Exploration Into God:

Exploration Into God John A. T. Robinson, 1917      Exploration Into God George Trevelyan, 2012-03 We are happy to reissue Sir George Trevelyan's classic New Age trilogy A Vision of the Aquarian Age Operation Redemption and Exploration into God      Exploration into God John A. T. Robinson, 1967-06-01 A Stanford University Press classic      Exploration Into God John Arthur Thomas Robinson, 1967      Costly Communion, 2019-01-28 Costly Communion Ecumenical Initiative and Sacramental Strife in the Anglican Communion seeks to engage with Anglicanism's theological responses to the onset of the twilight of empire and to explore the diversity of Anglican sacramental and ecumenical controversies during the twentieth century From sacramental initiation and the doctrine of Eucharistic sacrifice to church order and the historic episcopate Costly Communion offers insights into Anglo Catholic and Evangelical attempts to resolve the divisions provoked by the impact of the Oxford Movement from the 1830s In its engagement with sub Saharan African contextualization of the Anglican moreover Costly Communion analyses the unanticipated threat that Anglican diversity now poses for the unity of the Anglican Communion Contributors are Jeff Boldt Jeremy Bonner Hugh Bowron Mark Chapman Colin Buchanan Ken Farrimond Joseph Galgalo Benjamin Guyer Charlotte Methuen Thomas Mhuriro Esther Mombo Zablun Nthamburi Kevin Ward      Actology Malcolm Torry, 2020-07-08 Two streams run through the Western philosophical stream one characterized by Being beings the unchanging the static and the unitary and the other by Action actions the changing the dynamic and the diverse The former might be represented by Parmenides Plato and much of what followed the latter by Heraclitus and by rather less of what followed The book explores the Action stream as it wound its way through history through Heraclitus Plato Aristotle Hegel Maurice Blondel Henri Bergson Pierre Teilhard de Chardin process philosophy and theology Geoffrey Studdert Kennedy Ludwig Wittgenstein and John Boys Smith The journey enables us to create the beginnings of an actology a way of seeing ourselves the universe and God in terms of actions in patterns rather than as beings that change Such an actology offers a complete alternative narrative far more in tune with the diverse and rapidly changing world in which we live than the ontology that has shaped philosophy theology and much else for the past two thousand years      Reading Ray S. Anderson Christian D. Kettler, 2010-09-01 Why is theology often divorced from ministry Why is ministry left bereft of a robust theology Ray S Anderson a professor at Fuller Theological Seminary for over thirty years has left a legacy of provocative reflections on these questions In this book Christian Kettler provides a sure guide to major themes in the work of one of the most creative theological minds to have sought to integrate theology and ministry Early experience on a South Dakota farm and in a California parish helped form the theologian whose radical incarnational theology of the kenotic community provided a new basis for a broader risk taking ecclesiology Anderson also brought theological anthropology to the front of the agenda and therefore into ministry to actual hurting human persons His challenging theological reflections can provoke the mind stir the heart and guide compassionate and wise incarnational ministry Each chapter ends with a case study from an actual life situation to test out and work through the implications of Anderson's theology Thinking Faith Anthony J. Kelly, 2017-11-01

The title of this collection of essays is Thinking Faith: Moods, Methods, and Mystery and it might need a word of explanation. The aim is to suggest something of what is involved in thinking faith while indicating examples of my modest contribution over all these years. Given the exuberant data of faith beliefs, doctrines, and tradition, the task of the theologian is always to reflect on what is so richly given and to communicate in the most telling fashion its meaning. There are certainly moods that colour the way we think, even though theological writing must show an intellectual concentration of some kind. That is quite compatible with a great variety of approaches, sometimes more hopeful, sometimes more sober, defensive, and argumentative. There is also the question of methods. The strange thing about a particular theological method or style of thought is that it is seldom an explicit series of procedures. It is something more spontaneous and formed through the practices of many years. Quite clearly in this collection of writings a number of methods is implied. Whatever the mood, whatever the method, the mystery remains of God, Christ, and who we are in that light. To this degree, theology is a way of thinking within mystery, not outside it. In this respect, doing theology is humbling for us theologians when confronted with the limited span of our knowledge and our poor capacities to express it. There always remain infinite expanses of what is not yet given us to see, so to leave theologians inarticulate in splendid defeat. And yet so much has been given, even in the most routine life of the Church in its Scriptures, its sacraments, and in the luminous witness of the many who have gone before us and live now in the light.

