The Five-Factor Model of Personality Across Cultures Robert R. McCrae, Jüri Allik, 2012-12-06 ROBERT R MCCRAE it is simply personality research conducted in different countries The implicit assumption behind this practice is that personality processes are universal and where they are studied is thus of no consequence An insensitivity to cultural context once imputed mostly to Americans now appears to characterize the field worldwide Fortunately recent years have also seen a rise of interest in studies of personality and culture Church 2001 Church Lee McCauley McCrae 2000 What do these new studies show Are personality processes indeed universal or are there significant variations across cultures that necessitate a more nuanced approach to research There is as yet no definitive answer to that question In some respects human personality does seem to transcend the boundaries of language and culture in other respects it is profoundly influenced by social and historical forces Sorting these issues out must be a priority for our field if we are to understand the current personality literature

School Bullying in Different Cultures Peter K. Smith, Keumjoo Kwak, Yuichi Toda, 2016-04-08 School bullying is widely recognized as an international problem but publications have focussed on the Western tradition of research. A long tradition of research in Japan and South Korea and more recently in mainland China and Hong Kong has had much less exposure. There are important and interesting differences in the nature of school bullying in Eastern and Western countries as the first two parts of this book demonstrate.
