Understatements and Hedges in English Axel

Hübler, 1983-01-01 The goal of this monograph is a comprehensive analysis of understatements and other forms of non direct speech hedges in modern English It is based on a multi level approach including philosophical cultural and socio psychological arguments The main part consists of an investigation of the linguistic restrictions for understatements and hedges to be formed by means of the following grammatical categories negation of predicates gradation of predicates modalization of affirmative sentences by means of parenthetical verbs modal adverbs modal verbs and questions The Anthropology of Self and Behavior Gerald Michael Erchak, 1992 Gerald Erchak s engaging book stakes out a position in the field of psychological anthropology He addresses himself primarily to students in the field and also to specialists who want a clearly presented approach He argues that culture shapes the human self and behavior and that the self and behavior are in turn adapted to culture After defining basic concepts and debates in the field Erchak takes up the topics of socialization gender sexuality collective behavior national character deviance behavioral disorder cognition and emotion This new textbook contains more material about sexuality and gender than any other such text For Erhcak psychocultural adaptation is basic to human life Culture plays a central role in our behavior and survival Each chapter reviews the literature not as a scholar would but rather to provide an overview of central issues in the field Each chapter also provides case material some of which is drawn from Erchak s own work on West African socialization Micronesian social change family violence initiation rites and alcoholism His examples are drawn from the U S as well as non Western cultures This book will be of particular interest to teachers looking for new texts for undergraduate courses in anthropology psychology and sociology

Reclaiming English Kinship Mary Bouquet, 1993 Mary Bouquet argues that while writing off the idea of kinship in English culture anthropologists of the British school absorbed the notion of pedigree into their analysis it runs through the genealogical method which they used to conceptualise the organisation of other societies She shows how British anthropological ideas about other cultures thus have their own cultural specificity A brief comparison with the French ethnological approach to kinship indicates some differences of emphasis The English in Love Claire

Langhamer, 2013-08-22 The intimate history of love marriage and emotional revolution in twentieth century Britain The English and Violence Since 1750 Clive Emsley, 2007-01-20 Hard Men is the leading authority on Britain s historic culture of violence It is dispassionate in tone and includes discussion of domestic violence against women and political protest An

Historical Syntax of the English Language Fredericus Theodorus Visser, 2002 The aim of this study is to provide an outline of the development from the earliest times to the present day of all the English syntactical constructions with a verbal form as their nucleus Professor Visser s description is based on a very extensive collection of documentary material covering every kind of writing in prose and poetry in the Old Middle and Modern periods drawing on quotations illustrating syntactical phenomena in Bosworth Toller O E D M M E D E D D and D O S T but also making reference to obsolete usages not found in any grammar and to the views of English and American grammarians of the 17th 18th and 19th centuries on the various syntactical constructions The volumes of this work originally appeared in the early sixties and seventies and were well received by readers and reviewers Volumes 1 and 2 underwent correction in the light of these early reactions We should like to think that this work will continue to be available to the scholarly world without great increases in the price We are however only reprinting the individual volumes in small numbers and so we have decided that in order to guarantee a consistent reprint and pricing policy for the future the work should be available henceforth only as a set of four volumes

An Historical Syntax of the English Language F.Th. Visser, 2023-05-08 Frederik Theodor Visser's An Historical Syntax of the English Language published in four massive volumes between 1963 and 1973 is certainly one of the cornerstones of research in English linguistics Visser's achievements can hardly be overestimated Before the advent of modern corpus linguistics he compiled a remarkable wealth of detailed philological data from all periods of English and combined this with current grammatical analyses of his time This has made this publication an indispensable resource for anyone investigating the history of English syntax This reproduction of Visser's volumes is more than welcome and timely as the volumes have been out of print for quite some time and were sometimes a little bit difficult to navigate Having a searchable and easy to use online version although maybe not perfect available now means a revival for scholarship that celebrates its fiftieth birthday without losing any of its relevance

Family Britain, 1951-1957 David Kynaston, 2010-12-01 As in his highly acclaimed Austerity Britain David Kynaston invokes an astonishing array of vivid intimate and unselfconscious voices to drive his narrative of 1950s Britain The keen eyed Nella Last shops assiduously at Barrow Market as austerity and rationing gradually give way to relative abundance housewife Judy Haines relishing the detail of suburban life brings up her children in Chingford the self absorbed civil servant Henry St John perfects the art of grumbling These and many other voices give a rich unsentimental picture of everyday life in the 1950s Well known figures are encountered on the way such as Doris Lessing joining and later leaving the Communist Party John Arlott sticking up on Any Questions for the rights of homosexuals and Tiger's Roy of the Rovers making his goal scoring debut for Manchester All this is part of a colourful unfolding tapestry in which the great national events the Tories returning to power the death of George VI the Coronation of Queen Elizabeth the Suez Crisis jostle alongside everything that gave Britain in the 1950s its distinctive flavour Butlin's holiday camps Kenwood food mixers Hancock's Half Hour Ekco television sets Davy Crockett skiffle and teddy boys Deeply researched David Kynaston's Family Britain offers an unrivalled take on a largely cohesive ordered still very hierarchical society gratefully starting to move away from the painful hardships of the 1940s towards domestic ease and affluence
