of race gender and religion This volume brings together fifteen established experts in the ancient romance from across the world each explores a passage or section of the text in depth teasing out its subtleties and illustrating the rewards reaped thanks to slow patient readings of what was arguably classical antiquity's last classic

The Cosmic Journey in the Book of Revelation Joel M. Rothman, 2023-05-18 Joel M Rothman considers the significance of cosmology in biblical and extra biblical texts and the role of the cosmic journey in many apocalyptic narratives He posits that Revelation's narrative likewise takes the hearer on a virtual journey through a cosmic story space of great theological significance While scholarship commonly assumes a three tiered cosmos in Revelation Rothman argues that Revelation's narrative operates in a four-tiered cosmos with the hyper-heaven sitting above the sky, heaven, earth, and abyssal depths, a cosmic story space that is recreated in the imagination of the hearers. Beginning with a methodology of visual narrative reading, Rothman then discusses the assumptions and existing conceptions regarding heaven and earth. He stresses that Revelation does not exhibit tension in its portrayal of heaven between heaven as a site of conflict and heaven as the realm in which God truly reigns, but rather shows readers a sky/heaven characterised by archetypal conflict between powerful sky beings and a hyper-heaven defined by full recognition of the Throne. In journeying through the sky structure and God space, and by analysing the four cosmic layers in operation, the distinct nature of the two sky spaces, cosmic change, and the ideological import of the cosmic structure, Rothman demonstrates that the existence of the hyper-heaven, in contradistinction with the limited-lived cosmos of earth and sky/heaven, is a present guarantee of the final cosmic transformation that creates a new space for human life exclusive of imperial/draconian elements.

Year-book of Photography and Photographic News Almanac, 1881 The Language of Margaret Atwood Chloe Harrison, 2024-11-16 This book explores Margaret Atwood's distinctive use of language and style across a selection of her prose texts through reader-centred cognitive stylistic analyses. It examines how strategies of misdirection, processes of doubling, and the creation of textual ambience play an essential role in Atwood's contemporary prose fiction style. With reference to contemporary scholarship in stylistics and literary criticism, each chapter presents a detailed linguistic analysis of a different text from Atwood's oeuvre, from Alias Grace (1996) to Old Babes in the Wood (2023). Above all, the book studies experiences of reading Atwood's works, situating and contextualising her signature linguistic choices in relation to real readers' responses to her writing. The book should be of interest to readers specialising in the work of Margaret Atwood, including those with stylistics, cognitive linguistics, and literary studies backgrounds.

Gore Vidal's Historical Novels and the Shaping of American Political Consciousness Stephen Harris, 2005 As a writer of sophisticated historical fiction, satirical fantasies, and incisive essays on the political and cultural condition of America, Gore Vidal's reputation is well established. This study explores Gore Vidal's use of classical scepticism in his historical novels and in his politics. While a great deal has been written about Vidal, there has not yet been published a serious analysis of his philosophical approach to the reading and interpretation of history and how this in turn informs the writing of his historical fiction. What this study offers is a full understanding of how Vidal's sceptical and dissenting views reflect the mind of a politically committed and serious thinker, and in turn how these views directly inform the creation of a body of writing that is as intellectually challenging as it is engagingly varied in form and character.

The Year-book of Photography and Photographic News Almanac for ..., 1880 Remembering a Massacre in El Salvador Héctor Lindo-Fuentes, Erik Kristofer Ching, Rafael Lara Martínez, 2007 The authors provide the first systematic study of the infamous massacre now regarded as one of the most extreme cases of state-sponsored repression in modern Latin American history. The Memoirs of Toussaint and Isaac Louverture Arthur F. Saint-Aubin, 2015-07-15 This book examines the memoir of Toussaint Louverture a former slave general in the French army and leader of the Haitian Revolution and the memoir of his son Isaac The Revolution and its leaders have been studied and written about extensively Until recently 2004 however the memoir of Toussaint has received little attention and only as a historical document This is the first study that explores the 1802 work foremost as a literary text a creative production that deploys the techniques of fiction and drama to make truth claims about the past moreover this is the first book length study of Isaac Louverture s memoir The two texts are read as examples of how black men thought of themselves as men citizens and therefore how they expressed their masculinity at that historical moment as experiences of mourning and loss This study builds upon three areas of scholarship the tradition of memoir writing historicist readings of Toussaint s memoir and descriptions and theories of men and masculinity within the black Atlantic The study distinguishes itself in ways that will make it of interest to more than just historians in addition to using the intersection of race and masculinity as an analytical tool it speaks to the nature of literary creativity and it draws from studies examining the relationship between history memory and fiction As a result scholars and students in literary and cultural criticism as well as those in gender and diasporic studies will also find this study of interest and value National Magazine ... ,1912

Accident Society Jason Puskar, 2012-01-11 This book argues that language and literature actively produced chance in the late nineteenth and early twentieth centuries by categorizing injuries and losses as innocent of design Automobile collisions and occupational injuries became car accidents and industrial accidents During the post Civil War period of racial ethnic and class based hostility chance was an abstract enemy against which society might unite By producing chance novels by William Dean Howells Stephen Crane Anna Katharine Green Edith Wharton Theodore Dreiser and James Cain documented and helped establish new modes of collective interdependence Chance here is connected not with the competitive individualism of the Gilded Age but with important progressive and social democratic reforms including developments in insurance which had long employed accident narratives to shape its own mutual society Accident Society reveals the extent to which American collectivity has depended and continues to depend on the literary production of chance

The Reckoning on Cane Hill: A Novel Steve Mosby, 2016-09-13 A terrifying and heartbreaking new novel of guilt and innocence from CWA Dagger winner Steve Mosby The hardest crimes to acknowledge are your own Charlie Matheson died two years ago in a car accident So how is a woman bearing a startling resemblance to her claiming to be back from the dead Detective Mark Nelson is called in to investigate and hear her terrifying account of what she s been through in the afterlife Every year Detective David Groves receives a birthday card for his son even though he buried him years ago His son s murder took everything from him apart from his belief in the law even though the killers were never found This year though the card bears a different message I know who did it Uncovering the facts will lead them all on a dark journey where they must face their own wrongs as well as those done to those they love It will take them to a place where justice is a game and punishments are severe Nelson and Groves know the answers lie with the kind of people you want to turn and run from But if they re to get to the truth they must face their own wrongs as well as those inflicted on the ones they love The Oxford History of the Irish Book, Volume IV James H. Murphy, 2011-09 Volume IV The Irish Book in English 1800 1891 details the story of the book in Ireland during the nineteenth century when Ireland was integrated into the United Kingdom The chapters in this volume explore book production and distribution and the differing of ways in which publishing existed in Dublin Belfast and the provinces
