Identity And Faith:

Sexual Identity and Faith Mark A. Yarhouse, 2019-04-15 Christians who struggle with a conflict between their sexual and religious identities have few therapeutic options available to them Sexual orientation change efforts SOCE have rightly fallen out of favor and are no longer practiced by most clinicians At the same time the common approach of gay affirmative therapy GAT can at times present challenges and may not be a good fit when clients hold to conventional religious beliefs and values An alternative to these methods is Sexual Identity Therapy SIT an approach that aims to provide individuals with a safe therapeutic space to explore the tension between their sexuality and their faith Working within the SIT framework clients are able to resolve their inner conflict to their personal satisfaction and to freely choose a coherent identity that enables them to move forward in life SIT has several stages each designed to enable the client to make meaning out of his or her same sex sexuality At no point in the process is the client encouraged to choose one sexual identity over another The ultimate goal of SIT is congruence Congruence is achieved when a person freely adopts an identity and lives it out in ways that are in keeping with his or her beliefs and values The SIT model is brought to life throughout the book with the help of case studies drawn from the author's 20 years of experience Written for both Christian and non religious clinicians Sexual Identity and Faith is an informed respectful and nuanced guide to help people navigate the difficult conflict between who they are sexually and what they believe religiously

Religion, Identity and Change Simon Coleman, Peter Collins, 2017-03-02 Religion is of enduring importance in the lives of many people yet the religious landscape has been dramatically transformed in recent decades Established churches have been challenged by eastern faiths revivals of Christian and Islamic fundamentalism and the eclectic spiritualities of the New Age Religion has long been regarded by social scientists and psychologists as a key source of identity formation ranging from personal conversion experiences to collective association with fellow believers This book addresses the need for a reassessment of issues relating to identity in the light of current transformations in society as a whole and religion in particular Drawing together case studies from many different expressions of faith and belief Hindu Muslim Roman Catholic Anglican New Age leading scholars ask how contemporary religions or spiritualities respond to the challenge of forming individual and collective identities in a nation context marked by secularisation and postmodern decentring of culture as well as religious revitalisation The book focuses on Britain as a context for religious change but asks important questions that are of universal significance for those studying religion How is personal and collective identity constructed in a world of multiple social and cultural influences What role can religion play in creating reinforcing or even transforming such identity

Redefining Christian Identity Jan J. Ginkel, Hendrika Lena Murre-van den Berg, Theo Maarten van Lint, 2005 Cultural interaction in the Middle East since the Rise of Islam such was the title of a combined research project of the Universities of Leiden and Groningen aimed at describing the various ways in which the Christian communities of the Middle East expressed their distinct cultural identity in Muslim societies As part of the project the symposium Redefining Christian Identity Christian cultural strategies since the rise of Islam took place at Groningen University on April 7 10 1999 This book contains the proceedings of this conference From the articles it becomes clear that a number of distinct cultural strategies can be identified some of which were used very frequently others only in certain groups or at particular periods of time The three main strategies that are represented in the papers of this volume are i reinterpretation of the pre Islamic Christian heritage ii inculturation of elements from the new Islamic context iii isolation from the Islamic context Viewed in time it is clear that the reinterpretation of older Christian heritage was particularly important in the first two centuries after the rise of Islam the seventh and eighth centuries that inculturation was the dominant theme of the Abbasid period in the ninth to twelfth centuries whereas from the Mongol period onwards from the thirteenth to the eighteenth centuries isolation more and more often occurs although inculturation of elements from the predominantly Muslim environment never came to a complete standstill

Race, Religion & Muslim Identity in Britain Muhammad Abdul Bari, 2004 This timely book offers incisive and comprehensive analysis of faith as a cornerstone of identity With the rapid transformation within the Muslim community over the last few decades many young people are now finding it difficult to navigate between the demands of their religion on one side and social pressure on the other Working with them and addressing the issues pertinent to their daily life is challenging to say the least This book is the outcome of Dr Bari s long term involvement with the young Muslims of London through his voluntary and professional work This has put him on a continuous learning curve in assessing his personal situation as well The foremost issue facing a young Muslim is of course one of identity which the author has tried to address through the lens of Islamic principles Religion and Identity in the Post-9/11 Vampire Christina Wilkins,2018-04-03 This book offers a unique argument for the emergence of a post 9 11 vampire that showcases changing perspectives on identity and religion in American culture offering a look at how cultural narratives can be used to work through trauma Cultural narratives have long played a valuable role in mediating difficult and politically sensitive topics Christina Wilkins addresses how the figure of the vampire is used in modern narratives and how it has changed from previous incarnations particularly in American narratives The vampire has been a cultural staple for centuries but the current conception of the figure has been arguably Americanized with the rise of the modern American vampire coinciding with the aftermath of 9 11 Wilkins investigates changes evident in cultural representations and how they effectively mediate the altered approach to issues of trauma and identity By investing metaphorical tropes with cultural significance the book offers audiences the opportunity to consider new perspectives and prompt important discussions while also illuminating changes in societal attitudes