God's Struggler Darren J. N. Middleton, Peter Bien, 1996 Argues that while Nikos Kazantzakis may have occupied the so-called borderlands between belief and unbelief throughout much of his career, he nonetheless possessed or was possessed by an intense awareness of the sacred. These 11 essays analyze in detail Kazantzakis's lifelong struggle to give voice Being

God's Image Carmen Joy Imes, 2023-06-06 What does it mean to be human? For this timeless question, the Bible offers truths for the flourishing of all creation. Carmen Imes recovers the theologically rich creation narratives and explores the implication of our kinship relationship with God, considering what it means for our work, gender relations, creation care, and eternal destiny. The Living Church, 1967 Living to the Praise of God's Glory Mark A. Simon, 2021-05-24 The letter to the Ephesians is missional to its core. It effectively exhorts its readers to understand, support, and participate in God's mission to rescue humanity and all creation from the damage and distortion of sin and so bring about a renewed creation filled with God's glorious fullness. Working at the creative intersection of biblical studies and missiology, this study adopts a missional hermeneutic to overcome the scholarly neglect of mission in Ephesians. The book systematically explores each passage in Ephesians, delving into the characterization of God and his mission, allusions to Old Testament missional texts in Ephesians, and the portrayal of the apostle Paul and believers as participants in God's mission. A multi-faceted vision of mission emerges, which encompasses God's actions in salvation history, the church as mediator of God's glory, reconciliation, and grace to the nations, prayer, ethical witness, and verbal proclamation of the gospel. Reading Ephesians through this missional lens yields fresh insights into its purpose and context and the richness of its portrait of mission

Identifying as Christian in an Alien Public Arena Maureen Miner, Mark Stephens, 2021-01-01 Although Christianity is the world's largest religion there is confusion over what it means to be Christian within contemporary society. For individuals it is difficult to find form or receive a Christian identity let alone maintain one within a secular world. Within organizations such as the church and professions there is often a disconnection between public and private identities and the reality of being Christian in our culture. For society there is the problem of disparate portrayals of Christianity, the marginalized status of Christianity with an associated lack of influence of Christians on our society and the ongoing shaping of Christian identity by the public arena itself. Associated questions are: should Christians try to engage in and even shape the public arena and if so how? This volume examines the problem of confused and misunderstood Christian identity in a post-Christian age. It suggests ways of shaping Christian identity for the benefit of individuals and for the common good. The importance of well-formed Christian identities is illustrated by research and analysis of selected professions so that the public life of Christians can be more fulfilling and effective. This book will be valuable for all those who are interested in religious identity within a secular society. People of faith and religious organizations will benefit from a penetrating analysis of what it means to be Christian today. Similarly those whose work involves the church, counseling, education and the performing arts will find specific applications that address concerns about faith in the workplace.

Hispanic American Religious Cultures Miguel A. De La Torre, 2009-09-10 This encyclopedia is the first comprehensive survey of Hispanic American religiosity contextualizing the roles of Latino and Latina Americans within U.S. religious culture. Spanning two volumes, Hispanic American Religious Cultures encompasses the full diversity of faiths and spiritual beliefs practiced among Hispanic Americans. It is the first comprehensive work to provide historic contexts for the many religious identities expressed among Hispanic Americans. The entries of this encyclopedia cover a range of spiritual affiliations including Christian religious expressions, world faiths and indigenous practices. Coverage includes historical development, current practices and key individuals while additional essays look at issues across various traditions. By examining the distinctive Hispanic interpretations of religious traditions, Hispanic American Religious Cultures explores the history of Latino and Latina Americans and the impact of living in the United States on their culture.

