Explorations of the Life-World M. Endress, George Psathas, H. Nasu, 2005-06-22 This anthology originated from three conferences which were held at Waseda University Tokyo Japan on March 26 28 1999 at the University of Konstanz Germany on May 26 29 1999 and a session at the SPHS annual meeting at the University of Oregon USA on October 5 7 1999 With one exception the contributions to this volume are revised versions of papers read at these meetings Each of these conferences took place in order to celebrate the centennial of the birthday of Alfred Schutz who was born April 13 1899 and died May 20 1959 First of all we would like to thank Evelyn Schutz Lang the daughter of Alfred and Ilse Schutz for her continuing support and encouragement Moreover Evelyn Schutz Lang as well as Claudia Schutz the granddaughter of Alfred and Ilse Schutz and the daughter of his son George gave us the honor of visiting the Konstanz conference in 1999 Evelyn also came to the Oregon conference and sent her personal greetings to those attending the Tokyo conference We would like to thank Waseda University the Waseda Sociological Association the Waseda University International Conference Center and the Center for Research in Human Sciences in Japan for their generous financial support as well as the German Research Council Deutsche Forschungsgemeinschaft the University of Konstanz the Alfred Schutz Memorial Archives in Konstanz and the Sparkasse Konstanz for their considerable financial assistance in making the conferences possible The Palgrave Handbook of Macrophenomenology and Social Theory Carlos Belvedere, Alexis Gros, 2023-08-14 This Palgrave Handbook showcases how the phenomenological approach especially but not only as developed by Alfred Schutz can make important contributions to the theoretical analysis of macro social phenomena such as the state history culture and interculturality class relations and struggles social movements and protests capitalism democracy and digitalization processes It gathers systematically and intellectually historically oriented chapters that deal with these macro social phenomena from a phenomenological perspective This handbook is mainly intended for a threefold audience sociologists and social scientists at large both theoretically and empirically oriented phenomenological sociologists and phenomenological philosophers This book includes chapters by international renowned specialists in social theory phenomenological sociology and phenomenology Hartmut Rosa University of Jena Michael Barber St Louis University Thomas Eberle University of St Gallen Roberto Walton Universidad de Buenos Aires Jochen Dreher University of Konstanz Chung Chi YU National Sun Yat sen University Taiwan and George Bondor Al I Cuza University of Iasi Romania among others Hasidism, Suffering, and Renewal Don Seeman, Daniel Reiser, Ariel Evan Mayse, 2021-06-01 Kalonymus Kalman Shapira 1889 1943 was a remarkable Hasidic mystic leader and educator He confronted the secularization and dislocation of Polish Jews after World War I the failure of the traditional educational system and the devastation of the Holocaust in which he lost all his close family and eventually his own life Thanks to a new critical edition of his Warsaw Ghetto sermons scholars have begun to reassess the relationship between Shapira's literary and educational attainments his prewar mysticism and his Holocaust experience and to reexamine the question of faith or its collapse in the Warsaw Ghetto This interdisciplinary volume the first such work devoted to a twentieth century Hasidic leader integrates social and intellectual history along with theological literary and anthropological analyses of Shapira's legacy It raises theoretical and methodological questions related to the study of Jewish thought and mysticism but also contributes to contemporary conversations about topics such as spiritual renewal and radical religious experience the literature of suffering and perhaps most pressingly the question of faith and meaning or their rupture in the wake of genocide

