Getting Into Local Power:

Getting Into Local Power Romain Garbaye, 2011-07-22 This book presents a comparison of the patterns of ethnic minority politics in British and French city politics. A comparison of the participation of ethnic minorities in British and French cities. Includes direct comparisons of particular cities: Birmingham, Lille, and Roubaix. Shows how ethnic and cultural diversity translates into political conflict in different political systems. Considers styles of political mobilisation of ethnic minorities in the context of urban political systems as well as the strategies used by party leaders and to manage ethnic diversity in political competition. Analyses how ethnic and cultural diversity in urban societies translates into conflictual politics. Enhances our understanding of local politics and of the evolution of political representation in industrialised democracies. From World City to the World in One City Tim Bunnell, 2016-04-18 Tim Bunnell's book featured in the movie Pulang the author has recently spoken in several interviews and programmes about how his fascination with the tales of Malay seamen in the UK led to writing this volume. Showbiz: Sailing into a sea of heartwarming tales. New Coming home at last. the Sunday my <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=eiFWYHLz5ok> From World City to the World in One City examines changing geographies of Liverpool through and across the lives of Malay seamen who arrived in the city during its final years as a major imperial port. Draws upon life histories and memories of people who met at the Malay Club in Liverpool until its closure in 2007 to examine changing urban sites and landscapes as well as the city's historically shifting constitutive connections. In considering the historical presence of Malay seamen in Liverpool draws attention to a group which has previously received only passing mention in historical and geographical studies of both that city and of multi-ethnic Britain more widely. Demonstrates that Liverpool-based Malay men sustained social connections with Southeast Asia long before scholars began to use terms such as globalization or transnationalism. Based on a diverse range of empirical data including interviews with members of the Malay Club in Liverpool and interviews in Southeast Asia as well as archival and secondary sources. Accessibly written for non-academic audiences interested in the history and urban social geography of Liverpool.

Subprime Cities Manuel B. Aalbers, 2012-04-16 Subprime Cities: The Political Economy of Mortgage Markets presents a collection of works from social scientists that offer insights into mortgage markets and the causes, effects, and aftermath of the recent subprime mortgage crisis. Provides an even-handed and detailed analysis of mortgage markets and the recent housing crisis. Features contributions from various social scientists with expertise in critical social theories who have assembled and analyzed detailed empirical information. Offers a unique and powerful rebuttal to many of the misleading popular explanations of the crisis and its aftermath. Reveals how racial minorities and the neighbourhoods inhabited by them

Local Politics, Global Impacts Olivier Charnoz,Virginie Diaz Pedregal,2016-05-06 Serving as a touchstone for a much needed research program on social scales this volume challenges disciplinary boundaries and brings into focus a paradoxical state of affairs in contemporary thought the domain of local global interactions has not yet been identified as an object of analysis in its own right despite engaging a large multi disciplinary research community with strong potential for cross fertilization Bringing together internationally renowned as well as emerging scholars this book presents concrete case studies framed by theoretical concern with the issue of scale It demonstrates that a diverse array of theoretical methodological and empirical perspectives can productively converge on a common set of problems related to social temporal and spatial scales and contemporary globalization Local Politics Global Impacts will stimulate empirical and theoretical research that focuses on understanding how political concepts practices and instruments translate across scales and contribute to the emergence of a self aware community of scholars and practitioners focusing explicitly on modelling the dynamics of local regional global interactions

Nobility and Kingship in Medieval England Andrew M. Spencer,2013-10-31 Nobility and Kingship in Medieval England is a major new account of the relationship between Edward I and his earls and of the role of the English nobility in thirteenth century governance Re evaluating crown noble relations of the period Spencer challenges traditional interpretations of Edward s reign showing that his reputed masterfulness has been overplayed and that his kingship was far subtler and therefore more effective than this stereotype would suggest Drawing from key earldoms such as Lincoln Lancaster Cornwall and Warenne the book reveals how nobles created local followings and exercised power at a local level as well as surveying the political governmental social and military lives of the earls prompting us to rethink our perception of their position in thirteenth century politics Adopting a powerful revisionist perspective Spencer presents a major new statement about thirteenth century England one which will transform our understanding of politics and kingship in the period

Britain's rural Muslims Sarah Hackett,2020-06-06 Immigration has long been associated with the urban landscape from accounts of inner city racial tension and discrimination

during the 1960s and 1970s and studies of minority communities of the 1980s and 1990s to the increased focus on cities amongst contemporary scholars of migration and diaspora Though cities have long provided the geographical frameworks within which a significant share of post war migration has taken place Sarah Hackett argues that that there has long existed a rural dimension to Muslim integration in Britain This book offers the first comprehensive study of Muslim migrant integration in rural Britain across the post 1960s period examining the previously unexplored relationship between Muslim integration and rurality by using the county of Wiltshire in the South West of England as a case study Drawing upon a range of archival material and oral histories it challenges the long held assumption that local authorities in more rural areas have been inactive and even disinterested in devising and implementing migration integration and diversity policies and sheds light on smaller and more dispersed Muslim communities that have traditionally been written out of Britain s immigration history
