the next decade include urban drainage systems health and education facilities and municipal buildings The main local cobenefit of mitigation will be reduction of air pollution which is among the highest in Europe Particulate matter pollution from industry the power sector and road paving can be abated through better equipment while the other large and unusual source of air pollution the widespread use of wood for heat by urban households can be reduced in the near term by more modern stoves and in the long term by better heating options An economy wide macroeconomic assessment estimates the impact on growth and employment of packages of green growth actions across sectors and provides advice on priorities for public investment Climate investments pose costs upfront but provide benefits both now and later Adaptation interventions which protect tomorrow s output from climate damage are found to be less costly to growth and employment in the short term than mitigation measures which reduce greenhouse gas emissions once sector results are integrated into a general equilibrium model Under a green climate action scenario moderate adaptation measures in agriculture and water and incremental expenses in the climate proofing of physical infrastructure would amount to the equivalent of around 0.1 percent of annual GDP while moderate mitigation measures would require the mobilization of resources constituting about one percent of annual GDP More ambitious climate action under a super green scenario would require water sector investments that reach one percent of GDP by 2015 while mitigation investments require two percent of GDP by 2020 Green climate action would together generate short term losses to national income of more than two percent if financing is mobilized domestically while super green action induces even bigger losses However both moderate and ambitious climate action promise a medium to long term boost in the level of GDP reaching 1.5 to 2 percent by 2050 IBSS: Political Science: 2004 Vol.52 The British Library of Political and Economic Science,2004-12 First published in 1952 the International Bibliography of the Social Sciences anthropology economics political science and sociology is well established as a major bibliographic reference for students researchers and librarians in the social sciences worldwide Key features Authority Rigorous standards are applied to make the IBSS the most authoritative selective bibliography ever produced Articles and books are selected on merit by some of the world s most expert librarians and academics Breadth Today the IBSS covers over 2000 journals more than any other comparable resource The latest monograph publications are also included International Coverage The IBSS reviews scholarship published in over thirty languages including publications from Eastern Europe and the developing world User friendly organization all non English titles are word sections Extensive author subject and place name indexes are provided in both English and French Issues in Industrial, Applied, and Environmental Chemistry: 2013 Edition ,2013-05-01 Issues in Industrial Applied and Environmental Chemistry 2013 Edition is a ScholarlyEditions book that delivers timely authoritative and comprehensive information about Synthetic Organic Chemistry The editors have built Issues in Industrial Applied and Environmental Chemistry 2013 Edition on the vast information databases of ScholarlyNews You can expect the information about Synthetic Organic Chemistry in this book to be deeper than what you can access anywhere else

Sustainable Cities in Asia Federico Caprotti, Li Yu, 2017-08-31 With Asia s cities undergoing unprecedented growth in the 21st century lauded the urban century by many Sustainable Cities in Asia provides a timely examination of the challenges facing cities across the continent including some of the projects approaches and solutions that are currently being tested This book uses numerous case studies analysing topical issues ranging from city cycling in India to green spaces in China to the use of community led energy generation projects in post Fukushima Japan Containing contributions from an international team of scholars it also takes a multi disciplinary approach and draws on examples from a wide range of countries including China India Japan Korea Taiwan Singapore and the United Arab Emirates Ultimately by providing a comprehensive discussion of the broader debates around the shape of sustainable urbanism it demonstrates that Asia is one of the most active regions in terms of the development of sustainable city strategies Tackling the contemporary issues of key importance for sustainability such as property markets migration and transport this book will appeal to students and scholars of Urban Geography Sustainability Environmental Studies and Asian studies

Catalyzing Green Finance Asian Development Bank, 2017-08-01 A large financing need challenges climate adjusted infrastructure in developing Asia estimated at 26 trillion till 2030 This necessitates crowding in private sources to meet financing efficiency and technology gaps However a lack of bankable projects is a major hurdle This publication suggests one possible innovative financing approach The Green Finance Catalyzing Facility GFCF proposes a blended finance framework for governments and development entities to better leverage development funds for risk mitigation generate a pipeline of bankable green infrastructure projects and directly catalyze private finance The GFCF provides useful inputs for the current debate on mainstreaming green finance into country financial systems

South Korean Identity and Global Foreign Policy Patrick Flamm, 2019-05-13 In the 20th century South Korea was usually seen as a shrimp amongst whales a minor player with limited agency in regional and global affairs Korea s risen status as a middle power today however begs the question about related changes in the South Korean identity or sense of self in the world In this book Patrick Flamm presents the first comprehensive and agency oriented empirical account of South Korean international state identity and Seoul s global foreign policy in the 21st century Advancing a performative and narrative understanding of identity in International Relations Flamm uses South Korea s global engagement in peacekeeping and climate diplomacy to offer much needed insight into the various identity narratives and role conceptions at play In the case of peacekeeping and climate diplomacy South Korea s identity as an international actor has been dominated by practices of self identification that position the country at the brink of advanced countries aspiring to lead the rest of the world but with the overall objective to maintain national autonomy in a changing regional and global context South Korean Identity and Global Foreign Policy is a must read for scholars of International Relations Foreign Policy Analysis and Asian Korean Studies
