Innovative Community Responses to Disaster Brent D. Hales, Norman Walzer, James R. Calvin, 2017-10-02 Increasingly community leaders around the world face major natural and economic disasters that require them to find ways to rebuild both physical infrastructure and the local economy Doing this effectively requires an understanding of how various parts of the community are interconnected as well as information as to which revitalization approaches have succeeded in the past Community investment in recovery is essential and in some cases may require local leaders to rethink how it can be financed and arranged This book presents a conceptual framework based on the community capitals and describes approaches that have succeeded in situations where local leaders have coordinated efforts to rebuild and revitalize local conditions Contributions provide examples of successful approaches around the world thus analysing potential strategies for addressing disasters of many different types in various cultural settings In this way the book provides insights into a variety of approaches based on applications of accepted community development theory and concepts This book was originally published as a special issue of Community Development

Innovative Community Change Practices Norman Walzer, Sam Cordes, 2017-10-02 The national recession forced many communities to examine new and innovative ways to promote local economic development resulting in long term community changes New techniques and approaches were used to identify available opportunities and programs which could take advantage of development opportunities A common theme among the contributions to this book is a focus on building leadership capacity and several chapters discuss the successful practices which are aimed at bringing new leaders into local development efforts Especially important are ways to identify youth and young adults and designing programs that bring them into active leadership roles within community development efforts On a broader scale several authors present material regarding building local entrepreneurship capacity and recognizing that entrepreneurs at different stages in their development have different training and support needs The discussions in this book will help local policymakers and development practitioners better understand the various development techniques and find ways to build capacity within their community stimulating development This information will be especially useful for groups interested in engaging youth and populations who in the past have not been especially active in discussions about community and economic development This book was originally published as a special issue of Community Development

The Palgrave Handbook of Innovative Community and Clinical Psychologies Carl Walker, Sally Zlotowitz, Anna Zoli, 2022-02-01 This handbook highlights a range of ground breaking radical and liberatory clinical and critical community psychology projects from around the world The disciplines of critical community psychology and clinical psychology are currently experiencing radical innovations that in this book are characterised as moving from the individualising practice realm toward an altogether more contextualising orientation Both fields are responding to an array of political social and economic injustices and a global political context Community and clinical psychologists have found themselves reorienting their practice to confront resist and subvert the structures that are so damaging to the lives of the vulnerable people they work with This text posits that these approaches refute and resist the psychologising that has strengthened oppressive structures Such practices are starting to engage in the political character of power knowledge relationships that demand a more action oriented and less clinical psychology praxis and there is a growing interest in and commitment to social justice in the field of mental wellbeing Using examples of scholar activist and practitioner work from around the world this collection explores and documents those practices where the traditional remits of community and clinical psychology have been subverted altered stretched changed and reworked in order to reframe practice around human rights creativity political activism social change space and place systemic violence community transformation resource allocation and radical practices of disruption and direct action

Community Innovations in Sustainable Land Management Maxwell Mudhara, Saa Dittoh, Mohamed Sessay, William Critchley, Sabina Di Prima, 2016-06-23 It is increasingly recognized that land can be managed most sustainably through involving local communities This book highlights the potential of a new methodology of uncovering and stimulating community initiatives in sustainable land management in Africa Analyses of four contrasting African countries Ghana Morocco South Africa and Uganda show that as communities directly face the challenges of land degradation they are likely to develop initiatives themselves in terms of sustainable land management These initiatives or innovations may be more appropriate and sustainable than those emanating from research stations located far from the communities The book describes the rationale of the approach used the set of steps followed how the project managed to engage the communities to understand the importance of the activities they were undertaking and how they were stimulated to improve and extend their initiatives and innovativeness Examples covered include soil fertility community forestry afforestation water invasive species and grazing land management Central to the book is the way communities and scientists interacted between the four countries and learnt from each other The book also shows how the initiatives were outscaled locally

Frugal Innovation and Innovative Creation Paul Bouvier-Patron,2023-08-31 Businesses and enterprises can no longer avoid the concern of their Natural Environmental impact which calls into question their economic activities Frugal Innovation and Innovative Creation is at the crossroads of economics and management in business particularly focused on innovative enterprises and their interactions with the Natural Environment Navigating these interactions can be perceived by companies as a costly constraint especially in an innovation process which is already very expensive The aim of this book is therefore to highlight the need for a satisfactory technology level while innovating without risking damage to the Natural Environment The challenge here is to propose a form of frugal innovation that is likely to be successful while also mindful of the environmental considerations from the outset hence the concept of environmental frugal innovation Furthermore by questioning the practice of innovative creation especially if it integrates the ideas of respect for and preservation of the Natural Environment this book reveals the importance of two key elements that are present regardless of the modality the level of technology and organization improvisation and bricolage
