Epitome Of Desire:

Theodore Dreiser Miriam Gogol,1995-10 Theodore Dreiser is indisputably one of America's most important twentieth century novelists. An American Tragedy, Sister Carrie, and Jennie Gerhardt have all made an indelible mark on the American literary landscape. And yet remarkably few critical books and no recent collections of critical essays have been published that attempt to answer current theoretical questions about Dreiser's entire canon. This collection is the first to appear in twenty four years. The ten contributing essayists offer original interpretations of Dreiser's works from such disparate points of view as new historicism, poststructuralism, psychoanalysis, feminism, film studies, and canon formation. A vital reassessment Theodore Dreiser: Beyond Naturalism brings this influential modern writer into the 1990s by viewing him through the lens of the latest literary theory and cultural criticism.

The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang John Christopher Hamm,2019-08-27 Xiang Kairan, who wrote under the pen name the Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang, is remembered as the father of modern Chinese martial arts fiction, one of the most distinctive forms of twentieth century Chinese culture and the inspiration for China's globally popular martial arts cinema. In this book John Christopher Hamm shows how Xiang Kairan's work and career offer a new lens on the transformations of fiction and popular culture in early twentieth century China. The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang situates Xiang Kairan's career in the larger contexts of Republican era China's publishing industry, literary debates, and political and social history. At a time when writers associated with the New Culture movement promoted an aggressively modernizing vision of literature, Xiang Kairan consciously cultivated his debt to homegrown narrative traditions. Through careful readings of Xiang Kairan's work, Hamm demonstrates that his writings far from being the formally fossilized and ideologically regressive relics their critics denounced, represent a creative engagement with contemporary social and political currents and the demands and possibilities of an emerging cultural marketplace. Hamm takes martial arts fiction beyond the confines of genre studies to situate it within a broader reexamination of Chinese literary modernity. The first monograph on Xiang Kairan's fiction in any language, The Unworthy Scholar from Pingjiang rewrites the history of early twentieth century Chinese literature from the standpoints of genre fiction and commercial publishing.

The God Who May Be Richard Kearney,2001-10-03 Kearney is one of the most exciting thinkers in the English speaking world of continental philosophy, and he joins hands with its fundamental project, asking the question: what or who comes after the God of metaphysics? John D. Caputo. Engaging some of the most urgent issues in the philosophy of religion today, in this lively book Richard Kearney proposes that instead of thinking of God as actual, God might best be thought of as the possibility of the impossible. By pulling away from biblical perceptions of God and breaking with dominant theological traditions, Kearney draws on the work of Ricoeur, Levinas, Derrida, Heidegger, and others to provide a surprising and original answer to who or what God might be. For Kearney, the intersecting dimensions of impossibility propel religious experience and faith in new directions, notably toward views of God that are unforeseeable, unprogrammable, and uncertain. Important themes such as the phenomenology of the persona the meaning of the unity of God God and desire notions of existence and difference and faith in philosophy are taken up in this penetrating and original work Richard Kearney is Professor of Philosophy at Boston College and University College Dublin He is author of many books on modern philosophy and culture including Dialogues with Contemporary Continental Thinkers The Wake of Imagination and The Poetics of Modernity The Designed Self Carlo Strenger, 2013-05-13 What can contemporary psychoanalysis bring to the understanding of Generation X a cohort for whom the trivialization of a dizzying array of possible experiences teamed with the pressure to lead spectacular lives often leads to diffuse feelings of confusion depression and disorientation The Designed Self chronicles Strenger's therapeutic encounters with five extraordinarily gifted young adults for whom the ideal of authenticity long associated with the Baby Boom generation was supplanted by the need to experiment endlessly with the self Perpetual self experimentation constantly reinforced by the media came to encompass everything from career choice to hair color to body shape to gender identity In compelling clinical stories Strenger introduces us to patients for whom the project of shaping the self had become a cultural imperative no less than an expression of individuality At once insightful and cautionary The Designed Self investigates how psychoanalysis must change if it is to claim cultural relevance and therapeutic effectiveness in The Age of the Designed Self

Gustave Flaubert William J. God, the Gift, and Postmodernism John D. Caputo,Michael J. Scanlon,1999-12-22 Pushing past the constraints of postmodernism which cast reason and religion in opposition God the Gift and Postmodernism seizes the opportunity to question the authority of the modern and open the limits of possible experience including the call to religious experience as a new millennium approaches Jacques Derrida the father of deconstruction engages with Jean Luc Marion and other religious philosophers to entertain questions about intention givenness and possibility which reveal the extent to which deconstruction is structured like religion New interpretations of Kant Heidegger Husserl and Derrida emerge from essays and discussions with distinguished philosophers and theologians from the United States and Europe The result is that God the Gift and Postmodernism elaborates a radical phenomenology that stretches the limits of its possibility and explores areas where philosophy and religion have become increasingly and surprisingly convergent Contributors include John D Caputo John Dominic Crossan Jacques Derrida Robert Dodaro Richard Kearney Jean Luc Marion Frangoise Meltzer Michael J Scanlon Mark C Taylor David Tracy Merold Westphal and Edith Wyschogrod Letters from a S_ fi Teacher Shaikh Sharfuddîn Manerî,1933-01-01 Masters of the path have divided monotheism into four stages The first stage consists in repeating vocally without any inner conviction There is no God save All h This is hypocrisy and does not profit on the day of resurrection The second stage consists in repeating the said logion vocally with an inner conviction based upon conventional imitation as in the case of ordinary people or some form of reasoning as in the case of an intellectual theist This is verily the visible body of monotheism frees one from gross polytheism and from hell and leads to heaven This second stage though safer than the first and less unstable is for all that a low one fit for old women The third stage consists in Light shining in the heart which reveals the One Agent alone as the root of all phenomena and the non agency of all else This is quite unlike the conviction of ordinary people or that of an intellectual theist Such a conviction is a fetter to the soul whereas the vision of the Light breaks all fetters There must be a difference between one who believes a certain gentleman to be in his house on the testimony of others as in the case of ordinary people another who infers the residence of that gentleman in the house because he sees his horses and servants at the gate as in the case of the intellectual theist and another who actually sees the gentleman in the house as in the case of the third stage In the third stage one sees the creatures and the Creator and distinguishes them from Him This much of separation still persists hence it is not perfect union in the eyes of the Masters Desire's Edge Tessa McKay,2010-10-15 Harrison is hard to ignore Handsome confident and boorish he is beloved by most everyone at the faire particularly the women Even Kyra s best friend is quick to champion him much to Kyra s dismay Kyra knows little about Rafe but wisely despises his bravado his appeal and his slipshod reenactment methods And when Rafe is implicated in her best friend s riding accident she cannot forgive him for his neglect or herself for the unwelcomed sensations he stirs within her After tampering with a gypsy potion Kyra suddenly finds herself and Rafe transported back to sixteenth century England and it is nothing like the 1500s back home It is a dangerous time of court intrigue French wars and Scottish insurrection and soon Kyra finds that she must learn to trust the courage and heart of the man she reviles if they are to survive More importantly she must learn to trust her own heart as she fights for both her own and Rafe s survival upon one of the bloodiest battlefields in England Flodden Translations/Transformations Valerie Wayne,Cornelia Niekus Moore,1993-01-01 The Works of Lactantius Lactantius,1871 Ante-Nicene Christian Library Alexander Roberts,Sir James Donaldson,1871 Ante-Nicene Christian Library: The works of Lactantius, v. 2., together with the Testaments of the twelve patriarchs and fragments of the second and third centuries (1871) Sir James Donaldson,1871