Interaction and Everyday Life Hisashi Nasu, Frances Chaput Waksler, 2012-08-17 Phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology have many adherents and practitioners throughout the world The international character of interest in these two areas is exemplified by the papers in this book which come from scholars in Canada France Germany Japan South Korea Switzerland and the United States They exemplify the kinds of theoretical and research issues that arise in seeking to explore the social world in ways that respect what Edmund Husserl referred to as the original right of all data The papers were inspired in various ways by the work of George Psathas Professor Emeritus Boston University a renowned phenomenological sociologist and ethnomethodologist and a fundamental contributor to phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology movements both in the United States and throughout the world The collection consists of three parts Phenomenology Sociology as an Intellectual Movement Phenomenological Considerations and Ethnomethodological Explorations reflecting areas to which Professor Psathas has made significant contributions A phenomenological sociology movement in the US is examined as an intellectual movement in itself and as it is influenced by a leader's participation both as scholar and as teacher Phenomenological sociology's efficacy and potential are discussed in terms of a broad range of theoretical and empirical issues methodology similarities and differences between phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology embodied sociality power trust friendship face to face interaction and interactions between children and adults Theoretical articles addressing fundamental features of ethnomethodology its development and its relation to process relational philosophy are balanced by empirical articles founded on authors' original ethnomethodological research activities of direction giving and direction following accounts for organizational deviance garden lessons doing being friends and the crafting of musical time Through these papers readers can come to understand the theoretical development of phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology appreciate their achievements and their promise and find inspiration to pursue their own work in phenomenological sociology and ethnomethodology

Everyday Information Practices Reijo Savolainen, 2008 In general information practices are viewed as tools that people use to further their everyday projects Essentially information practices draw on personal stocks of knowledge that form the habitual starting point of information seeking use and sharing To judge the value of information available in external sources like newspapers and the Internet people construct information source horizons assigning an order of preference to information sources and information seeking paths such as first check the net then visit the library

Political Phenomenology Hwa Yol Jung, Lester

Embree,2016-06-13 This volume presents political phenomenology as a new specialty in western philosophical and political thought that is post classical post Machiavellian and post behavioral It draws on history and sets the agenda for future explorations of political issues It discloses crossroads between ethics and politics and explores border crossing issues All the essays in this volume challenge existing ideas of politics significantly As such they open new ways for further explorations BY future generations of phenomenologists and non phenomenologists alike Moreover the comprehensive chronological bibliography is unprecedented and provides not only an excellent picture of what phenomenologists have already done but also a guide for the future The Golden Age of Phenomenology at the New School for Social Research, 1954-1973

Lester Embree,Michael D. Barber,2017-09-11 This collection focuses on the introduction of phenomenology to the United States by the community of scholars who taught and studied at the New School for Social Research from 1954 through 1973 During those years Dorion Cairns Alfred Schutz and Aron Gurwitsch all former students of Edmund Husserl came together in the department of philosophy to establish the first locus of phenomenology scholarship in the country This founding trio was soon joined by three other prominent scholars in the field Werner Marx Thomas M Seebohm and J N Mohanty The Husserlian phenomenology that they brought to the New School has subsequently spread through the Anglophone world as the tradition of Continental philosophy The first part of this volume includes original works by each of these six influential teachers of phenomenology introduced either by one of their students or in the case of Seebohm and Mohanty by the thinkers themselves The second part comprises contributions from twelve leading scholars of phenomenology who trained at the New School during this period The result is a powerful document tracing the lineage and development of phenomenology in the North American context written by members of the first two generations of scholars who shaped the field Contributors Michael Barber Lester Embree Jorge Garc a G mez Fred Kersten Thomas M T Luckmann William McKenna J N Mohanty Giuseppina C Moneta Thomas Nenon George Psathas Osborne P Wiggins Matthew M Seebohm and Richard M Zaner Ethnographic

Inquiry and Lived Experience Wing-Chung Ho,2019-01-15 Ho addresses two fundamental theoretical questions about how best to practice ethnographic inquiries to obtain qualitative experience near and shareable accounts of human living The first question is regarding the epistemology of ethnography Ho posits that writing is epistemologically prior to the researcher s fieldwork experience in the production of ethnographic knowledge This stance is developed using the theories of hermeneutics put forward by Paul Ricoeur and Hans Georg Gadamer who both consider that once a text is produced its meaning is dissociated from the intention of the author The second question is what is the putative object that the ethnographer writes about Ho argues that lived experience Erlebnis offers such an ethnographic object Since the lived experience that an ethnographer experiences during fieldwork cannot be studied directly further theorizations of lived experience are necessary Ho underscores both the non discursivity and transcendence of lived experience in the lifeworld and the way power is clandestinely imbued in everyday life in shaping subjectivity and practice This theorization brings together Alfred Schutz's lifeworld theory and Michel Foucault's power knowledge nexus. The result is a general theory of experience that is pertinent for ethnographic inquiries. By addressing these two fundamental questions and offering novel angles from which to answer them, this book offers refreshed epistemological guidelines for conducting ethnographic research for scientific reasoning. More importantly, this book also provides a crucial knowledge base for comprehending the current epistemological debates inherent in the production of ethnographic knowledge and furthering discussions in the field.

