Emma Lois Hargis Smith The Queen of Bumpus Mills Kay Jones, 2024-11-18 Emma Lois Hargis Smith was born in Stewart County Tennessee in 1902 where she resided until her death in 1998 With the exception of a few years in Big Rock after marrying Elfry Smith and the final year of her life in Clarksville her entire life was spent in Bumpus Mills a city she affectionately referred to as the Garden Spot of the World Emma Smith was not a notable scholar never won a peace prize or medal of honor or found a cure for a disease She didn't do any of the notable things that usually bring widespread fame and recognition to a person No singular event or act made her unique and special so that a book should be written about her However her approach to life and the impact she had on others was undeniably just as great and worthy of mention in this comprehensive narrative that follows her from the womb though the one year anniversary of her death Her story spans ninety six years and references details of a changing world taking the reader from candlelight to electricity and from Model T Fords to modern automobiles The reader experiences a touch of World War II through the eyes and hearts of the rural South The reader is invited to see glimpses of life as it was in rural Tennessee during the lifespan of Emma Smith Most of the stories and details within these pages were derived from the very lips of Emma Smith as videotaped by her daughter and granddaughter a few years prior to her death In addition the author conducted many interviews with family members and researched historical public information to ensure accuracy The quotes herein are true quotes and the events are factual

The A to Z of the Arab-Israeli Conflict P R Kumaraswamy, 2009-07-24 For over a century the conflict between the Arabs and Jews has remained the most intractable problem confronting the world Hardly a day passes that the Arab Israeli Conflict is not headlined in the media It has turned the Arabs and Israelis against one another and embittered relations within the two communities while drawing the rest of the world into the circle of disruption The A to Z of the Arab Israeli Conflict provides factual background through an introductory essay a chronology a bibliography and hundreds of cross referenced dictionary entries on the more significant persons places and events including the various wars and negotiations The history religion culture and archeology that this rivalry has

The War of Return Adi Schwartz, Einat Wilf, 2020-04-28 Two prominent Israeli liberals argue that for the conflict between Israel and the Palestinians to end with peace Palestinians must come to terms with the fact that there will be no right of return In 1948 seven hundred thousand Palestinians were forced out of their homes by the first Arab Israeli War More than seventy years later most of their houses are long gone but millions of their descendants are still registered as refugees with many living in refugee camps This group unlike countless others that were displaced in the aftermath of World War II and other conflicts has remained unsettled demanding to settle in the state of Israel Their belief in a right of return is one of the largest obstacles to successful diplomacy and lasting peace in the region In The War of Return Adi Schwartz and Einat Wilf both liberal Israelis supportive of a two state solution reveal the origins of the idea of a right of return and explain how UNRWA the very agency charged with finding a solution for the refugees gave in to Palestinian Arab and international political pressure to create a permanent refugee problem They argue that this Palestinian demand for a right of return has no legal or moral basis and make an impassioned plea for the US the UN and the EU to recognize this fact for the good of Israelis and Palestinians alike A runaway bestseller in Israel the first English translation of The War of Return is certain to spark lively debate throughout America and abroad Before Aspirin & Other Things Joseph E. Fulford, 2006-12 Losing dentures while casting a shrimp net and coloring his hair with chimney soot are two examples of real life experiences that Rev Joseph E Fulford will share in these heart felt memoirs A veteran of World War II an ex butcher a retired United Methodist minister and a born story teller he is now able to use his degree in journalism from the University of Florida to share many of his interesting and humorous adventures encountered in his life He has set in the course of his ministry when appropriate to make people smile and laugh He finds much gratification from seeing moods change and spirits lifted Fulford has told these stories to his congregation three children seven grandchildren and his great granddaughter They enjoyed them immensely and highly recommended their retelling Take a journey with Fulford through some amusing situations and some downright funny happenings that will not only bring laughter but will bring closeness to God While reading keep in mind those sage words from Proverbs 15 15 A merry heart maketh a cheerful countenance and Proverbs 17 22 A merry heart doeth good like medicine Finding Palestine Liza Elliott, 2002 In 1948 Secretary of State George Marshall told President Truman he d not vote for the president s re election should he recognize Israel and warned that the establishment of a Jewish state in Palestine would lead to war More than 50 years later war rages on with America giving 3 billion annually in aid to Israel Has America s one sided policy led to terrorism on all sides Liza Elliott Ph D explains here the ways the truth about the Middle East has been covered up and runs contrary to everything Americans have learned This book examines what politicians don't want you to know about U.S. foreign policy in the Middle East and the reason Palestinian children find martyrdom attractive. She also discusses ways America has derailed the Palestinian statehood and supported ethnic and religious cleansing while sidestepping the Geneva Convention. Dr. Elliott describes what life is like inside the occupied territories where America spends 10 million a day to push Palestinians off their land.

