Quota for women in management positions? An analysis of the implementation of the women's quota in Germany Judith Zylla-Woellner,2014-02-01 In 1949 the German constitution set down the entitlement to equality for men and women in the Federal Republic of Germany in article 3 Until the late 1950s it was up to men to decide where to live and how to utilise families assets Women were not permitted to decide on their participation in the labour market but had the duty to administer the household and help their husbands When Angela Merkel became chancellor of Germany in 2005 she was not only one of the most influential politicians in the world but also one of the few female leaders who managed to break through the glass ceiling Chancellor Merkel herself blocked Minister of Employment Ursula von der Leyen s attempt towards affirmative action As a matter of fact Germany is lagging behind when it comes to women in leading positions In 2010 only 0.9% of the leadership positions in the 100 largest German companies and 2.6% in the top 200 companies were held by women Holst Wiemer 2010 This is in stark contrast to the fact that at team leader level in German companies women represent 20% of the staff after representing almost 60% of university graduates This underrepresentation which illustrates the topic of this study is especially difficult to understand since recent studies have shown a positive correlation between the proportion of women in management positions and companies performance which made approximately 10% more in terms of profits with a balanced gender policy Wiemer 2010 As a consequence Germany is facing a discussion on the introduction of a women s quota for management positions in German companies Currently there is a great debate going on concerning the pros and cons of a women s quota

Advanced PHP for Flash Steve Webster, Frank Rice, James Dean Palmer, Kev Sutherland, Todd Marks, Jacob

Hanson,Harvard Eide,2013-11-11 Advanced PHP for Flash is the follow up to the hugely popular Foundation PHP for Flash The main aim of this book is to extend the reader s knowledge of using PHP and MySQL to produce dynamic content for Flash Essentially it picks up the baton from the first book and runs with it until there s no more road The book takes the reader from being an intermediate to an advanced PHP Flash developer and helps them create some awesome Flash based web applications along the way It covers the core PHP features as well as some exciting extras that follow on directly from the knowledge gained in the first chapter and show the reader how to use them in real world applications This book covers Sessions File Uploading Advanced MySQL Socket Functions PHP and XML Ming Plus fully functional case studies This book is aimed squarely at those readers who want to create dynamic Flash based web applications and especially at those who have finished the first book and are hungry for more As this book is pitched at those with an intermediate knowledge of PHP and a decent grasp of MySQL it has the advantage of being useful to both programmers and those coming over from the first book