Religious Identity and Social Change David Radford,2015-06-19 Religious Identity and Social Change offers a macro and micro analysis of the dynamics of rapid social and religious change occurring within the Muslim world Drawing on rich ethnographic and quantitative research in Kyrgyzstan Central Asia David Radford provides theoretical insight into the nature of religious and social change and ethnic identity transformation exploring significant questions concerning why people convert and what happens when they do so A crisis of identity occurs when religious conversion takes place especially from one major religious tradition Islam to another Christianity and where religious identity is intimately connected to ethnic and national identity Radford argues for the importance of recognising the socially constructed nature of identity involving the dynamic interplay between human agency culture and social networks Kyrgyz Christians have been active agents in bringing religious and identity transformation building upon the contextual parameters in which they are situated Identity, Ethics, and Ethos in the New Testament Jan G. van der Watt,2012-02-13 The book deals with the relation between identity ethics and ethos in the New Testament The focus falls on the way in which the commandments or guidelines presented in the New Testament writings inform the behaviour of the intended recipients The habitual behaviour ethos of the different Christian communities in the New Testament are plotted and linked to their identity Apart from analytical categories like ethos ethics and identity that are clearly defined in the book efforts are also made to broaden the specific analytical categories related to ethical material The way in which for instance narratives proverbial expressions imagery etc inform the reader about the ethical demands or ethos is also explored Untold Stories of Human Identity Pasquale De Marco, 2025-08-15 Within the vast tapestry of human existence there lies an enigma that has captivated philosophers psychologists and artists for centuries the nature of identity What is it that makes us who we are How do we define ourselves and how do others perceive us In this exploration of identity we embark on a journey to unravel the intricacies of the self delving into the depths of our being and examining the myriad factors that shape our sense of self From the moment we are born we are thrust into a world that bombards us with messages about who we are and who we should be Our parents our culture our society all have expectations for us and these expectations can often conflict with our own sense of self As we navigate the complexities of life we are constantly confronted with choices that shape our identity The friends we make the career we pursue the values we adopt all contribute to the intricate mosaic of who we are Identity is not a fixed entity it is fluid and ever changing As we experience new things learn new information and encounter new people our understanding of ourselves evolves The challenges we face the triumphs we achieve the losses we endure all leave their mark on our identity shaping and reshaping who we are Our identity is not only shaped by our personal experiences but also by the social and cultural contexts in which we live The culture we are raised in the values we are taught the beliefs we hold all influence our sense of self Our identity is also shaped by our interactions with others The people we surround ourselves with the relationships we form and the communities we belong to all play a role in shaping who we are Understanding our own identity is a lifelong journey one that is filled with both challenges and rewards As we explore the depths of our being we come to a deeper understanding of ourselves and our place in the world We learn to embrace our strengths and weaknesses to accept ourselves for who we are and to live our lives with authenticity and purpose If you like this book write a review

Fighting Identity Michael Vlahos, 2008-12-30 This work highlights a national ethos infused by a sacred narrative of divine mission This deep association leads to a narrow approach to conflict relationships built around an Us vs Them distance from the enemy in which their submission is achieved through kinetic effects and their subsequent redemption through our good works reconstruction Vlahos contends that America's difficult engagement in the Muslim world demonstrates urgently that different operational approaches and tactics like counterinsurgency are not enough Alternative paradigms of strategic engagement are needed but their very consideration requires deeper cultural rethinking about how we assess world change and other cultures and how our national ethos makes war Why are terrorists and insurgents we fight so formidable Their strength and our vulnerability is in identity Clausewitz knew that geist spirit was always stronger than the material identity is power in war But how can non state actors face up to nation states The answer is in globalization This is the West's 3rd globalization Two centuries of intense mixing has torn down old ways of life and created a growing demand for new belonging There is also a decline in US universalism America's vision as history's anointed prophet and manager is now competing head to head with renewed universal visions Like Late Antiquity and the High Middle Ages our globalization begins to subside We may be in the later days of American modernity We can see this worldwide as emerging local communities within states and meta movements find their voice through conflict and war Identities struggling for realization are always the most powerful Add the diffusion of new technology and new practice and even the poorest and seemingly most primitive group can now make war against those on high They are successful because of a symbiotic fit between old states and new identities Increasingly old societies no longer find identity celebration in war while non state identities embrace the struggle for realization Hence non state wars with America become a mythic narrative for them Our engagement actually helps them realize identity and we become the midwife This book offers another path to deal with non state challenges one that does not further weaken us Christian Identity International Reformed Theological Institute. International Conference,2008 The volume offers contributions reflecting the understanding of Christian identity in the midst of changing cultural socio economic political and religious context in a a globalized world The Politics of Religion, Nationalism, and Identity in Asia Jeff Kingston,2019-07-30 This comprehensive book provides a comparative analysis of religious nationalism in contemporary globalized Asia Exploring the nexus of religion identity and nationalism Jeff Kingston assesses similarities and differences across the region focusing on how religious sentiments influence how people embrace nationalism and with what consequences Kingston shows that in the age of the internet this has become an especially volatile mix that breeds violence and poses a significant risk to secularism diversity civil liberties democracy and political stability This extremist tide has swept across Asia with tragic results as witnessed by 730 000 Rohingya Muslims driven out of Myanmar 70 000 Kashmiris slaughtered in India and Islamic State affiliates terrorizing Bangladesh Indonesia the Philippines and Sri Lanka Who could have imagined Buddhist monks inciting violence and intolerance or setting themselves on fire Or pious vigilantes beheading atheist bloggers Or clerics defeating and jailing powerful politicians on blasphemy allegations And what explains why one million Uighur Muslims are locked up in China Examining the causes and consequences of these varied phenomena and what they portend Kingston casts a sobering light on the prospects of the Asian Century
