The Organizational and Human Dimensions of Successful Mentoring Programs and Relationships Frances K. Kochan, 2002-08-01 Mentoring has become an important aspect of professional development in a wide variety of fields such as education, engineering and business. There is an increased interest in the topic on a global scale. Research indicates that those who receive mentoring rise faster in their organizations and have more success in their careers than those who do not have this experience. This series will focus on various aspects of the mentoring process This book examines mentoring with a focus on enhancing opportunities for those traditionally ignored in the mentoring process It includes chapters about mentoring in a variety of settings with varied populations to capture the essence of the experience The editor gleans the chapters to present an analysis of the organizational factors which should be considered when designing a mentoring program and the human side of the mentoring process The book should be of interest to those who want to foster the success of others through organizational mentoring initiatives as well as to individuals who wish to participate in mentoring endeavors as a mentor or mentee

Gender Equality Programmes in Higher Education Sabine Grenz, Beate Kortendiek, Marianne Kriszio, Andrea Löther, 2009-11-10 Gender equality has been on the agenda of national policies of higher education within and outside the European Union EU for the last twenty years In some European countries this process was initiated early on and has brought about remarkable results while in others progress has been slower Different countries and institutions have focussed on different strategies for raising awareness about the discrimination of women and for increasing the number of women in academia particularly in leadership positions Previous research on gender equality in higher education has produced many case studies about programmes at institutions of higher education in Europe and elsewhere Different actors like the European Commission and national organisations have also furnished reports about national policies Building on this material it is now time to analyse under what conditions equality programmes are successful For a deeper understanding of the mechanisms of and barriers to gender equality in higher education we also need studies that focus on the development of gender equality policies in different countries as well as on conditions of implementation change of strategy and the evaluation of results Comparative studies would be another useful tool for understanding the development and success of gender equality programmes
