Evaluating Systems for Multilingual and Multimodal Information Access Thomas Deselaers,Nicola Ferro,Julio Gonzalo,Mikko Kurimo,Thomas Mandl,Vivien Petras,2009-09-29 The ninth campaign of the Cross Language Evaluation Forum CLEF for European languages was held from January to September 2008 There were seven main evaluation tracks in CLEF 2008 plus two pilot tasks. The aim as usual was to test the performance of a wide range of multilingual information access MLIA systems or system components. This year 100 groups mainly but not only from academia participated in the campaign. Most of the groups were from Europe but there was also a good contingent from North America and Asia plus a few participants from South America and Africa. Full details regarding the design of the tracks, the methodologies used for evaluation and the results obtained by the participants can be found in the different sections of these proceedings. The results of the CLEF 2008 campaign were presented at a two and a half day workshop held in Aarhus, Denmark, September 17-19 and attended by 150 researchers and system developers. The annual workshop held in conjunction with the European Conference on Digital Libraries plays an important role by providing the opportunity for all the groups that have participated in the evaluation campaign to get together, comparing approaches and exchanging ideas. The schedule of the workshop was divided between plenary track overviews and parallel poster and breakout sessions presenting this year's experiments and discussing ideas for the future. There were several invited talks: The Barcelona Process and Euro-Mediterranean Issues from Stuttgart to Marseille Fulvio Attinà, Stelios Stavridis, 2001; Integrating Health Impact Assessment with the Policy Process Monica O'Mullane, 2013-04-11. Health Impact Assessment is a policy support instrument and approach that seeks to assess the health impacts of projects, programmes and policies on population health. The ultimate goal of HIA is to systematically predict health impacts and subsequently inform the intersectoral decision and policy making processes of these impacts. Integrating Health Impact Assessment with the Policy Process examines how the process of integrating HIA with policy can take place. Introductory chapters outline the HIA process and provide a conceptual foundation for the book. Then drawing from experiences of HIA practice and research globally, country specific experiences are presented to examine HIA's relationship with the policy process. Throughout the book, checklists and learning points are provided to assist the readers' understanding of the concepts and examples discussed. This practical and conceptually grounded guide represents a convergence of theory and practice from the disciplines of public health, environmental health and the social sciences and will appeal to practitioners and professionals in these fields as well as policy makers, decision makers, planners at regional and national government levels as well as academics, educators and students. The Road Europe Travelled Along Daniela Preda, Daniele Pasquinucci, 2010. Proceedings of conference The Road Europe Travelled Along: The Evolution of the EEC/EU Institutions and Policies, which was held at the University of Siena on the 23rd and 24th of May 2008. OECD Public Governance Reviews: OECD Guidelines for Citizen Participation Processes OECD, 2022-09-24. The OECD Guidelines for Citizen Participation Processes are intended for any public official or public institution interested in carrying out a citizen participation process. processes The guidelines are illustrated with examples as well as practical guidance built on evidence gathered by the OECD Finally nine guiding principles are presented to help ensure the quality of these processes The Mediterranean Dimension of the European Union's Internal Security S. Wolff, 2012-09-27 EU internal security concerns such as migration police and judicial cooperation are today part of EU foreign policy This book shows how those concerns dominate the EU agenda towards Mediterranean countries Adopting a rational choice institutionalist approach it explores EU policy and the strategic choices made after the 2011 Arab revolts Post-occupancy evaluation of library buildings Karen Latimer, Dorothea Sommer, 2015-09-25 Architectural realisation of a building and its opening to the public with a range of services are central components of the building and design process of libraries Post Occupancy Evaluation POE is the final step in this process It provides a opportunity to assess whether the construction and design of the building has indeed met the library s and users requirements and how effectively the building functions Probabilistic Safety Assessment and Management Ali Mosleh, Robert A. Bari, 1998-08-26 These volumes contain the papers presented at the 4th International Conference on Probabilistic Safety Assessment and Management PSAM 4 held in New York City in September 98 The conference provided a forum for the presentation of innovative methods and applications of risk based approaches to improve the design and operation of technological systems and processes from the economic and safety points of view Papers reflect progress made on methods and applications in such areas as modeling and analysis of complex systems human and organizational performance assessment software reliability data collection and analysis expert judgement modeling and use identification and assessment of various types of uncertainty risk informed regulatory and operational decision making and public perception of risk A diverse range of disciplines are represented including aerospace nuclear fossil fuels chemical systems marine technology transportation information technology medical systems environment and defense The Rubik Cube of the Wider Middle East Michael Emerson, Nathalie Tocci, 2003 ECEL2012-The Proceedings of the 11th European Conference on E-Learning Hans Beldhuis, 2012 Negotiating the Euro-Mediterranean Partnership Ricardo Gomez, 2018-01-12 This title was first published in 2003 In this study Ricardo Gomez traces the origins of the external Mediterranean policy of the European Union EU and examines in detail the negotiations that shaped the policy and its impact Combining historical analysis with case studies of the Euro Med partnership initiative EU policy on Algeria and the EU s involvement in the Middle East peace process he covers a diverse array of issues that will appeal to scholars across a variety of sub disciplines of political science and international relations An Ethico-Political Evaluation of the Necessity for a Referendum over any Future German Olympic Bid Lucia Gosebrink, 2023-12-26 The implementation of referenda in advance to an Olympic bid is common in Western democratic countries In many cases they have produced negative results ending the aspiration of Olympic Games on the spot Germany is no exception to this case While recent research has predominantly investigated the possible reasons why past referenda have failed the aim of this book is to evaluate the necessity of a referendum as a tool in the first place Since a referendum is no formal requirement by the International Olympic Committee IOC its application is examined on an ethico political level Therefore the advantages and disadvantages of a referendum in terms of any future German Olympic bid are analysed and discussed from a political civil and German Olympic Sports Confederation DOSB perspective Based on the findings this work rejects the necessity of a referendum before a German Olympic bid as the alignment of ethico political considerations analysed does not seem to be sufficiently pronounced in the de jure and de facto implementation of this tool

Social Multi-Criteria Evaluation for a Sustainable Economy Giuseppe Munda, 2007-12-22 The real world is characterized by deep complexity May be a rather unremarkable observation yet it has important implications on the manner policy problems are represented and decision making is framed Is contemporary democracy compatible with science in real world policy making This book gives answers in the affirmative It also asserts that this congruence can have positive implications not only in terms of economic prosperity but also when dealing with the difficult sustainability policy problems of our millennium To address contemporary issues economic science will have to expand its empirical relevance by introducing more and more realistic assumptions to its models One of the most interesting research orientations in recent times in the field of public economics is the explicit attempt to take account of political constraints interest groups and collusion effects One of the main novelties of this book is its establishment of a clear relationship between social and public choice theories on one hand and multiple criteria decision analysis on the other The pioneering research developed by Arrow and Raynaud 1986 has shown that the relationships between multi criteria decision theory and social choice are clear and relevant The main directions of cross fertilization between these research fields are twofold 1 Multi criteria decision theory can be an adequate framework for applied social and public choice 2 Social choice can produce interesting theoretical results for ensuring the ax matic consistency needed by multi criterion aggregation conventions
