Physiological Researches on Life and Death Xavier Bichat, 1815      Physiological Researches on Life and Death Xavier Bichat, 2020-08-04 Reproduction of the original Physiological Researches on Life and Death by Xavier Bichat      Life and Death Rays Alan Perkins, 2021-07-05 This unique book provides an accessible introduction to both the scientific background and the key people involved in the discovery and use of radiation and radioactivity. It begins by providing a short history of radiation exposures and radiation poisoning from the early inappropriate use of X rays and radium cures through the misadventures of the Manhattan Project and the Chernobyl disaster to the high profile and deliberate poisoning of Alexander Litvinenko in London with polonium 210 which gave rise to worldwide media attention. The chapters provide a catalogue of deliberate criminal acts, unfortunate accidents and inadvertent radiation exposures exploring well known events in detail as well as some not so well known occurrences. It works through the topics by focusing on human stories and events and their biological impact. In addition, it covers descriptions of the beneficial uses of radiation and radioactivity. This book can be enjoyed by any reader with a general interest in science as well as by students and professionals within the scientific and medical communities. Key features: Authored by a subject area specialist who has worked in both clinical practice and academia and was involved with the national media following incidents of national and international importance. Provides a unique human perspective into well known and some lesser known events and a concise history of the discovery of radiation and the events that followed. Adds scientific and medical background to a subject of high media interest.      The Somatechnics of Life and Death Elizabeth Stephens, Karin Sellberg, 2021-03-16 What is life and how do we define its boundaries? Is life immeasurable or are there levels of liveliness? How should we relate to entities that are not technically alive at all? As the world becomes increasingly technologized, questions about what counts as life and living have become a key field of inquiry in contemporary philosophical and arts discourse. As Mel Chen acknowledges in Animacies (2012), the continued rethinking of life and death's proper boundaries has increasingly been recognized as a priority in twenty-first century North American, European and Australasian critical theory. Indeed, the contributors of this volume go as far as to argue that the question of life has become the central problematic of recent feminist biopolitics alongside discussions of scientific ethics and technological/organic power relationships. This volume explores points of intersection and divergence between critical conceptions of time and technology, drawing on a range of perspectives and approaches to examine our mediated and material embodied entanglements with key questions about life and death. It is a significant new contribution to the study of corporeality in gender studies and feminism and will be of interest to academics, researchers and advanced students of philosophy, gender studies, literary theory and politics. It was originally published as a special issue of Australian Feminist Studies.      Life and Death John Durbin Husher, 2015-09-18 This book covers Life and Death but is mainly about Life.
