property development and rights in West Africa's new oil metropolis Sekondi Takoradi Ghana. It seeks answers to the following questions: In what ways did the city come into existence? What changes to property rights are oil prospecting, explorations and production introducing in the 21st century? How do the effects vary across different social classes and spectrums? To what extent are local and national institutions able to shape, restrain and constrain transnational oil-related accumulation and its effects on property in land, property in housing, residential leisure and commercial and property in labour? How do these processes connect with the entire urban system in Ghana? This book shows how institutions of varying degrees of power interact to govern land, housing and labour in the city and analyses how efficient, sustainable and equitable the outcomes of these interactions are. It is a comprehensive account of the tensions and contradictions in the main sectors of the urban economy, society and environment in the booming Oil City and will be of interest to urban economists, development economists, real estate economists, Africanists and urbanists.

Mathematical Methods for Knowledge Discovery and Data Mining Felici, Giovanni, Vercellis, Carlo, 2007-10-31. The Language of Discovery, Exploration and Settlement Nicholas Brownlee, 2019-10-31. This volume offers the first fully focused study on the language and discourse employed in historical accounts of discovery, exploration and settlement, stretching from the 16th to 19th centuries and covering areas as far afield as the Americas, Africa, India, Australasia and the Arctic. In the examination of the discourse and accompanying paratextual features when present, the contributors make use of qualitative and quantitative analysis in order to identify the manner in which the knowledge disseminators of the time adapted, created and exploited the language of the genre in which they were communicating to inform or persuade contemporary readers. The chapters focus in particular on six genres, namely print, news, manuscript, correspondence, journals, dictionaries, travel books and geography schoolbooks. Knowledge dissemination is mediated through these six different genres, but in each case the genre in question conveys three common aspects of knowledge dissemination: the factual, the personal and the ideological. The focus is as such on how domain-specific knowledge is mediated in specialized and popularizing discourse in order to address different stakeholders.

Climate Adaptation in Urban Planning Simona Mannucci, 2024-07-25. This book provides an overview of the current planning paradigms and technical strategies to cope with climate change, specifically flooding. Architecture and planning face the challenging task of designing the built environment while addressing complex issues in urban areas. Factors such as climate change, societal and economic issues and population growth can significantly impact the success of a plan. In order to plan for the future, adaptation and flexibility have become crucial. However, the traditional deterministic approach in planning allows no room for failure expecting plans and projects to achieve desired objectives regardless of how the future unfolds It also explores new planning paradigms methods and tools from other disciplines that can be integrated into urban planning to achieve long term flexible adaptation in the face of uncertain conditions Decision Making Under Deep Uncertainty DMDU Additionally a case study is presented focusing on addressing uncertainties in a flood prone area in Rome through scenario planning combining various cutting edge model based methodologies drawn from DMDU The target audiences are researchers and practitioners in architecture and urban planning
