natural world This collection explores these and related questions through a series of reflective essays and poems on Pennsylvania's Shaver's Creek landscape from the past decade Collected as part of The Ecological Reflections Project a century long effort to observe and document changes to the natural world in the central Pennsylvanian portion of the Appalachian Forest these pieces show how knowledge of a place comes from the information and perceptions we gather from different perspectives over time They include Marcia Bonta's keen observations about how humans knowingly and unknowingly affect the landscape Scott Weidensaul's view of the forest as a battlefield and Katie Fallon describing the sounds of human and nonhuman life along a trail Together these selections create a place based portrait of a vivid ecosystem during the first decade of the twenty first century Featuring contributions by nationally known nature writers and local experts Reading Shaver's Creek is a unique complex depiction of the central Pennsylvania landscape and its ecology We know the land and creatures of places such as Shaver's Creek are bound to change throughout the century This book is the first step to documenting how In addition to the editor contributors to this volume are Marcia Bonta Michael P Branch Todd Davis Katie Fallon David Gessner Hannah Inglesby John Lane Carolyn Mahan Jacy Marshall McKelvey Steven Rubin David Taylor Julianne Lutz Warren and Scott Weidensaul All Creation Sings Dr. J. Ellsworth Kalas, 2010-09-01 J Ellsworth Kalas adapted from chapter 1 There s an old hymn you may be familiar with that contains these words This is my Father s world And to my listening ears All nature sings and round me rings The music of the spheres This is my Father's world He shines in all that's fair In the rustling grass I hear him pass He speaks to me everywhere Maltbie D Babcock This Is My Father's World 1901 It is true still today that all nature sings but it is increasingly difficult to catch the melody Almost anywhere we go nature s voice is now muted by the sound of traffic and assorted electronic devices Those who go out to walk or jog are likely to wear a device that keeps them in touch with news or music or speech so that intentionally or not they have shut out nature s sound and dulled its influence Which brings me to the point of this book I rejoice greatly in the green movement that has made new millions conscious of the wonder of our creation and the blessed necessity of caring for it passionately This is a magnificent step in the right direction and it puts quality content into what might otherwise be little more than sentimental feelings But I want us to go farther than that I want us not simply to see and indeed to be grateful for the wonders of nature I want us to go beyond nature s exquisite beauty until we learn some of the lessons it would teach us lessons about both life and God When nature sings as it does every moment its melody draws us to God if only we listen with The cruet stand, select pieces of prose and poetry C. our whole being This book will contain a discussion guide Perdita Hilary Scharper, 2015-01-20 Stunning richly complex and unpredictable Historical Novel Review Gough, 1853 Marged Brice is 134 years old She d be ready to go if it wasn t for Perdita The Georgian Bay lighthouse s single eye keeps watch over storm and calm and Marged grew up in its shadow learning the language of the wind and the trees There s blustery beauty there where sea and sky incite each other to mischief or worse Garth Hellyer of the Longevity Project doesn t believe Marged was a girl coming of age in the 1890s but reading her diaries in the same wild and unpredictable location where she wrote them might be enough to cast doubt on his common sense Everyone knows about death It s life that s much more mysterious Hilary Scharper deftly mines the beauty and wonder of both the human heart and nature in this haunting tale of enduring love Cathy Marie Buchanan bestselling author of The Painted Girls Poems From a Smorgasbord Mind D. The Fin-de-siècle Poem Joseph Bristow, 2005 Featuring innovative research by emergent and established scholars The Fin de Siecle Poem throws new light on the remarkable diversity of poetry produced at the close of the nineteenth century in England Opening with a detailed preface that shows why literary historians have frequently underrated fin de siecle poetry the collection explains how a strikingly rich body of lyrical and narrative poems anticipated many of the developments traditionally attributed to Modernism Each chapter in turn provides insights into the ways in which late nineteenth century poets represented their experiences of the city their attitudes toward sexuality their responses to empire and their interest in religious belief The eleven essays presented by editor Joseph Bristow pay renewed attention to the achievements of such legendary writers as Oscar Wilde John Davidson Ernest Dowson Lionel Johnson and W B Yeats whose careers have always been associated with the 1890s This book also explores the lesser known but equally significant advances made by notable women poets including Michael Field Amy Levy Charlotte Mew Alice Meynell A Mary F Robinson and Graham R Tomson The Fin de Siecle Poem brings together innovative research on poetry that has been typecast as the attenuated Victorianism that was rejected by Modernism The contributors underscore the remarkable innovations made in English poetry of the 1880s and 1890s and show how woman poets stood shoulder to shoulder with their better known male contemporaries Joseph Bristow is professor of English at the University of California Los Angeles where he edits the journal Nineteenth Century Literature His recent books include The Cambridge Companion to Victorian Poetry Oscar Wilde Contextual Conditions and the variorum edition of Oscar Wilde s The Picture of Dorian Gray
