Efficient School Management And Role Of Principals Alka Kalra, Balanced Leadership Sheryl

Boris-Schacter, Sondra Langer, 2006 Alarmed by mounting evidence of a national shortage of qualified and willing principals the authors surveyed or interviewed over 200 school principals from across the country to find out why so many are leaving the profession and how those who stay manage their work They discovered that regardless of a principal's race gender school level geographic region or tenure there was a remarkable consistency in the challenges identified and suggestions given for revamping the role of the American principal Featuring stories shared by practicing principals this timely volume offers fresh insights on ways to both attract and retain good principals shows how successful principals reconcile their expectations and hopes with the realities and disappointments encountered in their work examines issues common to all principals such as time management staff evaluations keeping the focus on instruction community expectations and pursuing a balanced life presents strategies that principals have used to make their role more effective and more attractive and provides practical ideas for coping with the present and envisioning the future including alternative principal models The Effective School Leader's Guide to Management Jane L. Sigford, 2005-10-07 Discover how to be a successful school leader and manager Exploring 15 vital topics as well as offering strategies and examples Jane L Sigford demonstrates how effective schools are a marriage of management and leadership Organized into three sections management and leadership theories managing the school and managing yourself this resource helps administrators understand the complexity of leadership and addresses the application of effective management skills to create successful learning communities Written for new and veteran school leaders this essential guide Acts as a handbook which contains an overview of individual components of school leadership normally scattered among many textbooks and resources Provides suggested resources for more in depth study Offers individual reflective practice questions throughout for personal use Suggests questions to help facilitate professional development group discussions especially among peers The Effective School Leader's Guide to Management illustrates how school administrators can run a school efficiently balancing their roles as instructional leaders and effective school managers while still having time to improve professional development foster parent and community relationships make data driven decisions and nurture personal growth and leadership The Principalship Thomas J. Sergiovanni, 2006 0205457231

Sergiovanni The Principalship 5e The Principalship focuses on how school leadership is based on reflective practice and moral authority This book continues to emphasize school culture standards building community and providing a moral basis for leadership as a means of navigating through contextual issues and constraints that principals routinely face This edition aims to inform future principals about the decisions they will make about their practice and how those decisions will affect students and teachers Extensively updated with new emphasis given to diversity as a part of community building school character as an important ingredient in school effectiveness new definitions of school effectiveness and a new view of the process of change The book's trademark emphasis on reflective practice is maintained and opportunities for reflection are provided throughout the book The link between organizational character and school effectiveness is explored and emphasis is given to how organizational character can be established and maintained The Effective School Leader: Leading by Principle Dr. Richard A. NeSmith, 2020-07-09 Schools are built and operated from a particular angle or philosophy For example Thomas Jefferson American forefather and past President of the United States believed that education was needed to rake the good individuals from the bad ones John Dewey a pragmatic wanted to cultivate students with social and acceptable attitudes so as to make them good citizens Horace Mann the Father of American Education advocated public education so that all could be educated without concern for cost or availability He believed real democracy would demand an educated citizen However such good and noble philosophical reasons have all but gone by the wayside in our current modern era of educating America's children Though some educators and citizens can produce some modified version of why children need to be educated much has been lost In 1950 W Edwards Deming was invited by General Douglas McArthur to help Japan recover from World War 2 As an American engineer Deming focused on how to utilize research and data to restructure a weak nation He longed for Japan to become a prosperous industrial nation His philosophy emphasis on data and developed principles were well received and Japan did become one of the world's industrial leaders and even today that legacy remains In this book the author addresses the Deming principles with applications being made to education and the American Public School system Leaders who become principle driven are more consistent fairer and produce schools that are better equipped to teach and train effective teachers and successful students The purpose of this study is to help prod school leaders principals assistant principals department heads and lead teachers to look beyond the status quo of leading by whims or worse by the seat of the pants Principle driven people are more predictable more democratic and more likely to be successful in bringing about changes needed to help public education train the minds and hearts of American children Dr Richard A NeSmith The Effective Principal Barbara Scott Nelson, Annette Sassi, 2005 Using mathematics as a subject focus the authors examine several specific aspects of instructional leadership such as teacher supervision and classroom observation curriculum selection and student assessment
