The American Stationer ,1888      Sex in Crisis Dagmar Herzog,2008-07-01 The Religious Right has fractured the pundits tell us and its power is waning Is it true have evangelical Christians lost their political clout When the subject is sex the answer is definitively no Only three decades after the legalization of abortion the broad gains of the feminist movement and the emergence of the gay rights movement Americans appear to be doing the time warp again It's 1950s redux Politicians including many Democrats insist that abstinence is the only acceptable form of birth control Fully fifty percent of American high schools teach a sex education curriculum that includes deceptive information about the prevalence of STDs and the failure rates of condoms Students are taught that homosexuality is curable and that premarital sex ruins future marital happiness Afraid of sounding godless American liberals have failed to challenge these retrograde orthodoxies The truth is Americans have not become anti sex but they have become increasingly anxious about sex not least due to the stratagems of the Religious Right There has been a war on sex in America a war conservative evangelicals have in large part already won How did the Religious Right score so many successes Historian Dagmar Herzog argues that conservative evangelicals
