Imperfect Geographies:

Multinational Firms' Location and the New Economic Geography Jean Louis Mucchielli, Thierry Mayer, 2004-01-01

The choice of location for the production plants of multinational firms is an important issue not least because this decision is accompanied by so many fears brought into public debate This book analyses how foreign direct investors choose their locations whilst exploring the forces which shape international economic geography Although these two issues are to some extent inter related researchers have only recently acknowledged the similarity of economic geography and international business approaches to the empirical assessment of likely causes of the degree of spatial concentration observed in many modern industries Giving insight into the direction that future research should take this book contains state of the art papers on both theoretical and empirical levels This original collection makes a particularly important contribution to our understanding of the existence and impact of home market effects Introducing a welcome synthesis between two related and yet rarely integrated areas of study using case studies of firms in Europe US MNEs and the Mexican automobile industry this book will be welcomed by both academic and practising economists Regional scientists and

Geographies of Maritime Transport Gordon Wilmsmeier, Jason Monios, 2020-03-28 This multidisciplinary book delivers a unique collection of well considered empirically rich and critical contributions on maritime transport geographies It covers a wide range of markets and territories as well as institutional environmental and future issues

Crime and Insecurity Adam Crawford, 2013-01-11 Concerns over insecurity and questions of safety have become central issues in social and political debates across Europe and the western world Crucial changes have followed as a result such as a redefinition of the role of the state in relation to policing a central theme of this book and an explosion in the growth of private policing These developments have in their turn heightened feelings of insecurity and safety particularly where populations have become increasingly mobile and societies more socially fragmented culturally diverse and economically fragmented Responses to insecurity now increasingly inform decisions made by governments organisations and ordinary people in their social interactions This book makes a key contribution to an understanding of these developments approaching the subject from a range of perspectives across several different disciplines The three parts of the book look at broader theoretical and thematic issues then at cross national and pan European developments and debates in European governance and finally explore specific examples of local issues of community safety and the broader implications these have Leading figures in the field draw upon criminological legal social and political theory to shed new light on what has become one of the most intractable problems facing western societies

Geographies of Ageing Amanda Davies, Amity James, 2016-04-15 Population ageing is projected to affect all countries across the world in coming decades The current rate of population ageing is unprecedented in human history with population projections indicating that this will be an enduring trend Moreover population ageing is spatially pervasive affecting every man woman and child This has considerable implications for policy responding to the economic social and healthcare outcomes of population ageing The potential economic implications have been likened to those of the 2008 global financial crisis This book examines the patterns and causes of uneven population ageing It identifies those countries and localities most likely to experience population ageing and the reasons for this Attention is also given to the role that youth migration labour force migration retirement migration and ageing in place have in influencing the spatial concentrations of older people The book brings together a range of diverse international case studies to illustrate the importance of understanding the causes of population ageing Case studies include a review of ageing in Florida s USA labour force an investigation into the housing arrangements for the elderly in Northern Ireland and an assessment of the environmental stewardship activities of Grey Nomads on Western Australia s remote north coast Remoteness Reconsidered Christopher Rossi,2021-07-06 Much of our understanding of the world is framed from the perspective of a dominant power center or from standard readings of historical events The architecture of international information distribution academic centers and the lingua franca of international scholarly discourse also shape these stories Remoteness Reconsidered employs the idea of remoteness as an analytical tool for viewing international law s encounter with the Americas from the unusual peripheral perspective of the Atacama Desert The Atacama is one of the most remote places on Earth although that less than accurate perspective comes from standard historical accounts of the region accounts that originate from the center Changing the usual frame of reference leads to a reconsideration of the idea of remoteness and of the subsequent marginalization of historical narratives that influence hemispheric international relations in important ways today Lessons about international law s encounters with neoliberalism indigenous and human rights and the management and extraction of mineral resources take on new significance by following a spatial turn toward the idea of remoteness as applied to the Atacama Desert A Search for Sovereignty Lauren Benton,2009-11-30 A Search for Sovereignty approaches world history by examining the relation of law and geography in European empires between 1400 and 1900 Lauren Benton argues that Europeans imagined imperial space as networks of corridors and enclaves and that they constructed sovereignty in ways that merged ideas about geography and law Conflicts over treason piracy convict transportation martial law and crime created irregular spaces of law while also attaching legal meanings to familiar geographic categories such as rivers oceans islands and mountains The resulting legal and spatial anomalies influenced debates about imperial constitutions and international law both in the colonies and at home This study changes our understanding of empire and its legacies and opens new perspectives on the global history of law Indigenous Peoples and International Trade John Borrows,Risa Schwartz,2020-06-18 The United Nations Declaration on the Rights of Indigenous Peoples is seen primarily as an international human rights instrument However the Declaration also encompasses cultural social and economic rights Taken in the context of international trade and investment the UN Declaration is a valuable tool to support economic self determination of Indigenous peoples This volume explores the emergence of Indigenous peoples participation in international trade and investment as well as how it is shaping legal instruments in environment and trade intellectual property and traditional knowledge One theme that is explored is agency From amicus interventions at the World Trade Organization to developing a future precedent for a Trade and Indigenous Peoples Chapter Indigenous peoples are asserting their right to participate in decision making The authors both Indigenous and non Indigenous experts on trade and investment legal provide needed ideas and recommendations for governments academia and policy thinkers to achieve economic reconciliation

