Scott, 2011-01-27 In Public Goods Public Gains Link and Scott discuss the systematic application of alternative evaluation methods to estimate the social benefits of publicly financed research and development R D The authors argue that economic theory should be the guiding criterion for any method of program evaluation because it focuses attention on the value and the opportunity costs of the program The evaluation methods discussed and illustrated are both economics and for comparison non economics based The book is motivated by four foundation chapters that discuss government's role in innovation from the perspective of economic theory review public accountability issues from both a constitutional and an historical perspective overview systematic approaches to program evaluation and describe the evaluation metrics typically used Four case studies illustrate the four alternative evaluation

Systems and Innovation Research in Transition Jakob Edler, Rainer Walz, 2024-09-25 In the last decades it has become more and more imperative for our societies and for decision makers in all areas of society to understand the dynamics through which innovation systems develop and through which socio technical systems transform themselves As both innovation and transformation are strongly intertwined it has equally become imperative to analyse their dynamics as well as their interplay This open access volume reflects on the research fields that have developed in the last five decades to do exactly that It defines and delineates research on systems and innovation as encompassing the scientific study of first the conditions dynamics and impacts associated with the generation and uptake of innovations and second the development and transformation of functional systems satisfying essential needs such as the provision of energy or water Further the area of Systems and Innovation Research SIR is characterised by problem and stakeholder oriented research We chose five decades as time frame because we noted that roughly 50 years ago a number of research institutes dedicated to SIR were founded and the SIR area started to grow significantly We present a systematic history of nine selected fields within the area of SIR Innovation policy Innovation indicators Foresight Policy Evaluation Technology Assessment Production Paradigms Renewable Energies Energy Efficiency Water Use We also present a conceptual framework to understand the processes by which the research fields have developed This allows to draw general lessons as to what drives fields throughout their development and how their role vis vis policy businesses and societies changes over time It also allows to speculate about future challenges and trends in the SIR area This is important because if anything the need to govern transformation through innovation will further grow in the future and with it the need to understand the underlying dynamics
