Episodic Teaching Of English:

Online Education for Teachers of English as a Global Language Hyun-Sook Kang, Dong-shin Shin, Tony Cimasko, 2020-06-01 This collection offers a critical examination of online language teacher education programs OLTE looking at a range of issues which have informed their development and the challenges and opportunities in their implementation from a TESOL perspective Positioning itself uniquely amongst the growing literature at the nexus of technology and language learning the book focuses on language teacher education programs designed for academic and professional credentials in online environments Introductory sections provide a brief historical overview of the OLTEs as we know them today with examples from a global range of programs toward demonstrating their theoretical and philosophical foundations The second section of the book explores the paradigm shifts borne out of OLTE in the modes media and tasks employed and their subsequent impact on instructional efficacy Subsequent chapters turn a critical lens on OLTE in raising questions around accessibility its implementation in less technologically developed environments issues of quality measures and accreditation and practicum concerns Taken together this collection is a state of the art of online language teacher education programs and lays the groundwork for future research on the nexus of online education teacher education and applied linguistics Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts Diane Lapp, Douglas Fisher, 2011-01-18 Now in its third edition the Handbook of Research on Teaching the English Language Arts sponsored by the International Reading Association and the National Council of Teachers of English offers an integrated perspective on the teaching of the English language arts and a comprehensive overview of research in the field Prominent scholars researchers and professional leaders provide historical and theoretical perspectives about teaching the language arts focus on bodies of research that influence decision making within the teaching of the language arts explore the environments for language arts teaching reflect on methods and materials for instruction Reflecting important recent developments in the field the Third Edition is restructured updated and includes many new contributors More emphasis is given in this edition to the learner multiple texts learning and sharing one's knowledge A Companion Website new for this edition provides PowerPoint slides highlighting the main points of each chapter Teaching and Learning Argumentative Writing in High School English Language Arts Classrooms George E. Newell, David Bloome, Alan Hirvela, 2015-06-05 Focused on the teaching and learning argumentative writing in grades 9-12 this important contribution to literacy education research and classroom practice offers a new perspective a set of principled practices and case studies of excellent teaching The case studies illustrate teaching and learning argumentative writing as the construction of knowledge and new understandings about experiences ideas and texts Six themes key to teaching argumentative writing as a thoughtful multi-leveled practice for deep learning and expression are presented teaching and learning argumentative writing as social practice teachers' epistemological beliefs about argumentative writing variations in instructional chains instructional conversations in support of argumentative writing as deep learning and appreciation of multiple perspectives contextualized analysis of argumentative writing and the teaching and learning of argumentative writing and the construction of rationalities Capital, Commodity, and English Language Teaching William Simpson, 2022-07-28 Capital Commodity and English Language Teaching illustrates how the drive for profit in commercial ELT affects the manner in which language is taught The book looks at education as a form of production and asks how lessons are produced and how the production of profit in addition to the production of the lesson affects the operation of educational institutions and their stakeholders Simpson delivers a theoretically rigorous conception of capital and builds from this an investigation into how the circulation of capital for profit interrelates with the teaching of language Simpson discusses ELT at both a global level in discussion of the ELT industry in the UK the US Ireland Canada Japan Spain and transnationally online as well as at a more local level where finer detailed descriptions of the work lives of those within the Japanese eikaiwa ELT industry are given Drawing on a synthesis of Marxist and Bourdieusian theory the book outlines a dialectical approach to understanding capital and to understanding how the drive for profit and language education interrelate with one another Simpson concludes by showing how such an approach might open up areas for further research in a number of contexts across the globe as well as in light of the Covid 19 pandemic Providing a model for addressing global issues of ELT this book is of interest to advanced students scholars and professionals within applied linguistics TESOL sociolinguistics and linguistic anthropology language economics and related areas English Teachers at Work Brenton Doecke, David Homer, Helen Nixon, 2003 By taking a global perspective on teaching English this work takes into account a wide variety of challenges English teachers face and stresses the importance of networking and communicating with colleagues around the world as a means of overcoming those challenges A richly differentiated view on what it means to be an English teacher is offered as are fascinating narratives about the diverse efforts of teachers in different communities Points of view from contributors in North America Australia Chile New Zealand New Guinea South Africa and the United Kingdom are expressed and placed in an illuminating context with practical and theoretical considerations about teaching English A Manual for Teaching English Classics George Linnaeus Marsh, James Finch Royster, 1902 Reflections on Teaching Literacy Willa Wolcott, 2011-10-01 The late Margaret J Early was a nationally renowned educator in the field of English education and reading a past president of the National Council of Teachers of English an author and an editor herself and the recipient of many awards The book Reflections on Teaching Literacy Selected Speeches of Margaret J Early edited by Willa Wolcott contains fifteen of her speeches given during the 1970s and 1980s two important decades for the English profession In each address Dr Early probes summarizes and critiques the developments she sees occurring in the teaching of literacy Her speeches are warm chatty and thought provoking providing both an historical overview of the issues involved and the immediacy of her perspective as she tackles possible solutions to these issues many of which continue to be very relevant The speeches are enhanced by an in depth thoughtful Foreword written by Ben Nelms a former editor of The English

