Kathleen Jones, 2010-08-02 I was jealous of her writing the only writing I have been jealous of Virginia Woolf Widely acknowledged as New Zealand's finest writer Katherine Mansfield holds a special place in the hearts of New Zealanders A new biography is a significant literary event Katherine Mansfield The Story teller is the first new biography of Mansfield for a quarter of a century It is published at a time when interest in Mansfield and her work is increasing throughout the world Kathleen Jones gives a vivid portrayal of Mansfield correcting previous misinterpretations of her illnesses and relationships and weaving a compelling drama from the detail The story extends further still beyond Mansfield's death in 1923 to include the subsequent life of her husband John Middleton Murry shedding fascinating new light on the way Murry controversially manipulated the publication of some of Mansfield's unpublished work Drawing astutely on Mansfield's own letters and journals biographer Kathleen Jones using the present tense throughout has crafted a text unusually sparkling and intimate providing a new kind of picture of this brilliant original yet fragile writer This is a major work and a worthy addition to our understanding and appreciation of New Zealand's greatest writer

Katherine Mansfield and the (Post)colonial Gerri Kimber, 2013-09-16 Explores Mansfield's identity as a post colonial writer in relation to her foremost reputation as a European modernist In seeking new possibilities for alignments with and resolutions to the contradictory agendas implied by the terms post colonial and modernist the essays in this volume address the clashing perspectives between Mansfield's life in Europe where her troubled self designation as the little colonial became a fertile source of her distinctive brand of literary modernism and her ongoing complex relationship with her New Zealand homeland The contributors investigate Mansfield's post colonial modernism in the context both of New Zealand settler colonial fiction and of her European literary inheritance Affinities with writers such as Edith Wharton and Robert Louis Stevenson reveal that home can be a diasporic place combining alienation with belonging The volume also registers initial responses to the widened scope for Mansfield scholarship launched by the first two volumes of the new Edinburgh Collected Works of Katherine Mansfield Includes Previously unpublished poetry and fiction Reports of current research findings on Katherine Mansfield An introduction by Janet Wilson Professor of English and Postcolonial Studies University of Northampton Reviews of recent publications on Mansfield and her contemporaries

Katherine Mansfield and Psychology Gerri Kimber, 2016-08-16 In line with the recent surge of critical interest in early psychology the contributors read Mansfield's work alongside figures like William James and Henri Bergson opening up new perspectives on affect in her work While these essays trace strands within the intellectual milieu in which Mansfield came of age others explore the intricate interplay between Mansfield's fiction and Freudian theory seeing her work as emblematic of the uncanny doubling of modernist literature and psychoanalysis

Katherine Mansfield and Elizabeth von Arnim Gerri Kimber, 2019-08-28 By bringing the work of Mansfield and von Arnim together including on matters of artistry on mourning on gardens on female resistance this book establishes shared preoccupations in ways that refine and extend our knowledge of writing in the period

Grazia Deledda's Painterly Aesthetic Angela Guiso, Virginia A. Picchietti, 2025-03-15 Central to Grazia Deledda's narrative worlds are the relationships between her characters and the vast landscapes in which they move and act The writer translates and represents her characters her characters emotions and her natural and urban landscapes with a vocabulary that is often related to the visual arts However although her descriptions contain the gradations of Modernist painting beginning with Impressionism no book length study and with diverse perspectives has thus far investigated Deledda's relationship with the visual arts and the resulting painterly aesthetic of her multicolored narratives In this sense Grazia Deledda's Painterly Aesthetic provides an articulated literary panorama of Deledda's novels and short stories through a discourse that is situated between literature and pictorial art. Inspired by these two cardinal points the analyses are undertaken by contributors who have a profound awareness of an epochal change and work in different disciplines. One year from the centenary of her receipt of the Nobel Prize the contributors investigate the connections, consonances and differences between Grazia Deledda's oeuvre and other works inside this panorama to verify a possible unity of purpose. At the same time they seek to ascertain whether these connections can corroborate and exalt the choices that the Sardinian writer made to free herself from the constraints of a hostile environment.

Katherine Mansfield and the Bloomsbury Group Todd Martin, 2017-06-01. The New Zealand born writer Katherine Mansfield associated intimately with many members of the Bloomsbury group but her literary aesthetics placed her at a distance from the artistic works of the group. With chapters written by leading international scholars Katherine Mansfield and the Bloomsbury Group explores this conflicted relationship. Bringing together biographical and critical studies the book examines Mansfield's relationships personal and literary with such major Modernist figures as Virginia Woolf, T. S. Eliot, Aldous Huxley and Walter de la Mare as well as the ways in which her work engaged with and reacted against Bloomsbury. In this way the book reveals the true extent of Mansfield's wider influence on 20th century modernist writing.

