F. Forest, 2007-06-30 The attacks of September 11 2001 inaugurated a new global era of counterterrorism policy and activity led by the United States Countering Terrorism and Insurgency in the 21st Century analyzes the most significant dimensions of combating terrorism including considerations of strategic and tactical issues hard power soft power and counterintelligence the need to thwart sources and facilitators weak governments ill conceived foreign policy and trafficking in drugs guns and humans and the incorporation of lessons learned thus far from combating terrorism around the globe Since the dawn of the new millennium combating terrorism has become a primary focus of security professionals throughout the world The attacks of September 11 2001 inaugurated a new global era of counterterrorism policy and activity led by the United States while many countries from Algeria and Spain to Sri Lanka and Indonesia have redoubled their efforts to combat their own indigenous terrorism threats In the United States the counterterrorism goals identified in the National Strategy for Combating Terrorism 2006 can only be achieved through significant multinational cooperation These goals are to advance effective democracies as the long term antidote to the ideologies of terrorism to prevent attacks by terrorist networks to deny terrorists the support and sanctuary of rogue states to deny terrorists control of any nation they would use as a base and launching pad for terror and to lay the foundations and build the institutions and structures we need to carry the fight forward against terror and help ensure our ultimate success At this point in the development of the global counterterrorism efforts it is particularly important to pause for reflection on a number of critical questions What do we know about effectively countering terrorism What are the characteristics of successful or unsuccessful counterterrorism campaigns What do we need to learn in order to do this better

Countering Terrorism and Insurgency in the 21st Century addresses these and related questions contributing to national security policy as well as to our understanding of the terrorist threat and how it can be defeated Volume 1 Strategic and Tactical Considerations examines issues of hard power soft power and intelligence counterintelligence Volume 2 Sources and Facilitators covers state failure border controls democracy promotion networks and trade and trafficking and societal issues Volume 3 Lessons Learned from Combating Terrorism and Insurgency includes case studies of counterterrorism operations e g the hijacking of the Achille Lauro the 1993 bombing of the World Trade Center and the capture of key terrorist suspects like Ramzi Youssef and Khalid Sheikh Mohamad and case studies of long term efforts to combat terrorism e g the Basques in Spain the Tamil Tigers in Sri Lanka Israel s struggle against Palestinian terror organizations Peru and Sendero Luminoso and Japan and Aum Shinrikyo

War and Society in Afghanistan Kaushik Roy, 2015-02-12 This monograph analyses the rhythms of war and the geopolitical significance of Afghanistan with a focus on the interrelated concepts of weak rentier state great power rivalry and counter insurgency It analyses why the Mughals the British the Soviets and the Americans won the conventional wars in Afghanistan but were defeated in the unconventional ones. It takes a comprehensive view of the history of the region and provides a political and military narrative of conventional and unconventional war in Afghanistan during the last five centuries. It therefore covers wide ranging aspects such as empire building and military operations in Afghanistan in the pre modern period, regular and irregular warfare in Afghanistan during the British era, the Russian intervention and the emergence of the fragile rentier state after the world war and the American and NATO activities and the nature of on going war in light of the recent debates on the changing character of war in the twenty first century. With a special emphasis on ecology, terrain and logistics, this book explores the trajectory of state building and contextualizes the Afghan problem as part of the wider struggle among the great powers for controlling the heart of Eurasia.

State and Tribe in Nineteenth-Century Afghanistan Christine Noelle, 2012-06-25. With the exception of two short periods of direct British intervention during the Anglo Afghan Wars of 1839-42 and 1878-80, the history of nineteenth century Afghanistan has received little attention from western scholars. This study seeks to shift the focus of debate from the geostrategic concern with Afghanistan as the bone of contention between imperial Russian and British interests to a thorough investigation of the sociopolitical circumstances prevailing within the country. On the basis of unpublished British documents and works by Afghan historians, it lays the groundwork for a better understanding of the political mechanisms at work during the early Muhammadzai era by analysing them both from the viewpoint of the center and the periphery.

The Ecological Bases for Lake and Reservoir Management David M. Harper, 1999-09-30. The Ecological Bases for Lake and Reservoir Management provides a state of the art review of the range of ecologically based techniques necessary for the holistic management of lakes and their catchments. Most of the methods, case studies and national policies reviewed are directed towards management of the largest problem, eutrophication, with the emphasis on the multiple scale approach needed for successful management and restoration. Case studies come from the USA and ten European countries and range from single lakes through to lake districts and national inventories. Several essays precede the practical chapters with thought provoking comments on the political, social and economic climate of water management.

Evapotranspiration in Agro-Ecosystems and Forestry Suat Irmak, 2025-06-01. Evapotranspiration in Agro Ecosystems and Forestry: Spatio-temporal Applications presents the progress and advances made in terms of science and application of evaporation, transpiration and evapotranspiration for various vegetation surfaces, water bodies and bare soil under different soil and crop management including different irrigation and tillage management conditions. Sections on forest and wetlands, evapotranspiration and grassland evaporative losses are included, as are the fundamentals of original Penman, Penman-Monteith, Shuttleworth, Wallace and ASCE, EWRI and FAO56 Penman-Monteith equations and their derivatives. The book is an excellent resource to better understand the progression and applications and dynamics of most recent evapotranspiration, evaporation and transpiration measurement and modeling.

Al Qaeda's Global Crisis V. G. Julie Rajan, 2015-01-30 This book focuses on the crises facing Al Qaeda and how the mass killing of Muslims is challenging its credibility as a leader among Islamist jihadist organizations The book argues that these crises are directly related to Al Qaeda's affiliation with the extreme violence employed against Muslims in Iraq Syria Afghanistan and Pakistan in the decade since 9 11 Al Qaeda's public and private responses to this violence differ greatly While in public Al Qaeda has justified those attacks declaring that for the establishment of a state of true believers they are a necessary evil in private Al Qaeda has been advising its local affiliates to refrain from killing Muslims To better understand the crises facing Al Qaeda the book explores the development of Central Al Qaeda's complex relationship with radical mis appropriations and manifestations of takfir which allows one Muslim to declare another an unbeliever and its unique relationship with each of its affiliates in Iraq Syria Afghanistan and Pakistan The author then goes on to consider how the prominence of takfir is contributing to the deteriorating security in those countries and how this is affecting Al Qaeda's credibility as an Islamist terror organization The book concludes by considering the long term viability of Al Qaeda and how its demise could allow the rise of the even more radical violent Islamic State and the implications this has for the future security of the Middle East North Africa and Central South Asia This book will be of much interest to students of political violence and terrorism Islamism global security and IR
