Forgotten Peoples Edward S. Rogers, Royal Ontario Museum. Department of Ethnology, 1969 Witnessing Australian Stories Kelly Jean Butler, 2017-07-28 This book is about how Australians have responded to stories about suffering and injustice in Australia presented in a range of public media including literature history films and television Those who have responded are both ordinary and prominent Australians politicians writers and scholars All have sought to come to terms with Australia's history by responding empathetically to stories of its marginalized citizens Drawing upon international scholarship on collective memory public history testimony and witnessing this book represents a cultural history of contemporary Australia It examines the forms of witnessing that dominated Australian public culture at the turn of the millennium Since the late 1980s witnessing has developed in Australia in response to the increasingly audible voices of indigenous peoples migrants and more recently asylum seekers As these voices became public they posed a challenge not only to scholars and politicians but also most importantly to ordinary citizens When former Prime Minister Kevin Rudd delivered his historic apology to Australia's indigenous peoples in February 2008 he performed an act of collective witnessing that affirmed the testimony and experiences of Aboriginal Australians The phenomenon of witnessing became crucial not only to the recognition and reparation of past injustices but to efforts to create a more cosmopolitan Australia in the present This is a vital addition to Transaction's critically acclaimed Memory and Narrative series Selected References on Migrant Education George E. Haney, 1963 Canadian Books for Young People/Livres canadiens pour la jeunesse, 3e Irma McDonough, 1980-12-15 This third completely revised edition contains hundreds of new entries for a total of almost 2 000 children's books and magazines carefully selected and described by a team of children's librarians Entries are arranged by subject with reading levels indicated where necessary and are also listed in a separate author title index A list of prize winning Canadian children's books and a basic book list for librarians teachers and parents are included in this charmingly illustrated volume The Burmanization of the Karen People: a Study in Racial Adaptability James Lee Lewis, 1924

A Luis Leal Reader Luis Leal, 2007-09-11 Since his first publication in 1942 Luis Leal has likely done more than any other writer or scholar to foster a critical appreciation of Mexican Chicano and Latin American literature and culture This volume bringing together a representative selection of Leal's writings from the past sixty years is at once a wide ranging introduction to the most influential scholar of Latino literature and a critical history of the field as it emerged and developed through the twentieth century Instrumental in establishing Mexican literary studies in the United States Leal's writings on the topic are especially instructive ranging from essays on the significance of symbolism culture and history in early Chicano literature to studies of the more recent use of magical realism and of individual New Mexican Tejano and Mexican authors such as Juan Rulfo Carlos Fuentes Jos Montoya and Mariano Azuela Clearly and cogently written these writings bring to bear an encyclopedic knowledge a deep understanding of history and politics and an unparalleled command of the aesthetics of storytelling from folklore to theory This collection affords readers the opportunity to consider or reconsider Latino literature under the deft guidance of its greatest reader A Companion to Carmen Martín Gaité Catherine O'Leary, Alison Ribeiro de Menezes, 2014-08-21 A comprehensive examination of the full range of Carmen Martín Gaité's work Carmen Martín Gaité produced a large body of work in various genres over the course of her five decade career though she is primarily known as a novelist short story writer and social commentator Her work at times reflects and at times defies the pattern of development in Spanish fiction since the 1950s This Companion offers a re-reading of Martín Gaité's works emphasizing her early experimentalism which culminated in mid-career works notably El cuarto de atrás and stressing how in the late 1960s and early 1970s when the majority of Spanish novelists were engaged in a critique of history Martín Gaité turned to the writing of cultural history exploring its intersection with narrative fiction in a positivist rather than a nihilistic mode Her exploration of gender issues particularly mother-child relations towards the end of her career anticipated new directions in feminist thought Discussions of often ignored works such as poetry drama children's literature and literary translations offer insight into sidelined aspects of this writer's literary output Catherine O'Leary is Reader in Spanish at the University of St Andrews Alison Ribeiro de Menezes is Professor of Spanish at the University of Warwick Populism and Populist Discourse in North America Marcia Macaulay, 2023-01-01 This book examines the origins of populism in Canada and the United States and its development into a powerful and at times disturbing political force Focus is on five historical periods The Populist Party of the United States in the 1890s Prairie Populism in Canada during the early and mid 20th century the Reform Party of Canada in the 1980s and 90s the left and right populism of Bernie Sanders and Donald Trump in the early 21st century and the phenomenon of Ford Nation in modern day Ontario Canada The author extends Ernesto Laclau's analysis of populism as a logic in On Populist Reason 2005 to explore how a people come into being in their conflict or clash with an elite defined by Chartists in the 19th century as idlers providing a contrast between producers and non-producers The author examines the linguistic media speeches books radio twitter Facebook used in populist discourse to convey a political message and to articulate the needs wishes and will of a newly born people in their numerous guises and expressions from the plain people to the little guy or to brothers and sisters This volume will be of interest to researchers in an interdisciplinary range of fields including discourse analysis corpus linguistics pragmatics rhetoric and stylistics political communication social movements theory media studies and Canadian and American history The Problem of the Old Testament Considered with Reference to Recent Criticism James Orr, 1906 Indigenous People in Africa Laher, Ridwan, Singi Oei, Korir, 2014-05-05 This volume is an attempt to provide this intersectional and reflexive space The thinking behind the book began in Lamu in mid 2010 It was a time when growing community resistance emerged towards the Kenyan government's plan to build a second seaport under a trans-frontier infrastructural project known as the Lamu Port South Sudan Ethiopia Transport Corridor LAPSET The editors agreed that a book that draws community activists academics researchers and policy makers into a discussion of the predicament of indigenous rights and development against the backdrop of the Endorois case was timely and needed. Assembled here are the original contributions of some of the leading contemporary thinkers in the area of indigenous and human rights in Africa. The book is an interdisciplinary effort with the single purpose of thinking through indigenous rights after the Endorois case but it is not a singular laudatory remark on indigenous life in Africa. The discussion begins by framing indigenous rights and claims to indigeneity as found in the Endorois decision and its related socio-political history. Subsequent chapters provide deeper contextual analysis by evaluating the tense relationship between indigenous peoples and the post-colonial nation-state. Overall, the book makes a peering and provocative contribution to the relational interests between state policies and the developmental intersections of indigeneity, indigenous rights, gender advocacy, environmental conservation, chronic trauma, and transitional justice.

