Racial Culture Richard T. Ford, 2009-01-10 What is black culture Does it have an essence What do we lose and gain by assuming that it does and by building our laws accordingly This bold and provocative book questions the common presumption of political multiculturalism that social categories such as race ethnicity gender and sexuality are defined by distinctive cultural practices Richard Ford argues against law reform proposals that would attempt to apply civil rights protections to cultural difference Unlike many criticisms of multiculturalism which worry about reverse discrimination or the erosion of core Western cultural values the book's argument is primarily focused on the adverse effects of multicultural rhetoric and multicultural rights on their supposed beneficiaries In clear and compelling prose Ford argues that multicultural accounts of cultural difference do not accurately describe the practices of social groups Instead these accounts are prescriptive they attempt to canonize a narrow parochial and contestable set of ideas about appropriate group culture and to discredit more cosmopolitan lifestyles commitments and values The book argues that far from remedying discrimination and status hierarchy cultural rights share the ideological presuppositions and participate in the discursive and institutional practices of racism sexism and homophobia Ford offers specific examples in support of this thesis in diverse contexts such as employment discrimination affirmative action and transracial adoption This is a major contribution to our understanding of today's politics of race by one of the most distinctive and important young voices in America's legal academy

Handbook of Family Therapy Training and Supervision Howard A. Liddle, Douglas C. Breunlin, Richard C. Schwartz, 1988-06-17 Over the last three decades family therapy has revolutionized the mental health field changing the way human problems are conceived and therapy is conducted In concert with the dynamic growth of family therapy the field of family therapy training and supervision has also expanded enormously yielding many new ideas and skills Yet until now few books have been devoted to it and no single volume has attempted to relate the full breadth of this growing field in terms of its conceptual and theoretical expansion as well as its practical application HANDBOOK OF FAMILY THERAPY TRAINING AND SUPERVISION fills this need by presenting a truly comprehensive view of this dynamic area To accomplish this broad yet in depth scope editors Liddle Breunlin and Schwartz have assembled 30 highly acclaimed authorities to author chapters in their respective areas of expertise For further clarification the editors have included segues that introduce and analyze each of the book s four major sections providing the reader with an overview of the section highlights of themes that run through it and discussion of the issues raised in a way that ties the chapters together The book opens with a presentation of the unique and innovative approaches to training and supervision that have evolved in each separate school of family therapy Offering a panoramic view of the entire field of family therapy these seven chapters allow for fascinating comparisons among the different schools regarding the process by which ideas about therapy evolve into training techniques and philosophies Section II follows with an explication of the pragmatics of family therapy supervision Helping family therapy trainers avoid and anticipate the common mistakes involved with supervision the skills described in this section create an atmosphere conducive to learning and maintaining a working trainer trainee relationship and finally for training of supervisors Practical guidelines for using live and video supervision are included Section III features family therapy trainers in such diverse fields as psychiatry psychology family medicine social work nursing free standing and academic family therapy programs who describe the problems and advantages they encounter teaching these new ideas within their idiosyncratic contexts The book closes with a section that includes reflections on the field by such innovative and respected leaders as Cloe Madanes and Jay Haley Among topics covered are perspectives and recommendations for researchers evaluating family therapy practical advice for incorporating a cultural perspective into training programs feedback on the experience of live supervision from trainees perspectives An appendix follows that provides over 400 references organized by subject for easy reference Given the level and scope of this extraordinary text FAMILY THERAPY TRAINING AND SUPERVISION is an invaluable resource for anyone interested in teaching learning or simply appreciating family therapy

Organizational Innovation Gerald Hage, 2018-12-20 Published in 1998 In the past year the 300 largest global companies increased their research budgets by an average of 12 per cent Governments now measure how technologically advanced they are as they worry about their trade balances and unemployment Many public sector organizations for example hospitals universities and welfare agencies are struggling to keep up with the rate of technological progress The selections in this book provide a number of insights on how private firms can be more innovative and public sector organizations can keep up with rapid technological change They emphasize both radical and incremental innovations and both product and process innovation In particular the advanced manufacturing technologies so central to Piore and Sabel's Second Industrial Divide receive a great deal of attention Finally the consequences of innovation are the focus of the last section

Flexible Manufacturing Systems Horst Tempelmeier, Heinrich Kuhn, 1993-10-13 Now this comprehensive and systematic overview of both the design models and quantitative solution methods for FMS support configuration and operation rectifies that problem Students production managers planners and FMS installation planners can now find everything they need in one authoritative and up to date source
