Hedge Funds in Emerging Markets Gordon de Brouwer,2001-09-06 Hedge funds are among the most innovative and controversial of financial market institutions Largely exempt from regulation and shrouded in secrecy they are credited as having improved efficiency and add liquidity to financial markets but also having severely destabilised markets following the Asian financial crisis and the near collapse of long term capital management De Brouwer presents a nuanced and balanced account to what is becoming an increasingly politicised and hysterical discussion of the subject Part I explains the workings of hedge funds Part II focuses on the activities of macro hedge funds and proprietary trading desks in East Asia in 1997 and 1998 with case study material from Hong Kong Indonesia Malaysia Singapore Australia and New Zealand Part III of the book looks at the future of hedge funds their role for institutional investors and policy proposals to limit their destabilising effects

Performance, Managerial Skill, and Factor Exposures in Commodity Trading Advisors and Managed Futures Funds S. Burcu Avci,2019-10-15 Understanding risk is important Prior to 2008 as the yields on safe assets hit rock bottom investors began to focus on an alphabet soup of more complex instruments These complex securities were rated AAA and appeared as safe as U

S Treasuries but with much higher yields The 2008 financial crisis revealed however that higher yields on these instruments came with higher risk albeit too late for these investors This study seeks to understand the risk return tradeoff managerial skill and factor exposures on the risk return tradeoff in two financial instruments that have been limitedly investigated commodity trading advisors CTAs and managed futures funds MFFs This study begins by documenting the differences between CTAs MFFs and hedge funds and mutual funds starting with the legal and operational differences Next it conducts a performance analysis which indicates that CTAs and MFFs as standalone investment vehicles provide returns that are higher than the average market returns in bear markets while carrying lower risk The strong standing of CTAs and MFFs in bear markets earn them their reputation as downside risk protectors CTAs and MFFs are profitable individual assets but adding these funds to classical asset portfolios enhances portfolio performance significantly This feature makes them strong hedging assets As expected their performance is below that of standard assets in up markets Chapter 4 finds that the superior performance of CTAs and MFFs can be explained by managerial skill Positive and significant Jensen alphas are evidence of good performance moreover the persistence of the Jensen alphas is supported by both parametric and non parametric tests Incentive fees and fund age are found to be positively related to managerial skill while somewhat surprisingly management fees are found to be negatively related to it Chapter 5 finds that many financial and macroeconomic factors are statistically unrelated to CTA and MFF performance However the value premium HML factor and industrial production growth IPG are correlated with their performance HML has a relation effect on one month ahead fund returns whereas IPG has a negative association with them Nonparametric tests support these results marginally Overall these findings suggest that both CTAs and MFFs use well known and well established predictors of expected returns to generate their alphas

The Principles of Alternative Investments Management Ewelina Sokołowska, 2015-06-24 The purpose of this book is to present the principles of alternative investments in management The individual chapters provide a detailed analysis of various classes of alternative investments on the financial market Despite many different definitions of alternative investments it can be assumed that a classical approach to alternative investments includes hedge funds fund of funds FOF managed accounts structured products and private equity venture capital Alternative investment in keeping with this broad definition is the subject of consideration here The theoretical part of each chapter is meant to collect systematize and deepen readers understanding of a given investment category while the practical part of each focuses on an analysis of the current state of development of alternative investments on the global market and outlines the prospects of future market development This book will be a valuable tool for scholars practitioners and policy makers alike