International Law's Objects Jessie Hohmann, Daniel Joyce, 2018-12-20 International law's rich existence in the world can be illuminated by its objects International law is often developed conveyed and authorized through its objects and or their representation From the symbolic the regalia of the head of state and the symbols of sovereignty to the mundane a can of dolphin safe tuna certified as complying with international trade standards international legal authority can be found in the objects around us Similarly the practice of international law often relies on material objects or their image both as evidence satellite images bones of the victims of mass atrocities and to found authority for instance maps and charts This volume considers these questions firstly what might the study of international law through objects reveal What might objects rather than texts tell us about sources recognition of states construction of territory law of the sea or international human rights law Secondly what might this scholarly undertaking reveal about the objects as aims or projects of international law How do objects reveal or perhaps mask these aims and what does this tell us about the reasons some physical or material objects are foregrounded and others hidden or ignored Thirdly what objects icons and symbols preoccupy the profession and academy The personal selection of these objects by leading and emerging scholars worldwide will illuminate the contemporary and historical fascinations of international lawyers As a result the volume will be an important artefact itself an object in its own right capturing the mood of international law in a given moment and providing opportunity for reflection on these preoccupations By considering international law in the context of its material culture the authors offer a new theoretical perspective on the subject

Dialect Geography of Syria-Palestine, 1000-586 B.C.E. W. Randall Garr, 2004 Garr's classic study on dialect geography of the Levant was the first book length attempt to follow in the steps of Zellig Harris The Development of the Canaanite Dialects in 45 years This Eisenbrauns reprint makes the book out of print for several years available once again to students of the Canaanite languages The book opens with an introduction that gives the methodology used a survey of past studies the corpus of texts used in the study and Garr's goals The next three chapters provide a comprehensive list of phonological morphological and syntactical features which are then gathered into a comprehensive table and analyzed for their relevance to dialectical classification Conclusions and a rich bibliography follow as well as indexes of subject texts cited and words

The Urbanism of Exception Martin J. Murray, 2017-03-10 This book argues that understanding global urbanism in the twenty first century requires us to cast our gaze upon vast city regions without an urban core

Modern Geography John Pinkerton, 1806 Catalogue Calcutta (India). Imperial library, 1904

The Sea and International Relations Benjamin de Carvalho, Harvard Leira, 2022-07-26 While the world's oceans cover more than seventy percent of its surface the sea has largely vanished as an object of enquiry in International Relations IR being treated either as a corollary of land or as time Yet the sea is the quintessential international space and its importance to global politics has become all the more obvious in recent years Drawing on interdisciplinary insights from IR Historical Sociology Blue Humanities and Critical Ocean Studies The sea and International Relations breaks with this trend of oceanic amnesia and kickstarts a theoretical conceptual and empirical discussion about the sea and IR by highlighting theoretical puzzles analysing broad historical perspectives and addressing contemporary challenges In bringing the sea back into IR the book reconceptualises the canvas of international relations to include the oceans as a social political economic and military space which affects the workings of world politics