Journal and a pre eminent figure in English education as he places Dr Early s speeches in the larger context of the changes within the profession itself A two part Afterword written by Jane Townsend and Barbara Pace current faculty members at the University of Florida explores the extent to which Dr Early s speeches are linked to practices in teaching literacy today

English (Teaching & Research Aptitude) YCT Expert Team , 2022 23 NTA UGC NET JRF English Teaching Research Aptitude Chapter wise Solved Papers A manual for teaching English classics George Long Marsh,1902 Teaching English for the Real World Joe Nutt,2020-05-15 So much of the teaching in schools of how the English works does not prepare students for the real world So little has changed in exams the curriculum or the way people think about English teaching in several decades This book is Joe Nutt s attempt to help schools redress that dramatic imbalance It s not in any sense a practical teaching guide only for English teachers nor is it full of hints and tips lesson plans and schemes of work Teaching English for the Real World is a far wider consideration of what schools and English teachers should be doing if they wish to prepare secondary school children to be successful and effective users of English in the real world of work higher education and adult life they will all too soon enter If you are an English teacher by the time you finish reading Teaching English for the Real World you should be better prepared to deliver lessons that those you teach will forever be grateful for The book consists of four main sections English in context towards the GCSE choosing texts and technology matters It starts by putting English clearly into context through a range of current examples It urges teachers to consider the complex role English usage plays on everything from the side of a bus through tissue thin social media garish slideshows and perky TED talks to the hundreds of pages of research or official reports so often used as the basis for serious political policy and commercial decision making It will then examine the classroom status quo and instead of the unrealistic and damaging focus on experiment and creativity instead of requiring them to write newspaper articles stories or speeches the main deliverables in any English GCSE exam the book will argue that teachers should think carefully about how to connect what children write with who they are and where they really want to publish The next section deals with choices of texts There is a place for children to be taught to write well by example but there are challenging questions to ask about much of the material routinely chosen How often are texts and authors selected for study for reasons that have absolutely nothing whatsoever to do with knowledge or linguistic skill and everything to do with politics Even exam boards are guilty of this The final section examines the relationship between English and the technology real people use to produce it It reflects on how technology has impacted on the quality of the reading experience itself and argue that there is a crisis in reading in secondary schools with many children sailing through exams yet leaving school as disinterested and even poor readers And it suggests how teachers might approach introducing these different risks to children and equip them best to make sound judgements about the way they write and communicate for personal and employment purposes in adult life Teaching Secondary English Daniel Sheridan,2013-03-07 This new edition of Teaching Secondary English is thoroughly revised but its purpose has not changed

