Multinationals in the New Europe and Global Trade Michael W. Klein, Paul J.J. Welfens, 2012-12-06 After a decade of Eurosclerosis the EC is moving with renewed economic growth and increasing multinational investment toward a single European market under the heading Project 1992 The creation of a single EC market creates dynamic adjustment needs and opens up new opportunities for international business in a period of intensified global competition and dramatic politico economic changes Since the mid 1980s Eastern Europe is undergoing a radical shift towards market based economic systems a difficult and fragile development so far which is further complicated by economic and political unification of Germany in central Europe After the era of British and later U S leadership in multinational investment German and Japanese multinational companies are becoming more influential players worldwide Firms from Germany play a special role because German unification of 1990 implies a bigger home market but also the diversion of total investment activities towards the greater German home market While the political divide of Europe has ceased to exist the economic division is becoming more apparent and it could indeed transitorily increase because the EC 1992 project primarily generates growth impulses in

Industry and Politics in West Germany Peter J. Katzenstein, 2018-08-06 Dynamic technological developments in industrial production the rise of new social movements in national politics and great changes in the international political economy have left a deep imprint on the Federal Republic. A compelling explanation of West Germany's success in maintaining economic prosperity and political stability under such challenging conditions has continued to elude observers. Under the editorship of Peter J. Katzenstein, thirteen distinguished scholars from both sides of the Atlantic here provide an original interpretation of the political economy of the Bonn Republic during the forty years since its founding and explore in particular its extraordinary capacity for accommodating change. Whereas studies in political economy have typically focused on one level of political action either the shop floor or national politics or the international system, this innovative account analyzes the interaction of change at all three levels, bringing together case studies drawn from six manufacturing and service sectors.