Working Girls Katherine Mullin, 2016-05-05. Working Girls: Fiction, Sexuality and Modernity investigates the significance of a new form of sexual identity at the end of the nineteenth and beginning of the twentieth century. Young women of the lower middle and working classes were increasingly abandoning domestic service in favour of occupations of contested propriety. They inspired both moral unease and erotic fascination. Working Girls considers representations of four highly glamorised yet controversial types of women: worker, telegraphists and typists in newly feminised offices; shop assistants in the new department stores; and barmaids in the new gin palaces of major British cities. Economically emancipated more or less and liberated more or less from the protection and constraints of home and family, shop girls, barmaids, typists and telegraphists became mass media sensations. They energised a wide range of late Victorian and Modernist fiction. This study will bring late Victorian and Modernist British writers into intimate conversation with a substantial new archive of ephemeral sources often regarded as remote from high art and its concerns: popular fiction, music hall and musical comedy, beauty pageants and fairground exhibitions, visual art and early film, careers manuals, magazine and periodical journalism, moral reform crusades, Royal Commissions and attempts at protective legislation. Working Girls argues that these seductive yet perilous young women helped writers negotiate anxieties about the state of literary culture in the United Kingdom. Crucially they preoccupy novelists who were themselves beleaguered by anxieties over cultural capital, the shifting pressures of the literary marketplace or controversies about the morality of fiction, often leading to the threat of censorship. In articulating questions about sexual integrity Working Girls articulates often submerged questions about textual integrity and the role of the modern novel Sex, Time and Place Simon Avery, Katherine M. Graham, 2016-10-06 Sex Time and Place extensively widens the scope of what we might mean by queer London studies Incorporating multidisciplinary perspectives including social history cultural geography visual culture literary representation ethnography and social studies this collection asks new questions widens debates and opens new subject terrain Featuring essays from an international range of established scholars and emergent voices the collection is a timely contribution to this growing field Its essays cover topics such as activist and radical communities and groups AIDS and the city art and literature digital archives and technology drag and performativity lesbian Londons notions of bohemianism and deviancy sex reform and research and queer Black history Going further than the existing literature on Queer London which focuses principally on the experiences of white gay men in a limited time frame Sex Time and Place reflects the current state of this growing and important field of study It will be of great value to scholars students and general readers who have an interest in queer history London studies cultural geography visual cultures and literary criticism Katherine Mansfield - The Early Years Gerri Kimber, 2016-08-16 The first biography of Katherine Mansfield's early years since 1933 Focusing on the first nineteen years of Katherine Mansfield's life from her birth in 1888 to her arrival in London in 1908 to be a writer this new biography sheds new light on Mansfield's childhood and teenage years as well as on her development as a writer The biography draws extensively on previously unused archive material including the research papers assembled by Ruth Elvish Mantz for her 1933 biography of Mansfield detailed reminiscences of former school friends and acquaintances Mansfield's autograph book birthday book her early letters notebooks and family papers Using this rich seam of material Gerri Kimber explores Mansfield's home life and school days her friendships first infatuations and sexual experimentation both with young men and young women and her travels through the volcanic North Island of New Zealand and examines her earliest published stories which appeared in school magazines What emerges is a picture of a feisty mischievous young girl and an expressive non conformist teenager the unruly Kass Beauchamp who became Katherine Mansfield the famous modernist writer Key Features Brings to light a period of Mansfield's life previously of little interest to biographers Presents a new image of Mansfield as a child and young woman Reveals how her youthful experiences fashioned both her later personality and the content of much of her acclaimed adult writing Discussion of the biographical elements present in Mansfield's New Zealand stories Katherine Mansfield and Periodical Culture Mourant Chris Mourant, 2019-04-10 Explores Katherine Mansfield's engagement in the periodical culture of the early twentieth century This book considers Mansfield's ambivalent position as a colonial woman writer by examining her contributions to the political weekly The New Age the avant garde little magazine Rhythm and the literary journal The Athenaeum Contextualising Mansfield's work against the editorial strategies and professional cultures of each periodical the book deepens and complicates older critical assumptions about the trajectory of Mansfield's development as a writer Key Features Provides the first sustained scholarly examination of Mansfield's engagement with and relation to early twentieth century periodical culture Foregrounds the original material contexts in which Mansfield produced the majority