Through the Mirrors of Science Francesco Coniglione, 2013-05-02 Is the objective that the European Union set itself in 2000 that is to be the most competitive knowledge based society and economy by 2010 still realistic The momentous year has arrived but it is discouraging to note that very few steps have been made in the direction that was fixed What has gone wrong Were the philosophical epistemological and economic conditions adequate to achieve the desired result This book the result of a research project commissioned by the European Commission critically investigates the society of knowledge and the way in which the European Union has proceeded towards it examining first of all the premises and the contributions that the disciplines of Science and Technological Studies can provide In this way we have proposed innovative theoretical and epistemological bases for a multidisciplinary approach making use of the Modelling Approach to Science and therefore insisting on the function that human sciences can have for a society of knowledge that hinges not so much on an industrialist scenario but a humanist one that eschews hyper specialization and instead privileges creativity flexibility imagination and innovation economy
