Clements, 1990-01-01 This is the first systematic and thorough study of mysticism or contemplation in these three seventeenth century poets and in three modern writers It not only clarifies the very confused issue of mysticism in seventeenth century poetry but also connects seventeenth century poets with modern literature and science through the contemplative tradition from the Bible and Plato and Church fathers and important mystics of the Middle Ages through Renaissance and modern contemplatives The transformative and redemptive power of contemplative poetry or holy writing regardless of genre or discipline is prominent throughout the book and the relevance indeed the vital necessity of such poetry and of the living contemplative tradition to our apocalyptic modern world is discussed in the last chapter In this chapter attention is given to modern science especially to the new physics and to philosophical and mystical writings of eminent scientists Measuring the Visible Andrea Cady, 2024-09-16 Sex These Days Jon Davies, Gerard Loughlin, 1997-06-01 What has been lost what has been gained in replacing sexual orthodoxy with the heresies of postmodern sexualities In the recent past even within living memory sex has usually been a matter of monogamous heterosexual marriage and the procreation of children Other sexual practices were seen as deviations from the patriarchal norm Today things are different and western liberal societies promote and celebrate a growing multiplicity of sexual familial and procreational practices and relationships Nine writers assess the directions in which our societies are being led Vision's Invisibles Véronique M. Fóti, 2012-02-01 Although philosophy today has abandoned its former fascination with transcendent invisibles it has left largely unexamined historical articulations of the divide between the visible and the invisible Vision s Invisibles argues that such a self examination is necessary for the sensitization of philosophical sight as well as for engagements with visuality in other domains To this end it investigates a range of challenging understandings of visuality in its relation to invisibles as articulated in the texts of key historical thinkers Heraclitus Plato and Descartes and of twentieth century philosophers including Foucault Merleau Ponty Nancy Derrida and Heidegger The vision Lucian (of Samosata), 1905