The Shameful Peace Frederic Spotts, 2008-12-09 The German occupation of France from 1940 to 1945 presented wrenching challenges for the nation's artists and intellectuals. Some were able to flee the country; those who remained including Gide and Celine, Picasso and Matisse, Cortot and Messiaen and Cocteau and Gabin responded in various ways. This fascinating book is the first to provide a full account of how France's artistic leaders coped under the crushing German presence. Some became heroes, others villains, most were simply survivors. Filled with anecdotes about the artists, composers, writers, filmmakers, and actors who lived through the years of occupation, the book illuminates the disconcerting experience of life and work within a cultural prison. Frederic Spotts uncovers Hitler's plan to pacify the French through an active cultural life and examines the unexpected vibrancy of opera, ballet, painting, theater, and film in both the Occupied and Vichy Zones. In view of the longer-term goal to supplant French with German culture, Spotts offers moving insight into the predicament of French artists as they fought to preserve their country's cultural and national identity.

The Last Days Before Peace Johann Fuchs, 2022-10-04 The story follows a young college who is about to graduate when World War II breaks out and he joins the Navy. He is assigned to the USS Cassin as she is being rebuilt after Pearl Harbor. The story follows Lieutenant Pembroke and the USS Cassin as they journey through the war. The story is how the small warships, destroyers, affected the war but didn't get all the glory. Lieutenant Pembroke is wounded near the end of the war but is able to return home to his wife and daughter.

Paths between Peace and Public Service Jürgen René Blum, Marcos Ferreiro-Rodríguez, Vivek Srivastava, 2018-12-28 Building a capable public service is fundamental to postconflict state building. Yet in postconflict settings, short-term pressures often conflict with this longer-term objective. To ensure peace and stabilize fragile coalitions, the imperative for political elites to hand out public jobs and better pay to constituents dominates merit. Donor-financed projects that rely on technical assistants and parallel structures rather than on government systems are often the primary vehicle for meeting pressing service delivery needs. What then is a workable approach to rebuilding public services postconflict? Paths between Peace and Public Service seeks to answer this question by comparing public service reform trajectories in five countries: Afghanistan, Liberia, Sierra Leone, South Sudan, and Timor-Leste in the aftermath of conflict. The study seeks to explain these countries' different trajectories through process tracing and structured focused methods of comparative analysis. To reconstruct reform trajectories, the report draws on more than 200 interviews conducted with government officials and other stakeholders as well as administrative data. The study analyzes how reform trajectories are influenced by elite bargains and highlights their path dependency shaped by preconflict legacies and the specifics of the conflict period. As the first systematic study on postconflict public service reforms it identifies lessons for the future engagement of development partners in building public services Rebuilding the bureaucracy is possibly the most underappreciated policy and research question in fragile states today This is one of the most politically astute and thoughtful books I ve read on postconflict policy making of any kind Christopher Blattman Ramalee E Pearson Professor of Global Conflict Studies Pearson Institute for the Study and Resolution of Global Conflicts Harris Public Policy University of Chicago Rebuilding states after conflict is the greatest challenge in development today And yet we know precious little about the actual experience of countries that have tried to rebuild their civil service and restore public services This is a monumental study based on extensive empirical data and field based research across multiple cases that actually opens up the black box of state building in conflict affected countries It should be required reading for anyone who takes on this extraordinary challenge Joel S Hellman Dean Edmund A Walsh School of Foreign Service Georgetown University There isn t a more pressing problem in international development than formulating practical strategies for building institutions in fragile states This book is a remarkable distillation of the frontline experiences of the World Bank in tackling this task Finally we have the basis for an empirically grounded assessment of what works and why Unputdownable James Robinson Reverend Dr Richard L Pearson Professor of Global Conflict and University Professor Institute Director Pearson Institute for the Study and Resolution of Global Conflicts Harris Public Policy University of Chicago
