Equality In Community:

Gender Equality in Community Development NDP Gender Equality Unit, 2002 Equality in Community Dolores Dooley, 1996 Wheeler's contribution in this unique partnership gives a woman's consciousness to the philosophy of sexual equality Social (In)equality, Community Well-being and Quality of Life Patsy Kraeger, M. R. Islam, Rhonda Phillips, 2024-02-12 Combining theoretical and empirical research with global case studies this innovative book examines the complex relationships between social inequality, community well-being and quality of life centred on Sustainable Development Goal SDG 10. Insightful and forward thinking it explores strategies for fostering strong communities focusing on the importance of social connections, shared resources and a sense of belonging Communities for Social Change Annette Coburn, Sinéad Gormally, 2017 Communities for Social Change: Practicing Equality and Social Justice in Youth and Community Work examines core ideas of social justice and equality that underpin community and youth work. It informs understanding of a range of community concepts and practices that are used to identify practical skills and characteristics that can help to promote equality by challenging injustice. Working with people in different types of community can bring the kind of social change that makes a real and lasting difference. Although justice is a contested notion, Annette Coburn and Sinéad Gormally assert that it is closely interlinked with human rights and equality. A critical examination of contemporary literature draws on educational, sociological and psychological perspectives to set community practices within a context for learning that is conversational, critical and informal. Social justice is about identifying and seeking to address structural disadvantage, discrimination and inequality. The authors assert that by refocusing on process, participation and collective rights it is possible to create and sustain social justice. Transformative research paradigms help to produce findings that inspire and underpin political social action and an analysis of practice-based examples supports the promotion of increased critical consciousness. This makes Communities for Social Change a must-read for anyone studying or teaching community youth work or who is working in communities or with individuals who experience oppression or inequality. If you are committed to teaching and learning about theory and practice that promotes social change for equality and social justice, you will not be disappointed Racial Diversity and Social Capital Rodney E. Hero, 2007-03-19 Race and racial diversity are important aspects of America and have been shown to substantially affect social relations and the political system, often in ways inconsistent with the values of equality. However, greater civic association and a general sense of community embodied in the concept of social capital are said to have tremendous beneficial effects and profoundly influence American society. This 2007 study juxtaposes and critically assesses two bodies of research that have reached different conclusions on these issues. Is America's legacy of racial inequality an evil twin of the benefits of social capital? By analysing the social outcomes for racial minorities in addition to other dimensions of American politics, the author shows that the impact of racial diversity consistently outweighs that of social capital Groups in Conflict Donald Franklin, 2008 Political Ideologies Vincent

Utopia, Equity and Ideology in Urban Texts Michael G. Kelly,Mariano Paz,2023-08-28 Utopia Equity and Ideology in Urban Texts Fair and Unfair Cities explores the complex interrelations of three key critical topics across a diverse range of urban writing Interrogating the links and tensions between aesthetic and political priorities in the representation and imagining of urban life the volume engages with work from a wide variety of linguistic and cultural origins and across a range of textual practices having the urban phenomenon as a common framing concern Individual contributions discussing genre and literary fiction poetic writing documentary and essayistic texts planning manifestos and municipal communications materials serve to demonstrate that the nuanced treatments of urban experience and potential which may be gleaned from across this textual spectrum act as a pragmatic corrective to purely conceptual approaches As such the volume consolidates the emerging dialogue between the fields of utopian studies and literary urban studies understanding these as complementary approaches to the reading of the city and its textual prolongations The Fraternal Monitor ,1914

Communities of the Past and Present Ernest S. Wooster,1924 Communities, Networks and Ethnic Politics Ken Hahlo,2018-08-10 First Published in 1998 this study explores ethnic community political participation in local politics in the North West British town The analysis is located within the framework of the shift from Fordism to post Fordism From 1965 to 1980 ethnic communities increased their access to scarce resources including political influence by engaging in ethnic politics Using membership of religious organisations as structures of support elected men deployed ethnic identities to compete with others for ethnic support and influence over local decision making processes This gave ethnic minorities a positive role in local politics With the support of local community relations councils CRCs ethnic politics flourished It gave ethnic communities real opportunities to participate as ethnic communities in politics Using local events ethnic leaders competed for political influence and ethnic support After 1977 the shift from Fordism to post Fordism brought about a decline in ethnic political participation While conferment of citizenship secured their right to stay in Britain the rise in consumerism undermined the manufacturing sector on which they depended for work With no ethnic political identity today these communities are again politically disadvantaged
