C.S. Song, 2005-07-07 With Theology from the Womb of Asia Song continues to demonstrate that he is one of the most creative and important theologians of our time He forces us to expand the horizons of our theological vision not only by drawing on the resources of Asian thought and experience but also by insisting that we do theology with passion Here he offers images fables poems parables and visions woven together with his own compelling prose The biblical stories with which we thought we were familiar become new and more compelling stories when we revisit them with this able and wise guide And our whole approach to life and living is transformed by the freshness he breathes into all that he surveys with us

Robert McAfee Brown Professor Emeritus of Theology and Ethics Pacific School of Religion In Theology from the Womb of Asia C S Song shows how the story of God's compassion in Jesus and the many heartrending stories and poems of the Asian people are reaching out towards each other Doing theology in this perspective is not a matter of application of doctrine but of recognition of a relation between the suffering God and suffering humanity which transcends many artificial and alienating distinctions The book is an appeal to Asian theologians but at the same time a necessary challenge to a Western academic theology and missionary thinking

Bert Hoedemaker Professor of Missions and Christian Ethics University of Groningen the Netherlands A splendid example of doing theology with Asian resources A breath of fresh air to liven up traditional theology using original reflections and observations with the backing of close knowledge of traditional theology A book no theological college can do without

Christian ethics presents an ethical theory consistent with the fundamental insights of the Christian tradition Ethics and Liberation outlines an ethic which provides guidelines for responsible stands on contemporary issues be they personal or socio political Exploring both the strengths and weaknesses of traditional Christian ethics Kammer proposes going beyond them to an ethic of theonomous responsibility one based on the precepts of liberation theology Stressing the socio political dimension of ethics Kammer follows the threads of Christian tradition that led to an emphasis on personal salvation and a neglect of social issues Finally he traces the path from Christian realism through liberation theology Ethics and Liberation concludes with a discussion of two serious test cases in contemporary moral issues the distribution of health care and nuclear disarmament

God's Book of Works R. J. Berry, 2003-04-01 R J Berry writes as a professional biologist and as a Christian believer He contends that the interplay of science and faith requires continual re examination in the light of scientific developments with the consequent need to review religious assumptions To quote from his Preface Where science and faith meet they must be congruent if they are not both the science and the religion ought to be examined Religion cannot drive the content of science nor can science properly determine the nature of religion R J Berry s treatment differs from traditional work in science and religion in that he intentionally and explicitly extends his exploration of the implications of religious faith for contemporary science to environmental conservation or Creation care Professor Berry s expertise in this area is considerable as an ecologist who has long been involved in developing environmental ethics both locally and internationally He argues that the contribution of religious belief to environmental science is highly important not only in theoretical terms but also in practice This book does not assume extensive specialised background knowledge It will be of immense interest to anyone concerned with environmental problems scientists and religious believers exploring contemporary applications of religious faith
