Inseparable Humanity An Anthology Of Reflections Of Shridath Ramphal:

Inseparable Humanity S. S. Ramphal, 1989 Inseparable Humanity S. S. Ramphal, 1989 Glimpses of a Global Life Shridath Ramphal, 2014-11-22 Shridath Sonny Ramphal looks back at the fifteen years he spent as the Secretary General of the Commonwealth. He shares glimpses of conflicts, discussions and characters such as Uganda's tyrant Idi Amin and the enlightened spirits of others like Germany's Willy Brandt and Nelson Mandela, all of whom Ramphal encountered in his global life.

A Guide to the Contemporary Commonwealth W. McIntyre, 2001-07-18 This lucid guide meets the need so often expressed in the 1990s for an up-to-date assessment of the contemporary Commonwealth. It has a succinct section on its historical background and gives more attention than any previous works to symbols and to the People's Commonwealth of voluntary organizations, sports and business. It highlights critical questions of balance that have emerged between the relative roles of governments and official agencies, voluntary associations and private business.

The West and the Third World Robert O'Neill, R. J. Vincent, 1990-06-18 This is a book of essays in honour of J. D. B. Miller and looks at the relationship between the West and the Third World. It looks especially at the liberal democratic West in opposition to the communist East and that version of modernity which is represented by the developed capitalist world.

The Brandt Commission and the Multinationals Bo Stråth, 2023-02-11 Set against the backdrop of dramatic world order transformations across the 1970s and 1980s, this book examines the competing planetary perspectives of the Brandt Commission and the multinationals, arguing that the missed opportunities of these decades created a path for contemporary political and economic crises. At the Global South's request for a New International Economic Order, the Brandt Commission, chaired by Willy Brandt, was appointed in 1977. The commission, with a goal to formulate arguments on how to close the gap between the North and South, developed a planetary perspective grounded in economic redistribution, ecological considerations and disarmament. The multinationals at that time, a new kind of business corporation, repressed Brandt's vision by seeking freedom from political monitoring. This book discusses the ways that global corporations created facts that changed the world and the preconditions of politics. It moves beyond existing research that considers the competition merely a theoretical clash between Keynesianism and neoliberalism. Featuring a thorough analysis of the decades' trends and a new interview with Shridath Ramphal, the Commission's unofficial vice chair, this is a timely volume for students and researchers of international relations, political science and contemporary history.

The Commonwealth, South Africa and Apartheid Stuart Mole, 2023-05-31 This book explores the role of the modern Commonwealth in the international campaign against apartheid in South Africa. Spanning the period of South Africa's apartheid state from its foundation in 1948 until its ending in April 1994, the author demonstrates that after the 1960 Sharpeville massacre and South Africa's subsequent exclusion from the Commonwealth, the organisation was able to become both pathfinder and interlocutor on the road to South Africa's freedom. As well as South Africa's ejection from the Commonwealth, apartheid's increasing isolation was sustained by the Commonwealth's pioneering work in boycotting apartheid sport as well as campaigning to stop arms sales It also played an important role in internationalising economic and financial sanctions credited by some as the final nail in apartheid's coffin and was able to make an important and distinctive contribution to the transition to democracy At the same time critical debates within the Commonwealth about racial and political equality transformed the association from a docile post imperial organisation led by the UK and in its own interests to a modern multiracial North South forum for reconciling global difference and overcoming the legacies of colonialism This comprehensive and authoritative account of the Commonwealth's engagement with apartheid South Africa is intended for all those who study and research the modern Commonwealth its structure and influence and for those with a general interest in contemporary post war history

The Commonwealth Patricia Larby, Harry Hannam, 2024-11-01 The modern British Commonwealth linking fifty countries around the world in voluntary association cooperation and consultation is a unique body in world history The area of its member countries covers a third of the globe and collectively their peoples represent a quarter of the world's total population Though essentially different from the British Empire from which it originated the Commonwealth shares many common historical ties with Britain Patricia M Larby and Harry Hannam have assembled an unrivaled body of literature to illustrate the growth of the Empire into the Commonwealth This extensive bibliography identifies lists and annotates the most important publications on the development and growth of the Commonwealth its present status and functions and its role in education literature sport and the arts and sciences It includes its historical origins its cooperation in economics politics and international issues such as the environment and its many spheres of professional activity including medicine law and architecture Strong emphasis is placed on the role of the English language in the Commonwealth and as a medium for creative literature in many disparate cultures worldwide The Commonwealth appears at a time when this unique organization is on the threshold of a new era in its history The proposals emerging from the 1991 Commonwealth Heads of Government meeting include statements on democracy and human rights environmental affairs and global concerns such as international crime drug abuse and AIDS No previous comprehensive bibliography of the Commonwealth exists and this volume fills a long standing gap in the bibliographical coverage It will be an essential reference source for libraries and scholars involved in Commonwealth studies and will be of particular interest to historians political scientists economists and educators

Colonial Visions, Postcolonial Revisions Shanthini Pillai, 2008-12-18 This book offers reflections of the representations of the Indian diaspora of Malaysia according to two spectrums colonial and postcolonial It takes seed from the belief that any engagement with the Indian diasporic experience in Malaysia must take into account the role of the pioneer Indian immigrants who carved the niche of existence for the overseas Indian on Malayan soil It begins by tracing their presence within the terrain of colonial narratives to uncover not only the ways in which they were subordinated to colonial ideological discourses but also and more significantly the suppressed story of coolie resistance that lies under the weight of such masks of conquest It then moves on to show how postcolonial revisioning is able to reconstruct the Indian immigrants of Malaya as choreographers of the diasporic identity that they have left as the most significant legacy for contemporary Malaysian Indians This book ultimately reveals the politics of Malaysian Indian identity from colonised to globalised grounds and the ways in which the subaltern spaces of the former can be reclaimed and reterritorialised in the latter Popular Politics and Resistance Movements in South Africa William Beinart, Marcelle C. Dawson, 2010-12-01 An examination of post apartheid politics This volume explores some of the key features of popular politics and resistance before and after 1994 It looks at continuities and changes in the forms of struggle and ideologies involved as well as the significance of post apartheid grassroots politics Is this a new form of politics or does it stand as a direct descendent of the insurrectionary impulses of the late apartheid era Posing questions about continuity and change before and after 1994 raises key issues concerning the nature of power and poverty in the country Contributors suggest that expressions of popular politics are deeply set within South African political culture and still have the capacity to influence political outcomes The introduction by William Beinart links the papers together places them in context of recent literature on popular politics and history from below and summarises their main findings supporting the argument that popular politics outside of the party system remain significant in South Africa and help influence national politics The roots of this collection lie in post graduate student research conducted at the University of Oxford in the early twenty first century

The Parliamentarian , 1989 A New System of Slavery Hugh Tinker, 1993 The first comprehensive historical survey of a hitherto neglected and only partially known migration the export of Indians to supply the labour needed in producing plantation crops in Mauritius South and East Africa Caribbean and other countries This followed the legal ending of slavery and Professor Tinker shows the many features the two systems had in common Prospero's Return? Paul B. Rich, 1994 In this wide ranging collection of essays Rich explores the nature and meaning of race and racism in British society and the nature of British and English national identity Using political social and cultural sources the author shows that many of the contemporary issues surrounding the position of black minorities in British society have a long and complex history The
