#EdJourney Grant Lichtman, 2014-08-13 Your formula for managing innovation and transforming learning EdJourney A

Roadmap to the Future of Education is a refreshing change from the negativity so common in the world of education today. Over the course of a 3 month solo road trip across the United States, author Grant Lichtman discovered that there is much to be positive about in today's K-12 schools. Lichtman, one of the country's leading experts in educational innovation, interviewed over 600 teachers, administrators, students, parents, and trustees to find out what kind of innovations they're doing right and how others can leverage their successes. Innovation in education takes hard work, planning, and cooperation. With examples from around the country and findings from the latest education research, EdJourney maps out how administrators and teachers can embrace the innovation process that schools and learners need now. Today's 21st century education presents unique challenges and opportunities to students, and this is a trailblazing practical guide to making sure education is ready for the future. EdJourney focuses on four key questions: What new learning strategies are the top schools implementing to prepare our students for their future rather than for our past? How do teachers and administrators manage transitions to new types of teaching and learning? What are the key obstacles to shifting away from the assembly line model of education? How can we all leverage the lessons of success from the most innovative schools? The concrete examples and advice in this book will help you bring innovation and educational design concepts into your school. EdJourney goes beyond the theoretical need for change by now, a familiar topic to almost everyone, and takes a real world approach to achieving transformative education in any school.

Trans/acting Jacqueline Eyring Bixler, Laurie Seda, 2009. This collection offers a series of new essays authored by leading scholars of Latin American and U.S. Latino theater, as well as the performance script Mexterminator vs The Global Predator written by Guillermo Gomez-Pena. The fourteen essays focus on contemporary Latin American and U.S. Latino plays and performances and challenge the meanings of genre, gender, race, cultural identity, and performance itself in the context of globalization and shifting borders. The concept of trans-acting, a term that connotes negotiation and/or exchange, provides the framework for essays that include such topics as transculturation, transnationalism, transgender, transgenre, translation, and adaptation. These individual studies of contemporary theater and performance arts are complimented by trans-actor Gomez-Pena's Mexterminator vs The Global Predator, a striking transgressive script that underscores the performance nature of territorial and symbolic border crossings. Jacqueline Bixler is an Alumni Distinguished Professor of Spanish at Virginia Tech. Laurie Seda is an Associate Professor of Spanish at the University of Connecticut. Storrs

Stümer,2022-02-24 Going beyond a discussion of political architecture Walled Life investigates the mediation of material and imagined border walls through cinema and art practices The book reads political walls as more than physical obstruction instead treating the wall as an affective screen capable of negotiating the messy feelings personal conflicts and haunting legacies that make up walled life as an evolving signpost in the current global border regime By exploring the wall as an emotional and visceral presence the book shows that if we read political walls as forms of affective media they become legible not simply as shields impositions or monuments but as projective surfaces that negotiate the interaction of psychological barriers with political structures through cinema art and of course the wall itself Drawing on the Berlin Wall the West Bank Separation barrier and the U S Mexico border Walled Life discovers each wall through the films and artworks it has inspired examining a wide array of graffiti murals art installations movies photography and paintings Remediating the silent barriers we erect between and often within ourselves these interventions tell us about the political fantasies and traumatic histories that undergird the politics of walls as they rework the affective settings of political boundaries
