Policy Studies Review Annual Irving Louis Horowitz, 1981-07-01 The Ethics of Social Research Joan E. Sieber, 2012-12-06 Social scientists are unprepared for many of the ethical problems that arise in their research and for criticisms of their ethics that seem to ignore such cherished scientific values as objectivity and freedom of inquiry Yet they possess method ological talent and insight into human nature that can be used to understand and resolve these problems The contributors to this book demonstrate that criticism of the ethics of social research can stimulate constructive development of methodology Both volumes of The Ethics of Social Research were written for and by social scientists to show how ethical dilemmas arise in the day to day conduct of social research and how they can be resolved The topics discussed in this book include ethical problems that arise in experiments and sample surveys the companion volume deals with the ethical issues involved in fieldwork and in the regulation and publication of research With candor and humor many of the contributors describe lessons they have learned about themselves their methods and their research participants Collectively they illustrate that both humanists and determinists are likely to encounter ethical dilemmas in their research albeit different ones and that a blending of deterministic and humanistic approaches may be needed to solve these dilemmas The aim of this book is to assist investigators in preparing to meet some of the ethical problems that await the unwary It offers perspectives values and guidelines for anticipating problems and devising solutions

Treatment of Child and Adult Survivors Byrgen P. Finkelstein, 2013-08-06 First published in 1995 This is Volume five of a series that looks at the developmental stages in addressing the complex and social problem of child abuse The articles in this volume address the treatment of child victims and adult survivors of childhood sexual physical and emotional abuse and neglect Where physical abuse is concerned treatment of victims and survivors lagged far behind the treatment of sexual abuse victims and survivors This may be due in part to the fact that in cases of physical abuse with its physical manifestations that heal more attention is paid to the immediate physical safety of children than to their short and long term emotional needs Thereafter the focus of treatment tended to be on parents in hopes of preventing further abuse rather than on the abused children
