Being Human: Relationships and You Knud S. Larsen,Reidar Ommundsen,Kees van der Veer,2015-04-08 This book represents a new look at social psychology and relationships for the discerning reader and university student The title of the book argues forcefully that the very nature of being human is defined by our relationships with others our lovers family and our functional or dysfunctional interactions Written in easy to follow logical progression the volume covers all major topical areas of social psychology with results of empirical research of the most recent years included A common project between American and European social psychologists the book seeks to build a bridge between research findings in both regions of the world In doing so the interpretations of the research takes a critical stand toward dysfunction in modern societies and in particular the consequences of endless war and repression Including topics as varied as an overview of the theoretical domains of social psychology and recent research on morality justice and the law the book promises a stimulating introduction to contemporary views of what it means to be human A major emphasis of the book is the effect of culture in all major topical areas of social psychology including conceptions of the self attraction relationships and love social cognition attitude formation and behavior influences of group membership social influence persuasion hostile images aggression and altruism and moral behavior

Action for Social Justice in Education Morwenna Griffiths,2003-09-16 Once again Morwenna Griffiths has produced a book on an important topic that speaks to theorists and practitioners alike Read it Professor Alison Assiter University of the West of England Bristol This is a must read for anyone who wants to be provoked and supported toward action and change in education Professor Marilyn Johnston College of Education Ohio State University USA a thoroughly engaging text British Journal of Educational Studies Socrates said we can t teach anyone anything but only help them to think that's what this book did for me and that's why I liked this book and would recommend it to my students my friends and my colleagues Unlike the majority of academic books I found myself treating it like a novel and saving it up to read before I went to sleep at night reading it more slowly as it got near the end not wanting it to be finished I liked it because it resonated with many of my experiences over the years and reminded me that I'm not alone in finding the struggle for social justice in education hard but passionately worthwhile InService Education Social justice is a verb This book puts forward a view of social justice as action orientated rather than as a static theory Complex discussions of difference equality recognition and redistribution are made accessible and relevant to issues of class race gender sexuality and disability Interwoven with the discussion are compelling individual accounts of the pleasures and pains the pitfalls and glittering prizes to be found in education told by individuals coming from a diversity of social economic and ethnic backgrounds The second part of the book includes examples of successful interventions in real situations related to self esteem empowerment partnership and the initiation of individual and joint action to improve social justice in education The discussion is kept open through answering back sections by educators committed to social justice Deborah Chetcuti Max Biddulph Ghazala Bhatti Roy Corden Melanie Walker Jon Nixon and Kenneth Dunkwu

SELF - A Multidisciplinary Concept Theresa Dicke, Herbert Marsh, Rhonda G. Craven, Dennis M. McInerney, 2021-01-01 Research on the self relates to various phenomena including self esteem self concept self verification self awareness identity self efficacy passion self determination and goals Moreover research on self is multidisciplinary and of interest to a broad range of areas such as education economics social psychology neuro sciences motivation physical activity and behavior sciences philosophy and learning sciences Chapters in this volume will illustrate some of the best of the research within these disciplines examining different aspects of self from various perspectives A feature of this volume is that we will explore not only positive aspects of high perceived levels of self determination and competence or self concept on achievement motivation and wellbeing but also the dark side of an uncertain and negative self on identity and wellbeing We learn from this that the self is a dynamic and powerful yet fragile and highly amenable construct that needs self care and constant reassurance SELF A Multidisciplinary Concept thus highlights the broad application of self research and its diversity This volume is intended to develop both theoretical and methodological ideas and to present empirical evidence of various disciplines and applications dealing with self The scope of this seventh volume of the International Advances in Self Research series started in 2000 by Herbert W Marsh Dennis M McInerney and Rhonda G Craven is thus very broad Keeping within the tradition of the series this volume will highlight the applicability of a multitude of empirical approaches and methods to self research We also aimed to maintain a balance between discussing theoretical research in SELF and deriving implications for effective practice This volume thus includes chapters covering self related topics within an educational social emotional psychological physiological managerial and health context
