Islands In A Far Sea:

Islands in a Far Sea John L. Culliney, 2005-11-30 First published in 1988 Islands in a Far Sea offers a comprehensive environmental history of Hawai i This thoroughly revised edition begins with an up to date account of the geological formation and shaping of the Islands their colonization by plants and animals and the patterns of ecology and evolution that unfolded in nurturing seas and on breath taking landscapes This book tells the story of human interaction with Hawai i s native landscapes and rich biological heritage The author s accessible language allows readers to grasp basic geological and biological principles and to understand the perhaps surprising vulnerability of Hawaiian ecosystems which have coevolved with volcanoes to human impact Islands in a Far Sea includes many well documented historical examples of such impacts featuring growth and greed fears and foibles as humans confronted endemic nature in Hawai i Citing a large array of sources the author makes it possible for interested readers to probe more deeply the changes in natural systems that have ensued on all of the Hawaiian Islands To date the result has been the tragic reduction of a unique and benign biota However the book holds out hope that current efforts to protect what is left of Hawai i s flora and fauna in their remaining wild settings may yet succeed

Christianity Reborn Donald M. Lewis, 2004 Christianity Reborn provides the first transnational in depth analysis of the global expansion of evangelical Protestantism during the past century While the growth of evangelical Christianity in the non Western world has already been documented the significance of this book lies in its scholarly treatment of that phenomenon Written by prominent historians of religion these chapters explore the expansion of evangelical including charismatic Christianity in non English speaking lands with special reference to dynamic indigenous responses The range of locations covered includes western and southern Africa eastern and southern Asia Latin America and Oceania The concluding essay provides a sociological account of evangelicalism s success highlighting its ability to create a multiplicity of faith communities suited to very different ethnic racial and geographical regions At a time of great interest in the growth of Christianity in the non Western world this volume makes an important contribution to our understanding of what may be another turning point in the historical development of evangelical faith Contributors Marthinus L Daneel Allan K Davidson Paul Freston Robert Eric Frykenberg Jehu J Hanciles Philip Yuen sang Leung Donald M Lewis David Martin Mark A Noll Brian Stanley W R Ward

The Condor's Shadow David S. Wilcove, 2000-05-09 With gripping narrative power The Condor s Shadow traces the ways in which human greed and ignorance have wreaked havoc on our ecological landscape The heir apparent to Peter Matthiessen s 1959 classic Wildlife in America The Condor s Shadow is a brilliant and compulsively readable study of the state of North American wildlife and what is being done to reverse the damage humans have caused With equal respect for the smallest feather mite and the fiercest grizzly the frailest flower and the stateliest redwood David S Wilcove illustrates in jargon free often witty prose nature s delicate system of checks and balances examining the factors that determine a species vulnerability and the consequences of losing even the tiniest part of any ecosystem An examination of both the heart wrenching failures and stunning successes of our conservation efforts The Condor's Shadow chronicles the destruction and resilience of our American wilderness and offers an insightful eloquent overview that will appeal to avid conservationists and recreational nature lovers alike

Crossroads of Colonial Cultures Gesine Müller, 2018-04-23 The study examines cultural effects of various colonial systems of government in the Spanish and French speaking Caribbean in a little investigated period of transition from the French Revolution to the abolition of slavery in Cuba 1789-1886 The comparison of cultural transfer processes by means of literary production from and about the Caribbean embedded in a broader context of the circulation of culture and knowledge deciphers the different transculturations of European discourses in the colonies as well as the repercussions of these transculturations on the motherland's ideas of the colonial other The loss of a culturally binding centre in the case of the Spanish colonies in contrast to France's strong presence and binding force is accompanied by a multirelationality which increasingly shapes hispanophone Caribbean literature and promotes the pursuit for political independence The book provides necessary revision to the idea that the 19th century Caribbean can only be understood as an outpost of the European metropolises Examining the kaleidoscope of the colonial Caribbean opens new insights into the early processes of cultural globalisation and questions our established concept of a genuine western modernity Updated and expanded translation of Die koloniale Karibik Transferprozesse in hispanophonen und frankophonen Literaturen De Gruyter Mimesis 53 2012

The Aesthetics of Island Space Johannes Riquet, 2019 This volume studies the spatial poetics of islands as depicted in literature the journals of explorers and scientists and in film It shows how voyages of discovery posed challenges to the experience of space and how such challenges were negotiated via poetic engagement with islands

