Making Sense of Education Policy Geoff Whitty, 2002-05-10 This book is a very worthwhile read for teachers student teachers and teacher educators It would be encouraging if politically based policy makers were to digest its contents also Citizenship Social and Economics Education I recommend this book as an enjoyable thought provoking and politically important read Widenining Participation and Lifelong Learning This important book challenges current educational policies in England in a style for the most part easily accessible to a wide audience Geoff Whitty s assertions are supported by a wide variety of research findings and this is a book that should be of considerable interest to student of sociology and to all member of the teaching profession Mark Pepper Equals The particular strength of this book is Geoff Whitty s grasp on and insights into the politics of education he is able to bring to bear an authoritative perspective which is unrivaled in the United Kingdom there is no other current book which compares in terms of the breadth and depth of this Professor Stephen Ball Institute of Education University of London This book represents a struggle by the director of the London Institute of Education one of our foremost centres of teacher training and research in education to understand what lies behind the education policies of recent governments It is tempting to conclude that if a leading educational sociologist such as Geoff Whitty who happens also to be brother of the former general secretary of the Labour party has difficulty with this there can be little hope for the rest of us But now at least we have this personal odyssey to guide us Bob Doe Times Educational Supplement This book aims to make sense of the changes in education policy over the past decade using the resources of the sociology and politics of education The author shows that wider sociological perspectives can help us to appreciate both the limits and the possibilities of educational change Geoff Whitty illustrates this through studies of curriculum innovation school choice teacher professionalism and school improvement He considers how far education policy can be used to foster social inclusion and social justice and the book concludes with an assessment of New Labour education policy in these terms The book deals with education policy in England and Wales as well as making comparisons with contemporary education policy in other countries This book is relevant to students of education at masters and doctoral levels students of social policy and policy makers

How can the farmer field school approach be used to support agroecological transitions in family farming in the Global South? Bakker, T., Dugué, P., Roesch, K., Phillips, S., Poisot, A.S., 2022-05-20 The key to implementing farmer field schools FFS is to trigger an experimentation process based on collaboration between a group of farmers and a facilitator The purpose of this document is to provide project managers technicians and designers with practical information on how to use the FFS approach and adapt it to their context of intervention to support the agroecological transition AET It also will be useful for research staff leaders of farmers organizations FOs teachers and students interested in using the FFS approach or better understand its benefits The findings and recommendations proposed in this document are the result of a partnership between three institutions working to support AET in the Global South

CIRAD FAO and the NGO AVSF Agronomists and Veterinarians Without Borders This document has four parts Definition of the FFS approach and its principles and characterization of the advantages of this approach to supporting family farm AET in the Global South particularly in sub Saharan Africa Presentation of several important points for a successful FFS i e to strengthen farmers skills to practically and collectively solve the problems they encounter This second part is aimed specifically at development project managers and field technicians and facilitators Recommendations for project designers and managers for including FFS in development projects Proposal of ways in which FSS could evolve to better take into account the needs of farmers and other actors engaged in AET

Fostering Christian Faith in Schools and Christian Communities Through Igbo Traditional Values Michael Okoh,2012 Religious education in Nigeria is in a state of transformation owing to the country s current pluralist nature among other factors In the process concepts of religion and education are revisited and reassessed in order to make them meaningful to mankind in his pluralist world With this book author Michael Okoh inaugurates a fundamental revision He brings traditional African education and values alongside Christian ideals into dialogue with the Western progressive learning approaches paving new ways for religious education activity in Nigeria particularly in Igboland Series Tubingen Prospects on Pastoral Theology and Religious Pedagogics Tubinger Perspektiven zur Pastoraltheologie und Religionspädagogik Vol 45

Plant Genetic Resources, Inventory, Collection and Conservation Siva Ramamoorthy, Inocencio Jr. Buot, Rajasekaran Chandrasekaran, 2022-06-22 This edited book deals with plant genetic resources and their status availability and ecological niche in natural habitat Usage and conservation practices followed by various tribal communities and their rationale are also discussed in the book The book explores application of biological tools to conserve plant species and optimization protocols for conservation and elicitation of secondary metabolites and other value addition products The book is organized into sub themes covering i Ecological status of plant genetic resources ii Traditional ethnobotanical knowledge and conservation practices iii Ex situ conservation practices and bioprospecting Globally plant genetic resources are deeply rooted in culture and economy Since the early 1990s the changing socio economic situation has increasingly put pressure on plant genetic resources in some cases leading to a severe loss of their diversity For this reason most vulnerable areas at risk of genetic erosion have been demarcated and protected by forest laws and regulations Therefore this book brings to light the opinions of leading experts in the area of ecology conservation biodiversity ethnobotany and bioprospecting of plant genetic resources The book is for use by graduate and advanced undergraduate students and researchers in plant physiology molecular biology biochemistry and agriculture Additionally it is extremely useful as a general reference on conservation of flora and large scale cultivation