Grounded Authority Shiri Pasternak, 2017-06-06 Western Political Science Association's Clay Morgan Award for Best Book in Environmental Political Theory Canadian Studies Network Prize for the Best Book in Canadian Studies Nominated for Best First Book Award at NAISA Honorable Mention Association for Political and Legal Anthropology Book Prize Since Justin Trudeau's election in 2015 Canada has been hailed internationally as embarking on a truly progressive post postcolonial era including an improved relationship between the state and its Indigenous peoples Shiri Pasternak corrects this misconception showing that colonialism is very much alive in Canada From the perspective of Indigenous law and jurisdiction she tells the story of the Algonquins of Barriere Lake in western Quebec and their tireless resistance to federal land claims policy Grounded Authority chronicles the band's ongoing attempts to restore full governance over its lands and natural resources through an agreement signed by settler governments almost three decades ago an agreement the state refuses to fully implement Pasternak argues that the state's aversion to recognizing Algonquin jurisdiction stems from its goal of perfecting its sovereignty by replacing the inherent jurisdiction of Indigenous peoples with its own delegated authority From police brutality and fabricated sexual abuse cases to an intervention into and overthrow of a customary government Pasternak provides a compelling richly detailed account of rarely documented coercive mechanisms employed to force Indigenous communities into compliance with federal policy A rigorous account of the incredible struggle fought by the Algonquins to maintain responsibility over their territory Grounded Authority provides a powerful alternative model to one nation's land claims policy and a vital contribution to current debates in the study of colonialism and Indigenous peoples in North America and globally

Winter Solstice Michael Hogan, 2012-01-10 Winter Solstice Selected Poetry 1975 2012 edited by James Hepworth gathers together the very best of Michael Hogan's work from the Paris Review The American Poetry Review the Iowa Review and dozens of other journals and magazines as well as several out of print books It is a valuable addition to the American poetry library Sam Hamill in his Introduction to this volume writes These poems written over the past thirty years most often contain a narrative thread that leads into an awakening insight a meditative revelation that arrives not with a shock but with a sigh or a moment of stillness capturing an essence that is pure poetry that moment between image making and philosophy between the intimate whisper of truth and the song s need to be sung Climate Change, second edition Joseph F.C. Dimento,Pamela Doughman,2014-03-21 An updated and accessible account of what science knows about climate change incorporating the latest scientific findings and policy initiatives Most of us are familiar with the term climate change but few of us understand the science behind it We don't fully comprehend how climate change will affect us and for that reason we might not consider it as pressing a concern as say housing prices or unemployment This book explains the scientific knowledge about global climate change clearly and concisely in engaging nontechnical language describes how it will affect all of us and suggests how government business and citizens can take action against it This completely revised and updated edition incorporates the latest scientific research and policy initiatives on climate change It describes recent major legislative actions analyzes alternative regulatory tools including new uses of taxes and markets offers increased coverage of China and other developing nations discusses the role of social media in communicating about climate change and provides updated assessments of the effects of climate change The book first explains the basic scientific facts about climate change and its global impact It discusses the nature of scientific consensus and the strong consensus of mainstream science on climate change It then explores policy responses and corporate actions in the United States and the rest of the world discusses how the communication of climate change information by journalists and others can be improved and addresses issues of environmental justice how climate change affects the most vulnerable populations and regions We can better tackle climate change this book shows us if we understand it (Dis)connected Empires Zoltán Biedermann,2018-10-25 Dis connected Empires takes the reader on a global journey to explore the triangle formed during the sixteenth century between the Portuguese empire the empire of Kotte in Sri Lanka and the Catholic Monarchy of the Spanish Habsburgs It explores nine decades of connections cross cultural diplomacy and dialogue to answer one troubling question why in the end did one side decide to conquer the other To find the answer Biedermann explores the imperial ideas that shaped the politics of Renaissance Iberia and sixteenth century Sri Lanka Dis connected Empires argues that whilst some of these ideas and the political idioms built around them were perceived as commensurate by the various parties involved differences also emerged early on This prepared the ground for a new kind of conquest politics which changed the inter imperial game at the end of the sixteenth century The transition from suzerainty driven to sovereignty fixated empire building changed the face of Lankan and Iberian politics forever and is of relevance to global historians at large Through its scrutiny of diplomacy political letter writing translation practices warfare cartography and art Dis connected Empires paints a troubling panorama of connections breeding divergence and leading to communicational collapse It examines a key chapter in the pre history of British imperialism in Asia highlighting how diplomacy and mutual understandings can under certain conditions produce conquest Subject-index to the author-catalogue. 1908-10. 2 v Imperial Library, Calcutta,1908 Geography of Production and Economic

Integration Miroslav Jovanovic, 2002-01-04 This book discusses the way in which economic integration and preferential trade agreements reinforce or alter the existing location of industries Using a conceptual approach with real life examples the author seeks to clarify and explain the key tendencies of the relationship and influence between spatial distribution of production and economic integration Geography of Production and Economic Integration will develop students specialists and policymakers understanding of this highly topical subject System of Universal Geography, Founded on the Works of Malte-Burn and Balbi Conrad Malte-Brun, Adriano Balbi, 1842