Asian and Pacific Cosmopolitans K. Robinson, 2007-11-06 This new collection of essays explores questions of subjectification selfhood and identity in the contemporary Asia Pacific examining the way that migrant lives express the complex interplay of local and global processes in the post Cold War era and collectively questioning the novelty of the global age in this region

Nature Across Cultures Helaine Selin, 2013-04-17 Nature Across Cultures Views of Nature and the Environment in Non Western Cultures consists of about 25 essays dealing with the environmental knowledge and beliefs of cultures outside of the United States and Europe In addition to articles surveying Islamic Chinese Native American Aboriginal Australian Indian Thai and Andean views of nature and the environment among others the book includes essays on Environmentalism and Images of the Other Traditional Ecological Knowledge Worldviews and Ecology Rethinking the Western non Western Divide and Landscape Nature and Culture The essays address the connections between nature and culture and relate the environmental practices to the cultures which produced them Each essay contains an extensive bibliography Because the geographic range is global the book fills a gap in both environmental history and in cultural studies It should find a place on the bookshelves of advanced undergraduate students graduate students and scholars as well as in libraries serving those groups

Islands in Geography, Law, and Literature Chiara Battisti, Sidia Fiorato, Matteo

Nicolini, Thomas Perrin, 2022-04-04 This collection explores the heterogeneous places we have traditionally been taught to term islands It stages a conversation on the very idea of island ness thus contributing to a new field of research at the crossroads of law geography literature urban planning politics arts and cultural studies The contributions to this volume discuss the notion of island ness as a device triggering the imagination triggering narratives and representations in different creative fields they explore the interactions between legal socio political and fictional approaches to remoteness and the state of insularity policy responses to both remoteness and boundaries on different scales and the insular legal framing of geographical remoteness The product of a cross disciplinary exchange on islands this edited volume will be of great interest to those working in the fields of Island Studies as well as literary studies scholars geographers and legal scholars Cirpit Review. German as Contact Zone Russell West-Pavlov,2019-09-09 This book suggests that linguistic translation is one minute province of an immense process of creative activity that constitutes the world as an ongoing dynamism of unceasing transformation Building upon the speculative quantum gravity theory which provides a narrative of the push pull dynamics of transformative translation from the very smallest scales of reality to the very greatest this book argues that the so called translatative turn of the 1990s was correct in positing translation as a paradigmatic concept of transformation More radically the book stages a provocative provincialization of linguistic translation so that literary translation in particular is shown to display a remarkable awareness of its own participation in a larger creative contact zone As a result the German language literary translations in and out of German and the German language classroom can be understood respectively as quantum contact zones Russell West Pavlov is Professor of Anglophone Literatures at the University of T bingen and Research Associate at the University of Pretoria

Desert Islands and the Liquid Modern Barney Samson,2020-11-21 This book investigates desert islands in postwar anglophone popular culture exploring representations in radio print and screen advertising magazine cartoons cinema video games and comedy drama and reality television Drawing on Zygmunt Bauman s theory of liquid modernity desert island texts are analysed in terms of their intersections with repressive and seductive mechanisms of power Chapters focus on the desert island as a conflictually incoherent space that characterises identity as deferred and structured by choice a location whose remoteness undermines satirical critiques of communal identity formation a site whose ambivalent relationship with home and Otherness destabilises patriarchal Western subjectivity a space bound up with mobility and instantaneity and an expression of radical individuality and underdetermined identity The desert island in popular culture is shown to reflect endorse and critique a profoundly consumerist society that seduces us with promises of coherence with the threat of repression looming if we do not conform

The Routledge International Handbook of Island Studies Godfrey Baldacchino,2018-06-13 From tourist paradises to immigrant detention camps from offshore finance centres to strategic military bases islands offer distinct identities and spaces in an increasingly homogenous and placeless world The study of islands is important for its own sake and on its own terms But so is the notion that the island is a laboratory a place for developing and testing ideas and from which lessons can be learned and applied elsewhere The Routledge International

Handbook of Island Studies is a global research based and pluri disciplinary overview of the study of islands Its chapters deal with the contribution of islands to literature social science and natural science as well as other applied areas of inquiry The collated expertise of interdisciplinary and international scholars offers unique insights individual chapters dwell on geomorphology zoology and evolutionary biology the history sociology economics and politics of island communities tourism wellbeing and migration as well as island branding resilience and commoning The text also offers pioneering forays into the study of islands that are cities along rivers or artificial constructions This insightful Handbook will appeal to geographers environmentalists sociologists political scientists and one hopes some of the 600 million or so people who live on islands or are interested in the rich dynamics of islands and island life Ceramics Before Farming Peter Jordan,Marek