Prayer in Pastoral Counseling Edward P. Wimberly, 1990-01-01 Edward Wimberly utilizes case studies to illustrate how spiritual discernment can be used in pastoral counseling. He shows the value of seeking to discern God's presence in the counseling process to bring healing and wholeness to those who suffer from broken relationships. A discernment model of pastoral Christian counseling is provided for three groups of people: individuals, couples and families.

God's Power Anna Case-Winters, 1990-01-01 With this book Anna Case-Winters provides a reconstruction of the doctrine of God based on process theology and feminist thought. She takes a fresh approach to the problem of theodicy, the justification of God's goodness and omnipotence in view of the existence of evil and contends that traditional attempts to address this problem are unsuccessful because they do not discuss the meaning of omnipotence. Once the dispute is recast it is not a question of how much power is attributed to God but what kind. Case Winters provides a coherent and theologically viable doctrine of omnipotence that avoids the pitfalls of traditional beliefs. Ibn Gabirol's Theology of Desire Sarah Pessin, 2013-07-08. Drawing on Arabic passages from Ibn Gabirol's original Fons Vitae text and highlighting philosophical insights from his Hebrew poetry, Sarah Pessin develops a theology of desire at the heart of Ibn Gabirol's eleventh-century cosmology. She challenges centuries of received scholarship on his work, including his so-called Doctrine of Divine Will. Pessin rejects voluntarist readings of the Fons Vitae as opposing divine emanation. She also emphasizes pseudo-Empedoclean notions of divine desire and grounding element alongside Ibn Gabirol's use of a particularly Neoplatonic method with apophatic and what she terms doubly apophatic implications. In this way, Pessin reads claims about matter and God as insights about love, desire, and the receptive, dependent, and fragile nature of human beings. Pessin reenvisioned the entire spirit of Ibn Gabirol's philosophy, moving us from a set of doctrines to a fluid inquiry into the nature of God and human being and the bond between God and human being in desire. God the Child Graham Adams, 2024-04-30. We express the mystery of God with diverse metaphors but mostly in adult terms. In this experimental theological adventure, Graham Adams imagines what might flow from a more thorough being of God. Aware that the Child can be idealized, he selects particular characteristics of childness in order to disrupt God's omnipresence, omnipotence, and omniscience. The smallness of the Child reenvisioned divine location in sites of smallness like an open palm receiving the experiences of the overlooked. The weakness of the Child reimagines divine agency as chaos event, subverting prevailing patterns of power and evoking relationships of mutuality. And the curiosity of the Child reconceives divine encounter as horizon seeker, imaginatively and empathetically pursuing the unknown. These possibilities are brought into dialogue both with other theologies, Black, disabled, and queer, and with pastoral loss, economic, ecological injustice, and theological education. Through these conversations, God the Child emerges not only as a new model for God but intrinsic to God's new social reality, which is close at hand. The Apocalypse Revealed Emanuel Swedenborg, 1925. The Forgotten Ways Alan Hirsch, 2009-04-01. Alan Hirsch is convinced that the inherited formulas for growing the Body of Christ do not work anymore. And rather than relying on slightly revised solutions from the past, he sees a vision of the future growth of the church coming about by harnessing the power of the early church, which grew from as few as 25,000 adherents in AD 100 to up to 20 million in AD 310. Such incredible growth is also being experienced today in the church in China and other parts of the world. How do they do it? The Forgotten Ways explores the concept of Apostolic Genius as a way to understand what caused the church to expand at various times in history, interpreting it for use in our own time and place. From the theological underpinnings to the practical application, Hirsch takes the reader through this dynamic mixture of passion, prayer, and incarnational practice to rediscover the dormant potential of the modern church in the West.