Reaching Out Diane W. Kyle, Ellen McIntyre, Karen B. Miller, Gayle H. Moore, 2002-07-19 The timing for Reaching Out could not have been better Just when educators are beginning to realize that teachers need training in how to work with parents Kyle McIntyre Miller and Moore bring us a book that is a welcome breath of fresh air Patricia A Edwards Professor of Language and Literacy Michigan State University Reaching Out describes a great variety of ways to respectfully and productively engage families in helping their children learn and grow Throughout the text the reader is reminded that parents are experts about their children and that trusting relationships are built on respectful two way communications The authors also remind us that the goal of family involvement is not parent participation at school events and activities but improved student achievement Steve McCafferty Principal Mildred Dean School Newport KY Involve families in the education process and enhance your students learning experience Too often today s student feels alienated from school and learning suffers as a result Developing a relationship with the family can provide the missing link in the educational chain Reaching Out is an invaluable resource for compassionate educators interested in building strong relationships with their students families A dynamic team of teachers and teacher educators have combined their first hand experience and in depth research in this essential guidebook By involving the entire family in the educational experience teachers can bridge the gap separating home and school and help produce happier healthier and smarter kids Highlights include Building trust with families Communicating in positive ways with students families Implementing family workshops Involving families through innovative homework ideas Based on a five year study the information will be particularly helpful for teachers whose classrooms reflect a diverse student population By incorporating these concepts and techniques you not only enhance the learning experience you also help your students to be more compassionate and excited about school

Resources in Education ,2001-04      Taking Charge of Curriculum Jacob Adams,2000 How do teachers adapt to the demands of curriculum change and new educational standards How do they learn what is expected of them In this pathbreaking work Jacob Adams examines how a promising new professional structure the teacher network helped teachers implement a novel and challenging high school mathematics curriculum and how it fostered teachers determination and ability to get the job done when traditional staff development supports did not Beginning with an in depth examination of the demands of policy on practice the author concludes with a practice based model for professional development and curriculum implementation An important contribution to the discourse on standards school improvement and professional development this volume covers timely topics that are crucial to the understanding of how teachers can work most effectively in this time of curricular change This important book engages us in many of the crucial educational issues of our day Readers will find themselves asking What is the relationship between policy and practice and how does it get played out over time How do teacher professional networks provide important alternatives to traditional staff development strategies What are the connections among state district school and teachers classrooms and what forms do they take when curriculum implementation is the goal From the Foreword by Ann Lieberman      Framework and Tools for Environmental Management in Africa Godwell Nhamo,Ekpe Inyang,2011 This book provides researchers from different disciplines including environmental sciences engineering commerce planning education agriculture and law as well as NGOs government officials policy makers and researchers with a platform to engage with concerns relating to sustainable environmental management in this epoch Topics covered include global landmarks for environmental governance environmental management on African agenda sustainability reporting environmental impact assessment and public participation as well as environmental education

Learning at the Practice Interface Neil Hooley, 2015-04-24 This book investigates professional practice at the interface of sociology and epistemology for progressive educational change It suggests that orthodox sociology and sociology of education have not sufficiently analysed contemporary educational situations due primarily to the strength of the economic and educational influence of neoliberalism In drawing upon key aspects of the work of Dewey Freire Bernstein and Bourdieu a new reflexive sociology of knowledge is proposed that could potentially revolutionise public schooling and emancipate learning This critical reconceptualisation of curriculum and teaching as well as the democratic inclusion of all children into structures of privileged and community knowledge opens up a new epistemological stage in the sociology of education worldwide In confronting the contradiction between social marginalisation and educational expectations Learning at the Practice Interface explores new approaches to education systems and knowledge production Part A raises questions regarding knowledge pedagogy and social justice that are central to schooling and which support values weakened by neoliberalism These values include democracy equity community collaboration and deference towards knowledge and culture not dependent on wealth and status Part B explores practical issues related to how knowledge is engaged in the school curriculum This discussion goes to the heart of learning at the practice interface and suggests that the lack of epistemological strategies based on sociological description has created serious estrangement from school knowledge for large numbers of students Part C discusses a critical view of knowledge in relation to research teaching and learning and the education profession generally The need for a new reflexive sociology of knowledge is proposed to guide educational dialogue and action such that connections can be made between progressive sociology and epistemology in the interests of all children This book will be of interest to academics and researchers in the Sociology of Education Teacher Education and Education Reform