The Railway and Modernity Matthew Beaumont, Michael J. Freeman, 2007. Most research and writing on railway history has been undertaken in a way that disconnects it from the wider cultural milieu. Authors have been very effective at constructing specialist histories of transport but have failed to register the railway's central importance in the representation and understanding of modernity. This book brings together contributions from a range of established scholars in a variety of disciplines with the central purpose of exploring the railway less as a transport technology than as a key signifier of capitalist modernity. It examines the complex social relations in which the railway became historically embedded, identifying it as a central problematic in the cultural experience of modernity. It avoids the limitations of both the close-sighted empiricism typical of many transport historians and the long-sighted generalizations of cultural commentators who view the railway merely as a shorthand for the concept of progress over the nineteenth and twentieth centuries. The book draws on a diverse range of materials including literary and historical forms of representation. It is also informed by a creative application of various critical theories.

Contemporary Social Theory Roger Salerno, 2020-07-24. Contemporary Social Theory helps students explore, describe, and discuss how social theory relates to their own experiences, popular culture, and the world in which they live. It advances the view that new theory can be effectively used to assess social and cultural phenomena. The text identifies the important intellectual movements, categories, and paradigms that have occurred in the study of social theory. It also looks at issues closely related to contemporary social theory, such as the postmodern condition, globalization, postcolonialism, inequality, gender, race, and human sexuality.

Music Teacher Identities Elizabeth Bucura, 2022. Based on findings of an in-depth social phenomenological study, this book describes the experiences of music teachers whose careers are rich, complex, and multi-faceted. Stories of their professional enactments contribute rich considerations in music teacher identity discourse and to the construction of their professional selves. Analysis revealed an overall sense of professional self and various degrees of three role-taking selves: performing, teaching, and musical. Findings suggest that an active, purposeful construction of consociate relationships can support a balanced, reconciled conception of self which promotes flexibility within and among structures of the lifeworld and profession. Individuals' social worlds are highlighted in terms of ways they shape social and professional worlds. With a wide view of who music teachers are and what they do, this book reveals insights to the supports needed to enact a long, satisfying career.

Social Movements Dieter Rucht, 2023. Dieter Rucht offers a theoretically and historically informed approach to social movements as a phenomenon of modern societies. He links the analysis of social movements to general theories of society and processes of social change and combines three basic perspectives interactionist constructivist and process oriented ICP approach      Schutzian Research vol. 5 / 2013 Michael Barber,2013-01-01 Nu s au introdus date      Victims of Political Violence and Terrorism William McGowan,2022-02-22 This book examines the survivors of political violence and terrorism considering both how they have responded and how they have been responded to following critical incidents As this work demonstrates survivors of comparatively rare and spectacular violence hold a mirror up to society s normative assumptions around trauma recovery and resilience Drawing on two years of observational field research with a British NGO who work with victims and former perpetrators of PVT this book explores contested notions of resilience and what it might mean for those negotiating the aftermaths of violence Examining knowledge about resilience from a multitude of sources including security policy media academic literature and the survivors themselves this book contends that in order to make empirical sense of resilience we must reckon with both its discursive and practical manifestations An accessible and compelling read this book will appeal to students and scholars of criminology sociology victimology criminal justice and all those interested in the stories of survivors      Nationhood at Work Dave Poitras,2019-01-23 How do nations continue to be made on a daily basis In this important contribution to nationalism studies Dave Poitras explores how nationhood and the idea of living in a world of nations are experienced in the cities of Montreal and Brussels Drawing on ethnographic research he identifies three typical ways of enacting nationhood in workplaces thereby capturing the various dynamics through which non political actors do nationhood In particular Dave Poitras examines the distinct mechanisms whereby nations are made and demonstrates how individuals everyday activities legitimize Montreal s and Brussels s unique social constellation within their respective federal state      Husserl's Crisis of the European Sciences and Transcendental Phenomenology Dermot Moran,2012-08-23 This volume explains Husserl s diagnosis of threats to the West and his hope for a phenomenological response to renew humanity      Indigenous Research Knowledges and Their Place in the Academy Bindi Bennett,Kelly Menzel,2025-07-24 This book privileges Indigenous ways of knowing being and doing in research and serves as a voice in taking on some of the more marginal topics within methodologies It is significant in that it is written by indigenous scholars themselves The contributors shed light for example on Queer BlaQ bodies and place Indigenous women as central in reimagining fair academic practice others return to their foundational texts to reflect on the growth of Indigenous Standpoint Theory This book sees Indigenous Peoples as holding greater significance within research objectives and institutional practices and reimagines a research world embracing storytelling as foundational to academia It is intended for students and early researchers particularly Indigenous researchers whilst also serving as an invaluable textbook for non Indigenous people as it aids in explaining and outlining Indigenous research and is a valuable tool in the classroom and with research students It demonstrates that Indigenous research approaches can sit beside and be equal to Western research especially when engaging with the ethics process and for PhD students This book is invaluable for non Indigenous allies and researchers globally to further explain and outline Aboriginal Australian Indigenous research