of her work emphasising a dialogic or conversational model for modernism Interrogates Mansfield's ambivalent self positioning within English literary circles as a colonial metropolitan modernist and outsider Integrates ideas of the recent transnational turn across literary studies into the field of periodical scholarship British Literature in Transition, 1920-1940: Futility and Anarchy Charles Ferrall, Dougal McNeill, 2018-12-20 Literature from the political 1930s has often been read in contrast to the aesthetic 1920s This collection suggests a different approach Drawing on recent work expanding our sense of the political and aesthetic energies of interwar modernisms these chapters track transitions in British literature The strains of national break up class dissension and political instability provoked a new literary order and reading across the two decades between the wars exposes the continuing pressure of these transitions Instead of following familiar markers 1922 the Crash the Spanish Civil War or isolating particular themes from literary study this collection takes key problems and dilemmas from literature in transition and reads them across familiar and unfamiliar cultural works and productions in their rich and contradictory context of publication Themes such as gender sexuality nation and class are thus present throughout these essays Major writers such as Woolf are read alongside forgotten and marginalised voices Surviving Reproductive Loss Robert J. Dinkin, Roxane Head Dinkin, 2024-02-14 Surviving Reproductive Loss Stories of Creativity and Positive Transformation in Women's Lives tells the fascinating stories of the lives and creative accomplishments of nearly fifty women who experienced infertility pregnancy loss or stillbirth Robert J Dinkin PhD historian and Roxane Head Dinkin PhD clinical psychologist have teamed up again to write a follow up to their previous volume Infertility and the Creative Spirit published by iUniverse in 2010 The Dinkins tell the stories of women innovators in writing entertaining sports politics and social reform When Julia Child was living in Paris with her husband Paul and unable to become pregnant she turned to learning the art of French cooking ultimately producing her famous cookbooks and TV shows When she showed up with a hot plate and an omelet pan on an educational television program the first cooking show was born Read about her and the many other women who made major contributions in their own fields and who also changed the larger society by contributing to the well being of women and children Encyclopedia of British Writers, 1800 to the Present George Stade, Karen Karbiener, 2010-05-12 Contains alphabetically arranged entries that provide biographical and critical information on major and lesser known nineteenth and twentieth century British writers and includes articles on key schools of literature and genres A Secret Sisterhood Emily Midorikawa, Emma Claire Sweeney, 2017-10-17 Two female writers and best friends bring to light the literary friendships of four iconic female authors Male literary friendships are the stuff of legend think Byron and Shelley Fitzgerald and Hemingway But the world's best loved female authors are usually mythologized as solitary eccentrics or isolated geniuses Coauthors and real life friends Emily Midorikawa and Emma Claire Sweeney prove this wrong thanks to their discovery of a wealth of surprising collaborations the friendship between Jane Austen and one of the family servants playwright Anne Sharp the daring feminist author Mary Taylor who shaped the work of Charlotte Brontë the transatlantic friendship of the seemingly aloof George Eliot and Harriet Beecher Stowe and Virginia Woolf and Katherine Mansfield most often portrayed as bitter foes but who in fact enjoyed a complex friendship fired by an underlying erotic charge Through letters and diaries that have never been published before A Secret Sisterhood resurrects these forgotten stories of female friendships They were sometimes scandalous and volatile sometimes supportive and inspiring but always until now tantalizingly consigned to the shadows With a foreword by Margaret Atwood A thought provoking meditation on literary friendship as well as engagingly intimate glimpses of four of the world's finest writers San Francisco Chronicle A medley of vivid narratives The Atlantic Midorikawa and Sweeney have committed an exceptional act of literary espionage English literature owes them a great debt Financial Times A vital and necessary contribution to women's history literary history and the literature of friendship Kate Bolick author of Spinster Making a Life of One's Own

Modernist Short Fiction and Things Aimée Gasston, 2021-08-10 This book reappraises the philosophical value of short fiction by Virginia Woolf Katherine Mansfield and Elizabeth Bowen examining the stories through the lens of specific everyday objects Looking at Woolf and armchairs Mansfield and snack food and Bowen and fashion accessories it probes the aesthetic resonance between these stories form and contents and also considers the modes of thinking they might promote Conceiving of their short fiction as intrinsically radical and experimental even within a wider context of modernist innovation this book shows how these important women writers brought quotidian objects to riotous life in such a way that tasked readers with reevaluating their everyday existence Overall Modernist Short Fiction and Things argues that short fiction epitomises modernist aesthetics functioning as a resonant source for investigation and complementing and expanding our understanding of modernist epistemology
