Javanese Shadow Plays, Javanese Selves Ward Keeler, 2017-03-14 As with many performing arts in Asia neither the highly stylized images of the Javanese shadow play nor its musical complexity detracts from its wide popularity By a context sensitive analysis of shadow play performances Ward Keeler shows that they fascinate so many people in Java because they dramatize consistent Javanese concerns about potency status and speech Originally published in 1987 The Princeton Legacy Library uses the latest print on demand technology to again make available previously out of print books from the distinguished backlist of Princeton University Press These editions preserve the original texts of these important books while presenting them in durable paperback and hardcover editions The goal of the Princeton Legacy Library is to vastly increase access to the rich scholarly heritage found in the thousands of books published by Princeton University Press since its founding in 1905

State of Authority Gerry Van Klinken, Joshua Barker, 2018-05-31 A major realignment is taking place in the way we understand the state in Indonesia New studies on local politics ethnicity the democratic transition corruption Islam popular culture and other areas hint at novel concepts of the state though often without fully articulating them This book captures several dimensions of this shift One reason for the new thinking is a fresh wind that has altered state studies generally People are posing new kinds of questions about the state and developing new methodologies to answer them Another reason for this shift is that Indonesia itself has changed probably more than most people recognize It looks more democratic but also more chaotic and corrupt than it did during the militaristic New Order of 1966 1998 State of Authority offers a range of detailed case studies based on fieldwork in many different settings around the archipelago The studies bring to life figures of authority who have sought to carve out positions of power for themselves using legal and illegal means These figures include village heads informal slum leaders district heads parliamentarians and others These individuals negotiate in settings where the state is evident and where it is discussed coffee houses hotel lounges fishing waters and street side stalls These case studies and the broader trend in scholarship of which they are a part allow for a new theorization of the state in Indonesia that more adequately addresses the complexity of political life in this vast archipelago nation State of Authority demonstrates that the state of Indonesia is not monolithic but is constituted from the ground up by a host of local negotiations and symbolic practices

Becoming An Anthropological Approach to Understandings of the Person in Java Konstantinos Retsikas, 2012-08-15 Becoming An Anthropological Approach to Understandings of the Person in Java is an ethnographic monograph that examines the ways in which the peoples of a peri urban locality in East Java Indonesia conceive of the person by looking at how their everyday practices relate to understandings of ethnicity kinship Islam and gender The volume is also a thought experiment that aims to make a theoretical contribution to the discipline of anthropology by proposing the concept of the diaphoron person and re deploying the method of total ethnography

Back Door Java Janice Newberry, 2006-04-01 In the densely populated urban neighbourhoods of Java women manage their houses and their communities through daily exchanges of food childcare and labour Their domestic work is based on local ideas of community cooperation and support but also on the Indonesian government's use of women as unpaid social workers Consequently women are a pivotal point in both state sponsored programs of domesticity and in the local practice of community exchange managed from individual houses Back Door Java explores the everyday lives of ordinary urban Javanese from a new perspective on domestic space and the state Using rich ethnographic description of a neighbourhood in Central Java Newberry illuminates the ways in which state rule is intimately connected to the household and the community

Listening to an Earlier Java Sarah Weiss, 2010-01-01 In old style Central Javanese wayang still known to many shadow puppet performers and musicians in Java today the male dhalang and his primary accompanist usually a female gender player are gendered embodiments of a Javanese aesthetic that has its origins in early Java Analysis of the musical tradition known as female style gringingan melodies played on the gender as the puppeteer sings narrates or describes a scene makes it possible to listen back to and reconstruct aesthetics for Javanese performance that can be felt in literary sources as early as the 12th century and that has endured into the present through cultural and political upheaval and globalised change during the colonial and postcolonial periods Ethnomusicologist Sarah Weiss herself a gamelan musician who has directed ensembles in Australia and the United States over many years examines for the first time the musical practices concepts stories changing historical circumstances and myths that have shaped female style gender playing into a uniquely significant mode of artistic practice This study is the first large scale treatment of gender issues in Indonesian music Integrating the analysis of gender and music with that of aesthetics this study of the musical synergy between the puppeteer and his female accompanist describes the ways in which shifting gender constructions have helped to shape and change Central Javanese music and theatre performance practice while throwing new light on the history of Javanese gender relations and culture as well as on the aesthetics of Central Javanese shadow puppet theatre PLEASE NOTE that the accompanying CD ROM is no longer available due to the incompatibility with current file formats