Zvelebil,2016-06-03 A long overdue advancement in ceramic studies this volume sheds new light on the adoption and dispersal of pottery by non agricultural societies of prehistoric Eurasia Major contributions from Western Europe Eastern Europe and Asia make this a truly international work that brings together different theories and material for the first time Researchers and scholars studying the origins and dispersal of pottery the prehistoric peoples of Eurasia and flow of ancient technologies will all benefit from this book Writing Islands Elena Lahr-Vivaz,2022-10-25 How contemporary Cuban writers build transnational communities In Writing Islands Elena Lahr Vivaz employs methods from archipelagic studies to analyze works of contemporary Cuban writers on the island alongside those in exile Offering a new lens to explore the multiplicity of Cuban space and identity she argues that these writers approach their nation as part of a larger transnational network of islands Introducing the term arcubi lago to describe the spaces created by Cuban writers both on the ground and in print Lahr Vivaz illuminates how transnational communities are forged and how they function across space and time Lahr Vivaz considers how poets novelists and essayists of the 1990s and 2000s built interconnected communities of readers through blogs state sponsored book fairs informal methods of book circulation and intertextual dialogues Book chapters offer in depth analyses of the works of writers as different as Reina Mar a Rodr guez known for lyrical poetry and Zo Vald s known for strident critiques of Fidel Castro Incorporating insights from on site interviews in Cuba Spain and the United States Lahr Vivaz analyzes how writers maintained connections materially through the distribution of works and metaphorically as their texts bridge spaces separated by geopolitics Through a decolonizing methodology that resists limiting Cuba to a distinct geographic space Writing Islands investigates the nuances of Cuban identity the creation of alternate spaces of identity the potential of the Internet for artistic expression and the transnational bonds that join far flung communities Publication of this work made possible by a Sustaining the Humanities through the American Rescue Plan grant from the National Endowment for the Humanities Sea Change Christina Gerhardt,2023-05-23 Low lying island nations are least responsible for global warming but they are already suffering its impacts severely and disproportionately According to the International Panel on Climate Change island nations are responsible for 0.03% of global emissions A weave of essays maps poems and illustrations

Sea Change presents the impacts of and solutions to sea level rise An essay drawing on interviews scientific reports academic scholarship and archival research shares their histories present day challenges and efforts toward livable futures A map shows the inundation zones Poems breathe life into the analysis Indigenous Bodies Jacqueline Fear-Segal, Rebecca Tillett, 2013-09-30 This interdisciplinary collection of essays by both Natives and non Natives explores presentations and representations of indigenous bodies in historical and contemporary contexts Recent decades have seen a wealth of scholarship on the body in a wide range of disciplines Indigenous Bodies extends this scholarship in exciting new ways bringing together the disciplinary expertise of Native studies scholars from around the world The book is particularly concerned with the Native body as a site of persistent fascination colonial oppression and indigenous agency along with the endurance of these legacies within Native communities At the core of this collection lies a dual commitment to exposing numerous and diverse disempowerments of indigenous peoples and to recognizing the many ways in which these same people retained and or reclaimed agency Issues of reviewing relocating and reclaiming bodies are examined in the chapters which are paired to bring to light juxtapositions and connections and further the transnational development of indigenous studies Island Geographies Elaine Stratford, 2016-11-03 Islands and their environs aerial terrestrial aquatic may be understood as intensifiers their particular and distinctive geographies enabling concentrated study of many kinds of challenges and opportunities This edited collection brings together several emerging and established academics with expertise in island studies as well as interest in geopolitics governance adaptive capacity justice equity self determination environmental care and protection and land management Individually and together their perspectives provide theoretically useful empirically grounded evidence of the contributions human geographers can make to knowledge and understanding of island places and the place of islands Nine chapters engage with the themes issues and ideas that characterise the borderlands between island studies and human geography and allied fields and are contributed by authors for whom matters of place space environment and scale are key and for whom islands hold an abiding fascination The penultimate chapter is rather more experimental a conversation among these authors and the editor while the last chapter offers timely reflections upon island geographies past and future penned by the first named professor of island geography Stephen Royle
