Pan-Islam in British Indian

Politics M. Naeem Qureshi, 2021-10-11 A correct perspective on the origins and development of pan Islam in British India had eluded writers for years The author treats the subject comprehensively and highlights links between pan Islam and nationalist movements in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries In focus is the Khilafat movement 1918 1924 which with its distinct religio political dynamics aimed at saving Ottoman Turkey from dismemberment as well as securing self government for India Extensively utilizing a variety of archival and other source materials the author unfolds the fascinating story of how in concert with secular forces the pan Islamic appeal was mobilized for political gains in the broader context of the British policy towards Turkey and India The book also examines the gradual transition of Muslim politics from pan Islam to territorial nationalism especially after the Turks abolished the caliphate and the Indians plunged back into communal strife

the world's leading international Islamic organization Turan Kayaoglu provides the first accessible and concise introduction and overview of this important organization. This book details the OIC's struggle to address popular Muslim demands balanced against the member states' reluctance to support the OIC politically and materially. Despite this predicament, the organization has made itself increasingly relevant over the last decade through increasing its visibility as the representative body of Muslim unity and promoting its role as a reliable interlocutor on behalf of Muslims in global society. Outlining the history, workings and goals of the OIC, the book also highlights key issues that may influence the OIC's ability to realize its potential in the future. The Different aspects of Islamic culture Ali, Abdulrahim, Thiam, Iba Der, Talib, Yusof A., 2016-10-17. This series of volumes on the manifold facets of Islamic culture is intended to acquaint a very wide public with the theological bases of its faith, the status of the individual and of society in the Islamic world, its expansion since the Revelation, its cultural manifestations in literature and the arts, and finally Islam today between loyalty to its past and the new challenges of modernity. The last 100 years of Islamic history are examined in the final volume, although the approach is thematic rather than historical. The period considered has seen European colonialism in most of the Islamic world, and Islam has played a major role in the initiation and organization of resistance movements. We survey the groupings and forms of co-operation that have arisen since liberation from colonialism and investigate the political necessity and the moral stand that underlie the unity of the Islamic peoples. Social and economic progress is reviewed and space is devoted to such topics as the ongoing problem of Palestine, moves towards educational reform and the status of women in Islam. As the Islamic world cannot be imagined in isolation, this volume examines the attitude of contemporary Islam towards other religions and cultures and considers efforts aimed at achieving mutual understanding and coexistence in both Muslim and non-Muslim countries.

Pan-Islamic Connections Christophe Jaffrelot, Laurence Louer, 2018-01-15. South Asia is today the region inhabited by the largest number of Muslims, roughly 500 million. In the course of the Islamisation process which began in the eighth century, it developed a distinct Indo-Islamic civilisation that culminated in the Mughal Empire. While paying lip service to the power centres of Islam in the Gulf, including Mecca and Medina, this civilisation has cultivated its own variety of Islam based on Sufism. Over the last fifty years, pan-Islamic ties have intensified between these two regions. Gathering together some of the best specialists on the subject, this volume explores these ideological, educational and spiritual networks which have gained momentum due to political strategies, migration flows and increased communications. At stake are both the resilience of the civilisation that imbued South Asia with a specific identity and the relations between Sunnis and Shias in a region where Saudi Arabia and Iran are fighting a cultural proxy war, as evident in the foreign ramifications of sectarianism in Pakistan. Pan-Islamic Connections investigates the nature and implications of the cultural, spiritual and socio-economic rapprochement between these two Islams.

Modern Islamic Thought in a Radical Age Muhammad Qasim

Zaman,2012-10-15 Among traditionally educated scholars in the Islamic world there is much disagreement on the crises that afflict modern Muslim societies and how best to deal with them and the debates have grown more urgent since 9 11 Through an analysis of the work of Muhammad Rashid Rida and Yusuf al Qaradawi in the Arab Middle East and a number of scholars belonging to the Deobandi orientation in colonial and contemporary South Asia this book examines some of the most important issues facing the Muslim world since the late nineteenth century These include the challenges to the binding claims of a long established scholarly consensus evolving conceptions of the common good and discourses on religious education the legal rights of women social and economic justice and violence and terrorism This wide ranging study by a leading scholar provides the depth and the comparative perspective necessary for an understanding of the ferment that characterizes contemporary Islam

Central Asia In Historical Perspective Beatrice Manz,2018-02-19 Since the demise of Soviet power the newly independent republics are redefining their identities and their relations with the world at large In Central Asia which lies at the crossroads of several cultures the emerging trends are complex and ambiguous In this volume leading experts explore factors that have driven the region s historical development and that continue to define it today Overlapping Islamic Russian and steppe cultures and their impact on attempts to delimit national borders and to create independent states the legacy of Soviet and earlier imperial rule in economic and social relations and the competition between Uzbek Tajik and other group identities The authors make few predictions but their original and thought provoking analyses offer readers new insight into those aspects of Central Asia s past that may shape its future

Crisis of Islamic Civilization Ali A. Allawi,2009-04-28 Islam as a religion is central to the lives of over a billion people but its outer expression as a distinctive civilization has been undergoing a monumental crisis Buffeted by powerful adverse currents Islamic civilization today is a shadow of its former self The most disturbing and possibly fatal of these currents the imperial expansion of the West into Muslim lands and the blast of modernity that accompanied it are now compounded by a third giant wave globalization These forces have increasingly tested Islam and Islamic civilization for validity adaptability and the ability to hold on to the loyalty of Muslims says Ali A Allawi in his provocative new book While the faith has proved resilient in the face of these challenges other aspects of Islamic civilization have atrophied or died Allawi contends and Islamic civilization is now undergoing its last crisis The book explores how Islamic civilization began to unravel under colonial rule as its institutions laws and economies were often replaced by inadequate modern equivalents Allawi also examines the backlash expressed through the increasing religiosity of Muslim societies and the spectacular rise of political

Islam and its terrorist offshoots Assessing the status of each of the building blocks of Islamic civilization the author concludes that Islamic civilization cannot survive without the vital spirituality that underpinned it in the past He identifies a key set of principles for moving forward principles that will surprise some and anger others yet clearly must be considered
