Roth, E. Maxwell, 2017-02-13 Focused on The Holocaust in an Age of Genocide Remembering for the Future brings together the work of nearly 200 scholars from more than 30 countries and features cutting edge scholarship across a range of disciplines amounting to the most extensive and powerful reassessment of the Holocaust ever undertaken In addition to its international scope the project emphasizes that varied disciplinary perspectives are needed to analyze and to check the genocidal forces that have made the Twentieth century so deadly Historians and ethicists psychologists and literary scholars political scientists and theologians sociologists and philosophers all of these and more bring their expertise to bear on the Holocaust and genocide Their contributions show the new discoveries that are being made and the distinctive approaches that are being developed in the study of genocide focusing both on archival and oral evidence and on the religious and cultural representation of the Holocaust      Dialectic and Theology in the Eleventh Century Holopainen, 2021-11-01 The study provides a reappraisal of the controversy over the value of logic in theology in the eleventh century which has for a long time been a theme central to the historiography of early medieval thought In the four chapters of the work the author gives close exegesis of the central texts by Peter Damian Lanfranc of Bec Berengar of Tours and Anselm of Canterbury respectively and argues that the familiar ways of describing the theme are thoroughly misleading Damian's anti dialectical attitude is less extreme than often claimed Lanfranc's reputation as a dialectician is largely based on misunderstanding whereas Berengar is a sophisticated thinker and a forerunner of scholasticism Of particular interest is the author's discussion of Anselm's ontological argument against the background of the Boethian theory of argument      Cyclopædia of Biblical, Theological, and Ecclesiastical Literature John McClintock, 1874      The American Journal of Theology University of Chicago. of the Christian faith also referred to as the Sacrament of the Altar the Eucharist in its Roman Catholic interpretation the conversion of the substance of the bread and wine into the body and blood of Christ for Holy Communion The challenge of providing a rational interpretation of this doctrine of faith proved to be one of the most contentious issues in the Western history of ideas apparently going against self evident metaphysical principles requiring accidents existing without a substance and a body in several places at the same time etc and dividing schools of thought indeed eventually warring religious factions The volume addresses both the metaphysical theoretical issues involved in this challenge and the historical theological developments of how meeting this challenge played out first in the schools and even later in religious schisms leading to the paradigmatic shift from medieval to modern forms of thought The essays of the volume derive from the lectures of an eponymous international conference held in Budapest Hungary which was also the occasion of founding the Society for the History of European Ideas SEHI accordingly the book is the first volume of the annual Proceedings of the SEHI This book is aimed just as much at laymen and religious scholars seeking a better understanding of their faith as at anyone seeking this understanding with a non religious attitude
