Methodological Challenges When Exploring Digital Learning Spaces in Education Greta Björk Gudmundsdottir,Kristin Beate Vasbø,2014-08-08 Over the last decade the practices by which scholarly knowledge is produced both within and across disciplines have been substantially influenced by the appearance of digital information resources communication networks and technology enhanced research tools Viewed from a methodological perspective the rich ICT based environment in educational settings influences research methods ethics and the general conduct of research Methodological Challenges When Exploring Digital Learning Spaces in Education represents a collection of work of established academics as well as emerging early career researchers all of whom focus on various methodological challenges From numerous perspectives the chapters in this volume deal with three particularly demanding challenges for educational research in digital learning contexts The first challenge concerns how research manages to explore networked learning within a multi faceted ICT environment What kind of research designs and forms of data collection are able to grasp this complexity of multiple learning taking place within these contexts The second challenge deals with how researchers experience the research context and interact with various actors within these settings How to capture and understand interaction between contexts and across different dimensions of contexts in time and space And finally the third challenge is about exploring how children make meaning across physical places and virtual spaces All together these challenges are questioning the traditional research methods that we use and are familiar with This volume is devoted to stimulating debate about the various methodological challenges facing the researcher in the digital sphere of educational research and furthermore exploring what kind of new methodological approaches these challenges impose It is aimed at students researchers and academics within education and those working with learning across disciplines and contexts interested in methodological issues Greta Bj rk Gudmundsdottir lives and works in Oslo where she is a Researcher at the Norwegian Centre for ICT in Education Kristin Beate Vasb also works and lives in Oslo where she is an Associate Professor at the Department of Teacher Education and School Research University of Oslo

Exploring Digital Communication Caroline Tagg,2015-04-10 Routledge Introductions to Applied Linguistics is a series of introductory level textbooks covering the core topics in Applied Linguistics primarily designed for those beginning postgraduate studies or taking an introductory MA course as well as advanced undergraduates Titles in the series are also ideal for language professionals returning to academic study The books take an innovative practice to theory approach with a back to front structure This leads the reader from real world problems and issues through a discussion of intervention and how to engage with these concerns before finally relating these practical issues to theoretical foundations Exploring Digital Communication aims to discuss real world issues pertaining to digital communication and to explore how linguistic research addresses these challenges The text is divided into three sections Problems and practices Interventions and Theory each of which is further divided into two subsections which reflect linguistic issues relating to digital communication The author seeks to demystify any perceived divide between online and offline communication arguing that issues raised in relation to digital communication throw light on language use and practices in general and thus linguistic interventions in this area have implications not only for users of digital communication but for linguists general understanding of language and society Including relevant research examples tasks and a glossary this textbook is an invaluable resource for postgraduate and upper undergraduate students taking New Media or Communication Studies modules within Applied Linguistics and English Language courses
