Resource Mobilization and Investment in an Islamic Economic Framework Zaidi Sattar,1990-01-01 The contemporary understanding of economic resources has almost entirely to do with those elements that are capable of meeting either directly or indirectly the needs of mankind These elements or resources both human and natural are the things that every state attempts as a fundamental principle of progress and prosperity to preserve mobilize and invest In the Islamic world in particular this is an issue that occupies a very basic position in all development strategy and planning particularly as in most cases the Islamic world continues to suffer from backwardness and from the adverse effects of the colonialization that was itself one of the major reasons for underdevelopment in the spheres of politics economics and culture

The Global Illusion of Citizen Protection Robert Mandel,2018-07-11 This book comprehensively analyzes the global illusion of citizen protection so common today This text helps students understand a central puzzle in human security which has two distinct components 1 although it might be reasonable to assume that political leaders threat responses would almost always have a decent chance of safeguarding the mass public sometimes they do not exhibiting rhetoric reality gaps and purely symbolic gestures and 2 although the wealth of security information available to the mass public would seem to provide them with the opportunity to gain almost always an accurate picture of existing dangers and state threat responses sometimes citizens evaluation of their own safety is grossly distorted exhibiting an overly extreme sense of helplessness about ongoing threat and an overly extreme sense of skepticism about state protection At first glance it is difficult to comprehend fully why states would often select ineffective means of protecting their citizens assuming the availability of other options when it appears that there are incentives for them to choose effective ones particularly within societies with responsive forms of government and why citizens would often mischaracterize their own security predicament when they have a direct on the ground view of their plight and seem to have incentives to view their own safety accurately In exploring these puzzles through detailed international case study analysis this text investigation consciously deviates from some prevailing orthodox assumptions It calls into question the desirability of the political centrality of state authority and of the prevailing economic and cultural norms in today's world opening up serious questions about when and how existing structures and values contribute to increasing rather than decreasing human insecurity for the average world citizen Echo of Islam, 1995 Islamic Fundamentalism and Islamic Radicalism, 1987-10

The Future of Terrorism Walter Laqueur, Christopher Wall, 2018-07-03 Since the death of bin Laden in 2011 ISIS has risen al Qaeda has expanded its reach and right wing extremists have surged in the United States for the same simple reason terrorism works It's not caused by psychosis or irrationality as the media often suggests Instead it is terrifyingly logical Violent acts produce political results This has been an uncomfortable truth throughout human history from the assassination of Tsar Alexander II through the terror campaigns by Irish and Indian nationalists and on to the Nazis and Italian Fascists Battling terrorism today requires confronting the truth Walter Laqueur and Christopher Wall do so in this crucial timely book To explain why terror is on the rise again the authors show how the American invasion of Iraq created the conditions for the emergence of al Qaeda there part of which metastasized into ISIS while Russia's increasing intervention in Syria allowed both of those organizations to evolve And within the United States the violence of the alt right has emboldened its supporters The Future of Terrorism brings reason to a topic usually ruled by fear Laqueur and Wall show the structural features behind contemporary terrorism how bad governance abets terror the link between poverty and terrorism why religious terrorism is more dangerous than secular and the nature of supposed lone wolf terrorists Fear alone provides no tools to combat the future of terrorism This book does intrusion of globalizing political and economic developments polarized and morally equivalent presentations seen in the media and the sense of surety demanded in and promised by a culture dominated by science are some of the factors that have placed extreme pressure on all religious traditions. This has stimulated unprecedented responses by religious groups ranging from fundamentalism to the syncretistic search for meaning. As religion takes on new forms the balance between individual and community is disrupted and reconfigured. Religions often lose the capacity to recall their ultimate purpose or lead their adherents toward it. This is the situation we call the crisis of the holy. It is a confluence of threats, challenges, and opportunities for all religions. This volume explores the contours of pressures, changes, and transformations and reflects on how all our religions are changing. By identifying commonalities across religions as they respond to these pressures, The Crisis of the Holy recommends ways religious traditions might cope with these changes and how they might join forces in doing so. Contributors: Vincent J. Cornell, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Sidney H. Griffith, Maria Reis Habito, B. Barry Levy, Deepak Sarma, Michael von Brück.

ABOUT VOLUME FIVE The chapters collected in this book, prepared by a think tank of the Elijah Interfaith Academy, address the subject of religious leadership. The subject is of broad relevance in the training of religious leaders and in the practice of religious leadership. As such, it is also germane to religious thought where reflections on religious leadership occupy an important place. What does it mean to be a religious leader in today's world? To what degree are the challenges that confront religious leadership today the same perennial challenges that have arrested the attention of the faithful and their leaders for generations, and to what degree do we encounter challenges today that are unique to our day and age? One dimension is surely unique, and that is the very ability to explore these issues from an interreligious perspective and to consider challenges, opportunities, and strategies across religious traditions. Studying the theme across six faith traditions—Christianity, Islam, Judaism, Sikhism, Hinduism, and Buddhism—The Future of Religious Leadership: World Religions in Conversation recognizes the common challenges to present-day religious leadership. Contributors: Awet Andemicael, Timothy J. Gianotti, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Anantanand Rambachan, Maria Reis Habito, Meir Sender, Balwant Singh Dhillon, Miroslav Volf.

VOLUME SIX One of the biggest challenges for relations between religions is the view of the religious Other. The question touches the roots of our theological views. The Religious Other: Hostility, Hospitality, and the Hope of Human Flourishing explores the views of multiple religious traditions on how to regard otherness. How does one move from hostility to hospitality? How can hospitality be understood, not simply as social hospitality but as theological hospitality, making room for the religious Other on theological grounds? What is our vision for the flourishing of the Other while respecting his otherness? This volume is an exercise in constructive interreligious theology. By including Abrahamic and non-Abrahamic traditions, it approaches these challenges from multiple perspectives, highlighting commonalities in approach and ways in which one tradition might inspire another. Contributors: Vincent J. Cornell, Alon Goshen-Gottstein, Richard P. Hayes, Lord Rabbi Jonathan Sacks, Deepak Sarma, Stephen W. Sykes, Dharma Master Hsin Tao, Ashok Vohra.
