Ken Bails Out:

Cross-Examining Socrates John Beversluis, 2000-01-06 This book is a rereading of Plato's early dialogues from the point of view of the characters with whom Socrates engages in debate. Socrates' interlocutors are generally acknowledged to play important dialectical and dramatic roles but no previous book has focused mainly on them. Existing studies are thoroughly dismissive of the interlocutors and reduce them to the status of mere mouthpieces for views which are hopelessly confused or demonstrably false. This book takes interlocutors seriously and treats them as genuine intellectual opponents whose views are often more defensible than commentators have standardly thought. The author's purpose is not to summarise their positions or the arguments of the dialogues in which they appear, much less to produce a series of biographical sketches but to investigate the phenomenology of philosophical disputation as it manifests itself in the early dialogues.

The Many Lives of Kenneth Myer Sue Ebury, 2008 When Kenneth Baillieu Myer's father fell dead on the footpath in 1934, Ken's life changed in an instant. As the eldest son of the Jewish immigrant retailing genius Sidney Baevski Myer, who went from pedlar to philanthropist millionaire in fifteen years, 13-year-old Ken was immediately acknowledged as head of the family. Despite a conventional education at Geelong Grammar and a year at Princeton University, Ken was an unconventional man. He had hit headlines when he was born and continued to make news throughout his life as the powerful Executive Chairman of Myer. In his refusal to be Governor General of Australia, with his separation and divorce from his wife Prue and remarriage to a Japanese woman half his age, Yasuko Hiraoka, as Chairman of the Victorian Arts Centre and the National Library of Australia, and during his disastrous years as Chairman of the ABC, a reward for signing the Myer It's time letter, acknowledged by Whitlam as influential in bringing the Labor Party to power in 1972, Ken Myer introduced Australia to the first regional shopping centres with Chadstone, changing the face of the Australian landscape. Parking meters, state-of-the-art information systems at the National Library of Australia, ground-breaking medical research at The Howard Florey Institute, and genetic engineering at CSIRO were all facilitated by him. Visionary and romantic, he was depressive and driven, charming one moment, icy the next. Unpretentious and a passionate conservationist, he was generous both publicly and anonymously, giving away his fortune and in doing so founding modern philanthropy in Australia. Happiest when finally free of the Store, he died with his wife Yasuko in a light plane crash in Alaska in 1992. With unprecedented access to family documents, Sue Ebury paints a vivid portrait of the many aspects of Ken Myer's life and the man himself.
