Daily Report, Foreign Radio Broadcasts United States. Central Intelligence Agency, 1962      Collecting the Revolution
Emily R. Williams, 2022-03-08 In the late 1960s student protests broke out throughout much of the world and while Britain's anti Vietnam protestors and China's Red Guards were clearly radically different these movements at times shared inspirations aspirations and aesthetics Within Western popular media Mao's China was portrayed as a danger to world peace but at the same time for some on the counter cultural left the Cultural Revolution 1966 1976 contained ideas worthy of exploration Moreover because of Britain's continued colonial possession of Hong Kong Britain had a specific interest in ongoing events in China and information was highly sought after Thus the objects that China exported propaganda posters paintings Mao badges periodicals ceramics etc became a crucial avenue through which China was known at this time and interest in them crossed the political divide Collecting the Revolution uses the objects that the Chinese government sent abroad and that visitors brought back with them to open up the stories of diplomats journalists activists students and others and how they imagined engaged with and later remembered Mao's China through its objects It chronicles the story of how these objects were later incorporated into the collections of some of Britain's most prominent museums thus allowing later generations to continue to engage with one of the most controversial and important periods of China's recent history

Foreigners under Mao Beverley Hooper, 2016-07-01 The book examines the lives of six different groups of Westerners foreign comrades who made their home in Mao's China twenty two former Korean War POWs who controversially chose China ahead of repatriation diplomats of Western countries that recognized the People's Republic the few foreign correspondents permitted to work in China foreign experts and language students Each of these groups led distinct lives under Mao while sharing the experience of a highly politicized society and of official measures to isolate them from everyday China This book is enjoyable and engaging The author introduces a small but dynamic collection of enthusiastic international participants in post 1949 China showing unquestioned loyalty to Mao's ideals Equally intriguing are the alternate stories of diplomats and reporters existing far outside the mainstream of Chinese life and trusted by neither the Chinese nor the international supporters Edgar A Porter Professor Emeritus Ritsumeikan Asia Pacific University author of The People's Doctor George Hatem and China's Revolution A well written survey about the variety of Westerners who lived and worked in the People's Republic of China between 1949 and 1976 This is a welcome addition to the sojourner literature about foreigners who lived in twentieth century socialist countries The scholarship which includes the review of memoirs archival materials and secondary works is impressive and comprehensive Stephen R MacKinnon Arizona State University co author of China Reporting An Oral History of American Journalism in the 1930s and 1940s      Reports of the Missionary and Benevolent Boards and Committees to the General Assembly ... Presbyterian Church in the U.S.A. General Assembly, 1899

Christianity in China Xiaoxin Wu, 2015-07-17 Now revised and updated to incorporate numerous new materials this is the
