

A high-angle photograph of four students (three women and one man) sitting around a white table, focused on their studies. They are looking at various papers, including a large map of the United States. The students are dressed in casual attire; some wear white shirts, while one wears a dark blue sweater. The background is a light-colored wooden floor. A large, semi-transparent blue circle is overlaid on the right side of the image, containing the text 'English Course'. At the bottom of the image, there is a graphic of the American flag.

Immigration Great Britain: Parliament: House of Commons: Committee of Public Accounts,2012-09-04 There is tension between the twin goals of ensuring a flow of high quality students into the UK and ensuring and maintaining public confidence in the immigration system The Home Office through the UK Border Agency introduced Tier 4 of the Points Based System for student immigration in March 2009 to control the entry of students from outside the European Economic Area The Agency however implemented the new system before proper controls were in place and removed the controls it relied on under the old system The controls gap enabled a surge in student visas and in 2009 an estimated 40 000 to 50 000 additional migrants came to the UK to work rather than study The Agency has had to spend the subsequent three years amending rules and procedures in an effort to reduce abuse This constant change has made it very difficult and costly for students and education institutions to keep up to date with the increasingly complex set of rules and guidance that has emerged The Government expected that clamping down on abuse of student visas would play a part in reducing net migration However the measurement of net migration is still based on inaccurate International Passenger Survey data The e Borders system for counting all migrants in and out of the UK will not be in place fully until 2015 at the earliest It would also be more informative to also report net migration statistics excluding students as a number of other comparable countries do

Report Calcutta University Commission,1919 Learning English and Chinese as Foreign Languages Wen-Chuan Lin,2019-09-19 Learning English and Chinese is becoming increasingly important to the prospects of young people This book compares English as a Foreign Language teaching in Taiwan with Chinese as a Foreign Language education in England in order to highlight how classroom activities are embedded within multiple settings including ethnic or other social group cultures family and community resources and school visions or goals The book illustrates how in Taiwan different ethnic groups recognise access and value English language learning to varying extents Its findings illuminate why some ethnic groups are highly motivated to learn English and are able to gain privileged economic positions in the job market In England access to Chinese is marked by social class and the book argues that this could augment an educational apartheid that already exists in language teaching in secondary schools thereby exacerbating existing inequality Proceedings of IAC in Budapest 2018 Group of Authors,2018-08-14 International Academic Conference on Global Education Teaching and Learning and International Academic Conference on Management Economics Business and Marketing and International Academic Conference on Engineering Transport IT and Artificial Intelligence Budapest Hungary 2018 IAC GETL IAC MEBM IAC ETITAI August 17 18 2018 English Profile in Practice Julia Harrison,Fiona Barker,2015-02-26 This volume provides an introduction to the English Profile Programme and discusses its latest findings English Profile in Practice is an essential resource for teachers syllabus designers educational planners language testers and other ELT professionals working with the Common European Framework of Reference CEFR It includes information about the English Vocabulary Profile which describes the words and phrases learners of English know and use at each level of the CEFR fascinating insights into the English Grammar Profile exploring what it means to develop grammatical proficiency discussion about what language learners output looks like at each of the CEFR levels and information about how English Profile research is being used in the field of ELT Bulletin ,1914 International Perspectives on Teaching the Four Skills in ELT Anne Burns,Joseph Siegel,2017-11-10 This book offers a range of perspectives and insights from around the world on the teaching and learning of listening speaking reading and writing It brings together contributors from across six continents who analyse a wide range of teaching and learning contexts including primary secondary tertiary private and adult ESL EFL classes In doing so they provide locally relevant accounts that nonetheless resonate with other contexts and wider concerns This informative and practical edited collection will appeal to students and scholars who are interested in the four building blocks of language learning as well as language education and teacher education Implementing RTI With English Learners Douglas Fisher,Nancy Fewy,2011-11-22 Learn why response to intervention is the ideal framework for supporting English learners Find clear guidelines for distinguishing between lack of language proficiency and learning disability Follow the application and effectiveness of RTI through the stories of four representative students of varying ages nationalities and language proficiency levels Throughout the book the authors illustrate the benefits of implementing RTI in a professional learning community New Trends in Crosslinguistic Influence and Multilingualism Research Gessica De Angelis,Jean-Marc Dewaele,2011-09-13 This book presents the latest developments in crosslinguistic influence CLI and multilingualism research The contributors both veteran researchers and relative newcomers to the field situate their research in current debates in terms of theory and data analysis and they present it in an accessible way The chapters investigate how and when native and non native language knowledge is used in language production They focus on lexis syntax tense aspect phonology of multilingual production and link it to a range of concepts such as redundancy affordances metalinguistic awareness and L2 status The empirical data have been collected from participants with a wide combination of languages besides English German French and Spanish there is Finnish Swedish Polish Chinese and Catalan      Lau v. Nichols and Chinese American Language Rights Trish Morita-Mullaney, 2024-08-13 This book employs a narrative policy portraiture approach to recenter the stories of the Chinese community involved in the Lau v Nichols court case of 1974 This seminal Supreme Court case ruled that the failure to provide adequate and accessible instruction to approximately 1800 students of Chinese ancestry denied them the opportunity to participate in public education and constituted a discrimination on the basis of national origin While much has been written on language education policy changes for emergent bilinguals in the US the perspectives of the key actors involved in the case are rarely heard This book brings Chinese and Chinese American voices to the forefront placing the participants within the retrospective social context as they reach their own conclusions about the process and outcomes of the case It draws upon research in language policy and Asian American studies and invites readers to imagine the social futures and possibilities for what Lau v Nichols means for the 21st century and beyond The volume fills a significant gap in narration representation and retrospective research and will be of interest to graduate students and researchers in Asian American studies bilingual education educational policy and leadership as well as teachers school administrators and policymakers      The Handbook of Second Language Acquisition Catherine J.