Like the popular first edition it balances content knowledge with methodology theory with practice and problem posing with suggested solutions The tone and format are inviting while addressing student readers on a professional level Rather than attempting to cover everything the text provides a framework and materials for teaching a secondary English methods course while allowing considerable choice for the instructor The focus is on teaching literature writing and language the basics of the profession Attention is given to the issues that arise as one seeks to explore what it means to teach English The problems and tensions of becoming a teacher are discussed frankly in a manner that helps students figure out their own attitudes and solutions Features Focuses on a few central concepts in the teaching of secondary English Provides an anthology of 22 readable and challenging essays on key topics allowing students to hear a variety of voices and opinions Includes an applications section for each reading that extends the discussion and asks students to explore problems and grapple with important issues related to the articles Offers short writing assignments in questions that follow the readings and in brief writing tasks in the applications and a longer writing assignment at the end of each chapter Addresses student readers directly without talking down to them New in the Second Edition This edition is shorter tighter and easier to use The opening and concluding chapters more directly address the concerns of new teachers The anthology is substantially updated of the 22 articles included 14 are new to this edition Each essay is preceded by a brief introduction and followed by questions for further thought There are fewer applications but these are more extensive and more fully integrated within the text A writing assignment is provided at the end of each chapter Interviews with college students before and after student teaching are included in Chapters 1 and 6 The bibliographies at the end of each chapter are fully updated

Literary Knowing and the Making of English Teachers Larissa McLean Davies, Brenton Doecke, Philip Mead, Wayne Sawyer, Lyn Yates, 2022-09-29 At a time when knowledge is being re valued as central to curriculum concerns subject English is being called to account Literary Knowing and the Making of English Teachers puts long standing debates about knowledge and knowing in English in dialogue with an investigation of how English teachers are made in the 21st century This book explores for the first time the role of literature in shaping English teachers professional knowledge and identities by examining the impacts in particular of their own school teaching in their making The voices of early career English teachers feature throughout the work in a series of vignettes providing reflective accounts of their professional learning The authors bring a range of disciplinary expertise and standpoints to explore the complexity of knowledge and knowing in English They ask How do English teachers negotiate competing curriculum demands How do they understand literary knowledge in a neoliberal context What is core English knowledge for students and what role should literature play in the contemporary curriculum Drawing on a major longitudinal research project they bring to light what English teachers see as central to their work the ways they connect teaching with their disciplinary training and how their understandings of literary practice are contested and reimagined in the classroom This innovative work is essential reading for scholars and postgraduate students in the fields of teacher education English education literary studies and curriculum studies

Adult English Language Teaching Valentina Kononova,Natasha Kersh,Tatiana Dobrydina,2022-05-25 This book explores cross international experiences in the field of adult English language teaching and learning using cross cultural dialogues to hear voices from different countries and different settings formal informal and non formal discussing how their lifelong learning has or is still in the process of helping them to change their lives The book addresses two major questions 1 How do adults learn languages and transform themselves through learning 2 How do authorities and societies build capacity for sustainable language development It will be of interest to researchers policymakers and adult language teachers concerned with diverse aspects of teaching and learning English as lingua franca for enhancing the public good internationally The book draws on the way in which the Western paradigm of lifelong learning was applied by an international team of inspired professionals to English language education in the Tempus project Lifelong Language Learning University Centre Network for New Career Opportunities and Personal Development UNICO This project was undertaken by eleven universities in three countries the Siberian Federal District of the Russian Federation the Kyrgyz Republic and the Republic of Tajikistan in partnership with the Charles University in Prague the Institute of Education from the University College London and the University of Cordoba in Spain

Encyclopedia of Post-Colonial Literatures in English Eugene Benson,L.W. Conolly,2004-11-30 Post Colonial Literatures in English together with English Literature and American Literature form one of the three major groupings of literature in English and as such are widely studied around the world Their significance derives from the richness and variety of experience which they reflect In three volumes this Encyclopedia documents the history and development of this body of work and includes original research relating to the literatures of some 50 countries and territories In more than 1 600 entries written by more than 600 internationally recognized scholars it explores the effect of the colonial and post colonial experience on literatures in English worldwide