Contestation in Civil Society Stefanie Pukallus,2025-04-22 Contestation in Civil Society looks at the dynamic relationship between noise listening and civil action as the key to understanding how societies communicatively make decisions about their internal and external boundaries By focusing on the three components of noise listening and civil action the book moves attention away from an exclusive focus on what is being communicated the communicator the statement the speech and so on It argues that what is being communicated the noise does not lead in and of itself to civil action but rather that the audience the listeners plays a crucial role in determining what the noise means whether it is judged legitimate or not and whether any civil action should be taken Exploring how the relationship between noise listening and civil action plays out within the context of contestation will interest academics and scholars of political studies political philosophy communication sociology media and cultural studies

The Oxford Handbook of Austrian Economics Peter J. Boettke,Christopher J. Coyne,2015-09-01 The Austrian School of Economics is an intellectual tradition in economics and political economy dating back to Carl Menger in the late 19th century Menger stressed the subjective nature of value in the individual decision calculus Individual choices are indeed made on the margin but the evaluations of rank ordering of ends sought in the act of choice are subjective to individual chooser For Menger the economic calculus was about scarce means being deployed to pursue an individual s highest valued ends The act of choice is guided by subjective assessments of the individual and is open ended as the individual is constantly discovering what ends to pursue and learning the most effective way to use the means available to satisfy those ends This school of economic thinking spread outside of Austria to the rest of Europe and the United States in the early 20th century and continued to develop and gain followers establishing itself as a major stream of heterodox economics The Oxford Handbook of Austrian Economics provides an overview of this school and its theories The various contributions discussed in this book all reflect a tension between the Austrian School s orthodox argumentative structure rational choice and invisible hand and its addressing of a heterodox problem situations uncertainty differential knowledge ceaseless change The Austrian economists from the founders to today seek to derive the invisible hand theorem from the rational choice postulate via institutional analysis in a persistent and consistent manner Scholars and students working in the field of History of Economic Thought those following heterodox approaches and those both familiar with the Austrian School or looking to learn more will find much to learn in this comprehensive volume

Interpretive Social Research Gabriele Rosenthal,2018 This volume is a clear introduction to methods of data collection and analysis in the social sciences with a special focus on interpretive methods based on a logic of discovering hypotheses and grounded theories The chief methods presented are participant observation open interviews and biographical case reconstruction The special advantages of interpretive methods as against other qualitative methods are revealed by comparing them to content analysis Empirical examples show how the methods presented can be implemented in practice and concrete problems connected with conducting empirical research are discussed By presenting individual case studies the author shows how to apply the principle of openness when collecting empirical data whether through interviews or observations and she offers rules for analysis based on the principles of reconstruction and sequentiality
