Exploration In Animals And Humans:

Exploration in Animals and Humans John Archer, Lynda I. A. Birke, 1983 Exploring Animal Encounters Dominik Ohrem, Matthew Calarco, 2018-07-28 This collection of essays offers multifaceted explorations of animal encounters in a range of philosophical cultural literary and historical contexts Exploring Animal Encounters encourages us to think about the richness and complexity of animal lives and human animal relations foregrounding the intricate roles nonhuman creatures play in the always already more than human sphere of ethics and politics In this way the essays in this volume can be understood as a contribution to alternative imaginings of interspecies coexistence in a time in which the issue of human relations with earth and earth others has come to the fore with unprecedented force and severity Animals and Agency Sarah E. McFarland, Ryan Hediger, 2009 While many scholars who write about animals deal with animal agency in some way this volume is the first to position the question of nonhuman agency as the primary focus of inquiry Section I presents studies of actual animals demonstrating agency Section II moves agency into new terrain while considering key representations of animal agency in literature Section III analyzes animals as mediators and as conveyances of human to human communication and Section IV investigates the agency of beings who defy conventional species categories The Envoi demonstrates how the microscopic polyp is interwoven into notions of agency and mythical superagency This volume s interdisciplinary explorations press hard on issues of agency to open up space for more questions about how we can understand relationships between the human and the nonhuman Curiosity and Information Seeking in Animal and Human Behavior Wojciech Pisula, 2020-06-01 The purpose of the book is to deliver a critical review of the literature and author s research data relevant for understanding the phenomena of curiosity information seeking behavior and novelty seeking The book is designed to be a comprehensive and systematic lecture of areas related to the main subject in a way that will enable the reader to grasp the notion of development in terms of the evolutionary time scale and ontogenesis Each of the subjects is explained on the basis of three perspectives ultimate factors integrative levels and proximate mechanisms This work is intended to integrate approaches adopted within psychology ethology and behavioral neuroscience The major uniqueness is related to the integrative levels framework which is not very often utilized the the contemporary books on the subject This is why the book offers holistic complete presentation of the area that it does cover It should be of interests of students of psychology animal behavior as well teachers and educators It provides refreshing cues for creative thinking about human curiosity The present edition includes new data and the discussion of the new literature on the subject Domestic Animals, Humans, and Leisure Janette Young, Neil Carr, 2018-01-29 Domestic animals are an integral component of human leisure experience and can enhance the physical social and mental wellbeing of humans The interplay of human and animal experiences of justice wellbeing rights and roles within leisure is the central theme of this book Research explores the position of domesticated animals in human leisure experiences in a wide array of leisure settings Chapters question whether domestic animals may have a desire for leisure that is different from human leisure whether animals have and wish to fulfil needs for meaningful leisure or non leisure and whether human leisure needs and desires may coincide or contradict wellbeing interests of animals This book provides a venue for the dissemination and exploration of research which champions the welfare and rights of these animals to have their needs and interests in leisure recognised It moves the debate about animals in leisure beyond the current limits which have seen research mainly confined to the exotic other rather than more mundane everyday domestic animals This book will be of interest to individuals in the fields of tourism ethics zoology animal behaviour and leisure studies

Exploring non-human work in tourism Jillian M. Rickly, Carol Kline, 2021-02-22 Critical animal studies is increasingly interfacing with tourism research in an effort to shed light on the various ways animals are incorporated into touristic experience Exploring non human work in tourism From beasts of burden to animal ambassadors builds upon the theoretical connections of animal ethics agency and welfare as it foregrounds specifically the work that animals perform in the industry While some types of animal labor are more readily identified readers of this volume may be surprised by how many forms of animal labor are overlooked Taking a widely international perspective with cases from the Arctic China Costa Rica China Finland Greece Mexico New Zealand and the United Kingdom this volume offers readers diverse scenarios of animals working The book is arranged along three themes of work Performative work focuses on the animals whose performances are front and center of tourists motivations and experiences Value added work turns attention to the co working relationships of animals while the political work of animals as ambassadors and icons is examined within the chapters on hidden labor Additionally the book makes theoretical considerations of the implications of positioning animals as workers and offers reflections on ways this focus on working animals extends current scholarship in the field Perspectives on