Male and Female in Developing South-East Asia Karim Wazir Wazir, 2021-03-10 This provocative book seeks to redress inaccuracies in Western perceptions of gender relations in Southeast Asia by bringing to the fore the area's ethnic and cultural variance and showing how women and men explain the informal and psychological dimensions of relationships as vital in holding family neighbourhood and kinship ties together Although there are differences between male and female perceptions of sex roles in society women perceive their situation as disadvantaged rather than less significant Male female interpretations of power and status tend to converge usually towards the understanding that the contributions of men and women are equally important in the formation of family and society Asia: Case Studies in the Social Sciences - A Guide for Teaching Myron L. Berman, 1998-10-08 Uncovering the structures and functions of conversational narratives uttered within natural social networks Laine Berman shows how working class Javanese women discursively construct identity and meaning within the rigid constraints of an hierarchical social order She does this by identifying the silences the unsaid and by revealing both the structure and function of silence in terms of its indexical reference to local meaning It is here that the force of the Javanese language as used in everyday interaction shows itself to be an extremely potent philosophical entity as well as a means of social control Thus at least in regard to the urban poor the book boldly questions the difference between traditional definitions of Javanese elegance and oppression This study will contribute to our understanding of the social consequences of language use to the linguistic knowledge of Indonesia and Java and to such basic linguistic issues as narrative structure and function speech levels and styles and indexicality features      The Garland Encyclopedia of World Music Terry E. Miller, Sean Williams, 2017-09-25 The first complete music reference for the region this volume covers all the nations of modern Southeast Asia Burma Cambodia Laos Thailand Vietnam Singapore Malaysia Indonesia and the Philippines in thirty five articles written by twenty seven expert contributors      Gender in an Urban World Judith N. DeSena, Ray Hutchison, 2008-02-14 Brings the analysis of gender from the margin to the center of urban theory This volume examines the influence of gender in shaping relations in urban spaces and places It represents a crack in the landscape of urban sociology and engages in the discourse of the field from a gendered perspective      On the Subject of "Java" John Pemberton, 2018-08-06 What are the limits of cultural critique What are the horizons What are the political implications John Pemberton explores these questions in this far reaching ethnographic and historical interpretation of cultural discourse in Indonesia since 1965 Pemberton considers in particular how the appearance of order under Soeharto's repressive New Order regime is an effect of an enigmatic politics founded upon routine appeals to cultural values Through a richly textured ethnographic account of events ranging from national elections to weddings Pemberton simultaneously elucidates and disturbs the contours of the New Order cultural imaginary He pursues the fugitive signs of circumstances that might resist the powers of New Order rule through unexpected village practices among graveyard spirits and within ascetic refuges Key to this study is a reexamination of the historical conditions under which a discourse of culture emerges Providing a close reading of a number of Central Javanese manuscripts from the late eighteenth century on Pemberton outlines the conditions of knowledge formation in Indonesia since the beginning of Dutch colonial control As he overturns common assumptions concerning colonial encounters he discloses the gradual emergence in these texts of a discursive figure inscribed in contrast to the increasingly invasive presence of the Dutch a figuration of difference that came to be called Java      Kinship, Networks, and Exchange Thomas Schweizer, Douglas White, Douglas R. White, 1998-06-13 This collection of articles aims at revitalizing the study of kinship and exchange in a social network perspective It brings together studies of empirical systems of marriage and descent with investigations of the flow of material resources in societies of Africa Asia the Pacific and Europe Restudies of classic ethnographic cases and fieldwork studies of kinship and exchange demonstrate how the social and material aspects of society are related and address issues of concern to anthropology and the neighbouring disciplines of history sociology and economics This book marks the emergence of an era in the study of kinship and exchange using a productive combination of ethnographic substance with formal methods one which leaves behind older structural functionalist and culturalist assumptions

The Encoded Cirebon Mask Laurie Margot Ross, 2016-08-29 In The Encoded Cirebon Mask Materiality Flow and Meaning along Java's Islamic Northwest Coast Laurie Margot Ross situates masks and masked dancing in the Cirebon region of Java Indonesia as an original expression of Islam This is a different view from that of many scholars who argue that canonical prohibitions on fashioning idols and imagery prove that masks are mere relics of indigenous beliefs that Muslim travelers could not eradicate Making use of archives oral histories and the performing objects themselves Ross traces the mask's trajectory from a popular entertainment in Cirebon once a portal of global exchange to a stimulus for establishing a deeper connection to God in late colonial Java and eventual links to nationalism in post independence Indonesia

