

A photograph of a dirt road winding through a forest. The trees on either side have autumn-colored foliage in shades of orange, yellow, and brown. The road leads towards a bright, hazy opening in the distance. The overall mood is serene and contemplative.

People who can focus, get things done. People who can prioritize, get the right things done.

Getting The Right Things Right:

Getting Things Right Conor McHugh, Jonathan Way, 2022-09-29 Some of our attitudes are fitting others unfitting It seems fitting to admire Mandela but not Idi Amin and to believe that the Seine flows through Paris but not that the Thames does Fitting attitudes get things right Conor McHugh and Jonathan Way argue that fittingness is the key to understanding the normative domain the domain of reasons obligations and value They develop and defend a novel fittingness first approach on which fittingness is a normatively basic property and all other normative properties depend on fittingness They show how this approach illuminates central questions in ethics and epistemology How to Get Things Right Beatriz

Ombudsman, 2009 In 2007/08 the Parliamentary Ombudsman received 7 341 complaints about government departments and a range of other public bodies Of these 2 574 were about the Department for Work and Pensions DWP This is not surprising given the size and nature of DWP's business serving as they do over 20 million customers at any one time It is understandable even inevitable that mistakes will happen What is important is how DWP dealt with the complaints arising from mistakes Many but by no means all of the complaints received could have been resolved much sooner and by DWP themselves if the complaint handling had been more customer focused This report contains an anonymised digest of selected cases highlighting poor information delays poor record keeping poor communication Local resolution of complains should be the most efficient way to secure an appropriate outcome It is hoped the report will encourage DWP to seek ways to improve the service they provide to citizens Am I Dumb or are Others? Leadership Dr Larry F Ross, Sr, Larry F. Ross Sr., 2012-07 Leadership plays a major role in everything that we do in life Though effective leadership is a personal role that requires individual thinking and attainment one must make sure that it is focused on the overall success of the organization However there are other roles that are directly tied up in what we call leadership and some of the roles include self leading managing change empowering people leading by example delegating authority facilitating cooperation and building and leading a team Leadership is not just power but for the most part it is about relationships Leadership is also about one s power to reward and punish in a nondiscriminatory manner To have a certain style or persona that ensures people will support your implementation of goals for the success of the organization However at the end of the day you will never get there without first leading oneself to do the right thing in all of your endeavors One learns leadership by being a leader This cannot happen unless you have the proper skills visionary trustworthy inspirational etc because leaders must balance many roles to be successful However sometimes you need help to guide and remind you how to take a course of action This book serves as a sounding board to help guide you with its recording of best practices Climb the ladder of leadership hired trainee mentor team lead supervisor manager and executive and let people know that you can successfully lead with every step you take
