Technologies for Home Networking Sudhir Dixit, Ramjee Prasad, 2007-12-14. A broad overview of the home networking field ranging from wireless technologies to practical applications. In the future, it is expected that private networks, e.g., home networks, will become part of the global network ecosystem, participating in sharing their own content, running IP-based services and possibly becoming service providers themselves. This is already happening in the so-called social networks and peer-to-peer file sharing networks on the Internet, making this emerging topic one of the most active research areas in the wireless communications field. This book bridges the gap between wireless networking and service research communities which until now have confined their work to their respective fields. Here, a number of industry professionals and academic experts have contributed chapters on various aspects of the subject to present an overview of home networking technologies with a special emphasis on the user as the center of all activities. Coverage includes Networked home use cases and scenarios, Media format, media exchange and media interoperability, Location aware device