Globalizing Integrated Pest Management George W. Norton, E. A. Heinrichs, Gregory C. Luther, Michael E. Irwin, 2008-02-28 As food demand has grown worldwide agricultural production has intensified with a concomitant expansion in pesticide use Concerns over pesticide induced health and environmental problems increased pest resistance to pesticides and continued losses due to pests have stimulated the search for alternative pest management solutions As a result integrated pest management IPM approaches have been developed and applied that rely on genetic cultural biological and information intensive pest management alternatives This book presents and critiques the participatory approaches that can be used to globalize IPM It describes the development deployment and evaluation of participatory IPM All the chapters include perspectives from both the US and developing country scientists who are on the front lines of IPM generation and diffusion The book is unique amongst IPM books in that it stresses policy analysis social and economic impact assessment multidisciplinary field research and technology transfer mechanisms

Department of Education,1941      Preparing Agriculture and Agriscience Educators for the Classroom Thoron, Andrew C.,Barrick, R. Kirby,2022-06-24 The preparation of school based agriculture teachers has been a part of public education for over 100 years However there is a lack of texts available that address the components of teacher education in agriculture including teacher preparation and related activities Further study that goes beyond concepts to include practice and applications is required in order to further develop educators in this sector Preparing Agriculture and Agriscience Educators for the Classroom provides an up to date consideration of the best practices for developing and enhancing a complete teacher preparation program and highlights and showcases concepts and applications It is a mainstay for teacher education and teacher preparation in agriculture and is applicable anywhere in the world where teaching agriculture exists Covering a range of topics such as field experiences and student learning this reference work is ideal for researchers scholars practitioners academicians administrators instructors and students      Agrobiodiversity, School Gardens and Healthy Diets Danny Hunter,Emilita Monville-Oro,Bessie Burgos,Carmen Nyhria Roel,Blesilda M. Calub,Julian Gonsalves,Nina Lauridsen,2020-03-03 This book critically assesses the role of agrobiodiversity in school gardens and its contribution to diversifying diets promoting healthy eating habits and improving nutrition among schoolchildren as well as other benefits relating to climate change adaptation ecoliteracy and greening school spaces Many schoolchildren suffer from various forms of malnutrition and it is important to address their nutritional status given the effects it has on their health cognition and subsequently their educational achievement Schools are recognized as excellent platforms for promoting lifelong healthy eating and improving long term sustainable nutrition security required for optimum educational outcomes This book reveals the multiple benefits of school gardens for improving nutrition and education for children and their families It examines issues such as school feeding community food production school gardening nutritional education and the promotion of agrobiodiversity and draws on international case studies from both developed and developing nations to provide a comprehensive global assessment This book will be essential reading for those interested in promoting agrobiodiversity sustainable nutrition and healthy eating habits in schools and public institutions more generally It identifies recurring and emerging issues establishes best practices identifies key criteria for success and advises on strategies for scaling up and scaling out elements to improve the uptake of school gardens      Annual Report National Council of Educational Research and Training (India),1979      Enabling "Response-ability" Food and Agriculture Organization of the United Nations,2023-10-03 Forestry and agroforestry education and extension programmes for forest and farm communities have not kept up with needs in many places However the success of achieving international sustainability goals and implementing global commitments with respect to sustainable production halting land degradation ecosystem restoration and climate change mitigation is contingent on having capacity in place at local levels or building it across a large part of the world s rural lands This publication reviews the current and potential application of farmer field schools FFS to strengthen the capacities and skills of smallholders and family framers in sustainable forestry and agriculture production From 2020 to 2021 FAO conducted a stocktaking study to identify opportunities challenges and lessons learned in the application of the Farmer Field Schools FFS approach on forestry and agroforestry Through the review of over 400 documents peer reviewed and grey literature 36 in depth key informant interviews and a stakeholder workshop this stocktaking identified twenty one majors FFS programmes in forestry and agroforestry with over 200 000 graduates distributed across every region of the Global South Three decades of FFS experience on forestry particularly agroforestry has taken place in multiple geographic environmental and social contexts from arid and semi arid savannahs to high rainfall mountain environments This experience represents a diverse well tested decentralized and locally situated knowledge base on which to build future programmes aiming at strengthening farmers and forest dwellers capacity to create sustainable agricultural systems that include trees and perennial crops This stocktaking argues that though enhanced understanding of agro ecological dynamics and farmer led experimentation the FFS can enable farmers across the globe to sustain or improve productivity while reducing their dependence on externally based inputs Forestry and agroforestry applications promise to enhance the environmental integrity and socio economic impacts of FFS mainly by increasing the presence of perennials in production systems useful for stabilizing food security and strengthening on farm ecosystem services Foreign Operations, Export Financing, and Related Programs Appropriations for 2002 United States.