Population, Mobility and Belonging Rob Cover, 2019-10-08. In a world of increasing mobility and migration, population size and composition come under persistent scrutiny across public policy, public debate, and film and television. Drawing on media, cultural, and social theory approaches, this book takes a fresh look at the concept of population as a term that circulates outside the traditional disciplinary areas of demography, governance, and statistics, a term that gives coherence to notions such as community, nation, the world, and global humanity itself. It focuses on understanding how the concept of population governs ways of thinking about our own identities and forms of belonging at local, national, and international levels, on the manner in which television genres fixate on depictions of overpopulation and underpopulation, on the emergence of questions of ethics of belonging and migration in relation to cities, on attitudes towards otherness, and on the use by an emergent alt-right politics of population in forgotten people concepts. As such, it will appeal to scholars of sociology, geography, and media and cultural studies with interests in questions of belonging, citizenship, and population.

Housing and Planning References, 1982. Lucille Clifton Mary Jane Lupton, 2006-06-30. Writing and composing with honesty and humanism, Lucille Clifton is known for her themes of the body, family, community, politics, womanhood, and the spirit. While much of her work deals with the African American experience, she does not limit herself to that perspective, addressing topics common to all women, to all people. This timely and important biography will give readers a glimpse into the life and work of this important and revered African American poet, writer, and educator, exploring themes that run throughout her writing as well as the personal obstacles she faced and overcame. Lucille Clifton was born in Depew, New York, in 1936. Today, she is one of the most important and revered African American poets, writers, and educators in the nation. In addition to several works of poetry, she has written more than 15 children's books. Her work has been nominated for three Pulitzer Prizes and two National Book Awards, one of which she won for Blessing the Boats. New and Selected Poems (1988, 2000) won the Pulitzer Prize in 2000. In 1999, she was appointed and remains a Chancellor of the American Academy of Poets, one of the most prestigious honors in American letters. Among her best-known works is the poem Miss Rosie, anthologized many times over and a standard part of high school curriculums. She has won an Emmy award, a Lannan

Literary Award two fellowships from the National Endowment for the Arts and many other prestigious awards Writing and composing with honesty and humanism Clifton is known for her themes of the body family community politics womanhood and the spirit While much of her work deals with the African American experience she does not limit herself to that perspective addressing topics common to all women to all people This biography covers Clifton's life and work addressing themes that run throughout her writing as well as the personal obstacles she faced and overcame including her own faltering health This timely and important biography will give readers a glimpse into the life of one of America's most important influential and enduring writers
