Getting Promoted Police Promotional Examination Manual:

Getting Promoted Paul M. Whisenand, 1999 This self instructional workbook aims to help police personnel strengthen their ability to obtain a promotion and succeed on promotional tests The manual consists primarily of structured exercises that require the reader to apply knowledge and writing skills in a practical way that will be parallel to promotional testing The manual urges the user to take on the role of a candidate who is committed to being selected for a particular position and willing to prepare for the rigors of a promotional test The first chapter presents exercises to help readers determine why they want to be promoted whether they should try to be promoted and whether they could be promoted if they try The next chapter covers inaction action action planning and methods of overcoming the uncertainties attached to being examined Further chapters focus on the resume written examinations panel interviews role play situations simulations assessment centers speeches and group exercises used in assessment centers in basket exercises and the promotional examination It includes exercises charts sample materials and appended materials from assessment centers Guidelines for Police Performance Appraisal, Promotion and Placement Procedures Sidney Epstein, Richard S. Laymon, 1973 These guidelines are intended to provide instruction and guidance to police managers and supervisors concerned with carrying out personnel appraisal responsibilities Data used in developing the guidelines were gathered from a literature review covering performance appraisal promotion and placement functions as well as a survey of personnel procedures followed by over 200 police departments throughout the country While the emphasis here is on the patrolman position and his promotion either to corporal or sergeant or his transfer to a lateral position to investigations or technical support the guidelines are applicable to other police positions The three substantive areas covered in the guidelines include performance appraisal promotion and placement each section contains information on existing technologies and practices and specific recommendations for procedural improvements 7 figures and 14 references Guide to the examinations for promotion of regimental officers in the infantry John Millar Bannatyne, 1880 Guide to promotion for militia officers William Harry P.

segment of criminal justice today's police administrators are forced to tackle challenges never faced by their predecessors. Heightened local and global threats, advanced technologies, and increased demands for procedural transparency require new levels of flexibility, innovative thinking, and the ability to foster and maintain relationships within the community. It is more crucial than ever to recruit and retain capable leaders to guide law enforcement agencies at this pivotal time in history. Covering areas such as leadership in policing, use of force, and understanding how the law shapes police practice, Handbook of Police Administration examines the key topics that must be considered by law enforcement professionals. Recognizing that police leaders need the skills and traits of a politician, accountant, attorney, field lieutenant, and futurist, the authors cover a variety of contemporary issues surrounding police administration and management. Divided into five thematic sections, it considers the legal aspects of overseeing a public sector organization as well as how research, technology, and training can assist modern police leaders in performing their duties more effectively and efficiently. The book covers problematic issues such as officers accepting gratuities, undercover work, and the time criteria required for promotional consideration. It concludes with a chapter comparing administrative issues in Australia with many of the subjects previously addressed with regard to U.S. protocol. Using a range of perspective, differing viewpoints, and controversial issues, Handbook of Police Administration provides a springboard to stimulate discussion at the cutting edge of debate in the dynamic field of policing.