Writing the Past, Inscribing the Future Nancy K. Florida, 1995 Located at the juncture of literature history and anthropology Writing the Past Inscribing the Future charts a strategy of how one might read a traditional text of non Western historical literature in order to generate with it an opening for the future This book does so by taking seriously a haunting work of historical prophecy inscribed in the nineteenth century by a royal Javanese exile working through this writing of a colonized past to suggest the reconfiguration of the postcolonial future that this history itself apparently intends After introducing the colonial and postcolonial orientalist projects that would fix the meaning of traditional writing in Java Nancy K Florida provides a nuanced translation of this particular traditional history a history composed in poetry as the dream of a mysterious exile She then undertakes a richly textured reading of the poem that discloses how it manages to escape the fixing of tradition Adopting a dialogic strategy of reading Florida writes to extend as the work's Javanese author demands this history's prophetic potential into a more global register Babad Jaka Tingkir the historical prophecy that Writing the Past Inscribing the Future translates and reads is uniquely suited for such a study Composing an engaging history of the emergence of Islamic power in central Java around the turn of the sixteenth century Babad Jaka Tingkir was written from the vantage of colonial exile to contest the more dominant dynastic historical traditions of nineteenth century court literature Florida reveals how this history's episodic form and focus on characters at the margins of the social order work to disrupt the genealogical claims of conventional royal historiography thus prophetically to open the possibility of an alternative future

The Garland Handbook of Southeast Asian Music , The Death of Authentic Primitive Art Shelly Errington, 2023-09-01 In this lucid witty and forceful book Shelly Errington argues that Primitive Art was invented as a new type of art object at the beginning of the twentieth century but that now at the century's end it has died a double but contradictory death Authenticity and primitivism both attacked by cultural critics have died as concepts At the same time the penetration of nation states the tourist industry and transnational corporations into regions that formerly produced these artifacts has severely reduced supplies of primitive art bringing about a second death Errington argues that the construction of the primitive in the nineteenth and twentieth centuries and the kinds of objects chosen to exemplify it must be understood as a product of discourses of progress from the nineteenth century European narrative of technological progress to the twentieth century narrative of modernism to the late twentieth century narrative of the triumph of the free market In Part One she charts a provocative argument ranging through the worlds of museums art theorists mail order catalogs boutiques tourism and world events tracing a loosely historical account of the transformations of meanings of primitive art in this century In Part Two she explores an eclectic collection of public sites in Mexico and Indonesia a national museum of anthropology a cultural theme park an airport and a ninth century Buddhist monument newly refurbished to show how the idea of the primitive can be used in the interests of promoting nationalism and economic development Errington's dissection of discourses about progress and primitivism in the contemporary world is both a lively introduction to anthropological studies of art institutions and a dramatic new contribution to the growing field of cultural studies Bewitching Women, Pious Men Aihwa Ong, Michael G Peletz, 1995-08-08 This collection presents new ethnographic research framed in terms of new theoretical developments and contains fine scholarship and lively writing Janet Hoskins University of Southern California This is a wonderful collection of essays At one level they tell us about the transformation and often painful fragmentation of gendered selves in post colonial states and a speeded up transnational world At another level they display the continuing power of ethnography to surprise and move us Sherry Ortner University of California Berkeley Improvisation and Composition in Balinese Gender Wayang Nicholas Gray, 2016-12-05 This book is an examination of the music of the Balinese gender wayang the quartet of metallophones gender that accompanies the Balinese shadow puppet play wayang kulit The book focuses on processes of musical variation the main means of creating new music in this genre and the implications of these processes for the social and historical study of Balinese music musical aesthetics concepts of creativity and compositional methods Dr Nick Gray tackles a number of core ethnomusicological concerns in a new way including the relationship between composition and improvisation and also highlights issues specific to Balinese music including the importance of flexibility in performance an aspect that has been largely ignored by scholars Gray thus breaks new ground both in the study of issues relating to improvisation and composition and in Balinese music studies Voices in Bali Edward Herbst, 2012-12-20 A scholar and trained performer of Balinese vocal music and dance ethnomusicologist Edward Herbst brings unique talents to bear in this provocative book The lessons of his Balinese masters enable him to offer fresh insight to this culture's aesthetics and cultural elements Appropriating John Cage's effective style of mixing theory anecdote context philosophy and humor Herbst crafts an accessible body of work compelling in substance and form By merging the Balinese concept of place time context with Cage's concepts of structure method and form Herbst returns to the critical issue of what scholars and intercultural artists are doing and what is their object under study Undergraduates and scholars in fields as varied as theater studies and anthropology will find this book and companion CD in print editions an important resource not only for its knowledgeable treatment of Balinese culture but as an example of a more personal and engaging style of scholarly discourse The ebook edition includes embedded audio
